Eskimo Girl At Perrydale

Perrydale—Past information from Wendell Heribson, pastor of the Perrydale Christian church, that "it pays to be in your place every Lord's day," was brought to the attention of his congregation Sunday. The special feature for the day was a visitor, Miss Erma Schultz, who spoke for both the morning and evening services.

Miss Schultz, an Eskimo girl from Alaska, skillfully led her audience in thoughts from the American viewpoint to the heart of the Eskimos, and their actual living conditions, which led to an open discussion.

When asked what the Eskimos used for means of transportation, she was prepared with a realistic model of one of the dog sleds used in the far northern parts, which she passed around for inspection. Other means of transportation were by airplane and cars. "Before her last trip to the United States," she said, she tried the dog sled ride which proved to be enchanting, especially on clear moonlight nights."

Miss Schultz told her audience of her parents, who are both teaching in Alaska schools, and of the great need for more teachers.

Dallas—According to the records of Josiah Wills, county school superintendent and 4-H girls club leader in the county, a total of 347 girls have enrolled up to the present for club work in 1941.

Cooking, sewing, health, wood-working, knitting and art and hobby clubs are the six divisions in which work is being carried on actively at the present time with sewing the most popular and showing a registration of 178.

Cooking comes next with 87, health next with 56, knitting next with 13, art and hobby next with nine and woodworking and handicraft last with four. Last year's registration was well over the 600 mark and it is anticipated that within the next few weeks this figure will again be reached.
