Music Festival And May Day Are Combined

Jefferson — One of the most enjoyable affairs of the school year, a combined May day and Music festival was held at the school, at Jefferson, with Marion, Talbot and Looney Butte schools taking part. A large crowd was present.

The following program was presented in the gymnasium during the forenoon: group singing, led by Miss Day and Mrs. Tesdahl and chorus numbers by the Jefferson school band directed by Mrs. Lorena Brockway; a number by the primary chorus; numbers by pupils of the Talbot school, accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Wiederkehr at the piano; numbers by the intermediate chorus; numbers by the "rhythm band" of the Looney Butte school, with Mrs. Albert Barnes at the piano; two numbers by the Jefferson high school freshman trio, Carol Norton, Mary Wilson and Marcela Daly; numbers by the upper grade chorus. The program closed with the "Star Spangled Banner" by choruses and audience.

During the noon hour a picnic lunch was served. Tables and benches were placed on the grounds under the trees.

Beginning at 1:15 o'clock drills

Legion Pet Parade Scheduled Saturday

Silverton—The ninth annual Pet Parade, sponsored by the American Legion, will be an event of Saturday, May 17, starting promptly at 1:30 o'clock from the Silverton City park. Gladwyn Hamre is general chairman of the affair with C. J. Towe, E. A. Kern, Mrs. A. J. Titus, Mrs. Lewis Hall, Mrs. E. A. Kern, Mrs. Carl Haugen and Mrs. Josephine Lake as assistants.

Awards are being offered of first, second and third prizes for cats for boys and for dogs; dogs for boys and girls; sheep, rabbits, goats, miscellaneous animals, chickens, pigeons, miscellaneous fowls, best dressed pets, original costumes for boys and girls, decorated doll buggy, tricycles, bicycles, baby buggy with a baby, stunts, horseback riders, rural schools in a group entry, freckled boys, red-headed boys, floats and one prize each for smallest pet, largest pet, youngest girl and youngest boy, freckled girl, red-headed girl and the grand prize.

Judges will be chosen from the American Legion Auxiliary and the post, the FFA organization of the schools, the chamber of commerce, the IEO, the Junior and Senior Women's clubs, the senior high school, junior high school and grade school teachers, the VFW Auxiliary, the Rotary club, the PTA, the firemen and the Lions Auxiliary.

Each youngster or person entering the parade will be given a ticket for a show at the Palace theatre at 3 o'clock directly following the parade.

High School Prowled

Stayton — The Stayton high school was entered some time Saturday night, by prying a window open in Coach Gettman's room. School officials first making the discovery found the personal effects scattered about as though the parties had been searching for something, but so far as known nothing is missing.

Turpentine, alcohol and wood gas are being used as motor fuel in Sweden.

and folk dances were given by the physical education classes, followed by the May pole exercises. Olga Schulz was crowned May queen. Superintendent M. H. Beal. The procession march was played by the Jefferson band. Princesses were Bette Terhune, Alleen Chilton, Maxine Eizel, Johnetta Davis, Beverly Wells and Dorothy Hogue. Flower girls were Lydia Brown and Willa Dean Cole. Train bearers were Barbara Blackwell and Eleanor Vose. David Arnold as court jester, afforded much merriment. Musical numbers were given by the Jefferson primary chorus and by the Jefferson high school girls' chorus; dancers, Blanche Pilcher and Mildred Looney. The Jefferson grade school also gave several numbers. The program closed with the recessional of the queen and court.

A ball game between Jefferson and Mill City was played, with the score 9 to 3 in favor of Jefferson.

The general committee in charge of the plans included the music teachers in the school, Miss Evalyn Day, Mrs. Ward Tesdahl, Mrs. Lorena Brockway and Miss Genevieve Eastling.

Other committees were building, Wayne Klein and Clifford Rich; decorating, Mrs. E. B. Henningsen; Mrs. David Arnold; advertising, Mrs. Edna Allen and M. H. Beal; queen's court, Mrs. Lorena Brockway and Miss Genevieve Eastling. Much credit is due the committees for making the affair a grand success.

Independence Lions Nominate Officers

Independence — Officers were nominated for the coming year at the weekly noon meeting of the Independence Lions club held at Campbell's hall Monday.

Those nominated included Robert Craven, president; John Black, first vice-president; Fred Calf, second vice-president; Dr. C. A. Fratzke, third vice-president; George Westerman, Lion tamer; Paul Sterling, tall twister; Rev. Loyd H. Vickers and George Trumbo, secretary-treasurer and Dr. George C. Knott and E. D. Aiger for directors.

The election is to be held Monday noon, May 26, and the new officers will be installed and take office the first Monday in July.

Paul Sterling has been the president during the past year.

Turpentine, alcohol and wood gas are being used as motor fuel in Sweden.

Middle Grove Eighth Graders Are Graduates

Middle Grove—Graduation exercises for the eighth grade class were held at the school with a large crowd of interested parents and friends in attendance. This was the first class to be graduated from the new school erected last summer.

Robert Bartruff presided as program announcer for the evening. Miss Barbara Jones of Salem played several violin solos with Miss Mary Farnham as accompanist; the girls' sextet of the school sang a group of numbers, members singing being Mary Lou Feskins, Ruth Snyder, Arlene Hilliker, Blanche Davis, Sylvia Le Valley and Arlene Fromm. Robert Dawson gave the group; Arlene Fromm and Robert Bartruff gave the class history; Sylvia Le Valley foretold a clever prophecy for the class members; Blanche Davis and Kenneth Munson related the different legacies left to the seventh graders in the class will and original poems were given by Albert Zanders and Russell Hicks.

Guest speaker for the evening was Frank Bennett, superintendent of the city schools of Salem. Lawrence Hammer, chairman of the board of directors, presented graduates their diplomas. The class roll included Sylvia Le Valley, Blanche Davis, Arlene Fromm, Robert Bartruff, Russell Hicks, Kenneth Munson, Robert Dawson and Albert Sanders.

Mrs. Cleo Keppinger, president of the Community club, announced that regular meeting of the club would be given Friday evening following the annual school picnic which will be held on that day. Instead of the customary picnic lunch at noon a no-host supper will be substituted to be held at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. An invitation to all patrons was issued and especially to the newcomers in the community who have not attended other meetings. In the afternoon the usual contests and games will be observed and the alumni boys will play a game with the grade school football team.

Those planning on attending are to bring the customary picnic supplies including table service for their immediate family group. The Community club program will be a diversified one of readings and music and other contributions. This will close the club's activities for this spring, with resumption taking place as usual in the fall on the third Friday in October.

Wild Berry Pie Season Arrives

Silverton — Somewhat of a connotative reminder (pleasant memory) is seeing children and a few adults bringing home small pails and handfuls of wild strawberries gathered from the pastures and road rights-of-way near town. No highly cultivated strawberry can claim the flavor of a wild strawberry pie, regardless of the time it takes to pick the smaller berry and to clean the large hulls from the fruit. Wild strawberries are ripe near Silverton, as is evidenced by daily scenes that foretell of the juicy pies.

Eighth Grades Entertained

Woodburn—Eighth grade day at Woodburn high school was observed Friday with 78 eighth graders as guests of the school for the day. Schools represented were Washington Junior, St. Benedict, Donald, Grassy Pond, Monitor, Union, Hall, White, Butteville, Johnston, West Woodburn, Belle Pass, Whiskey Hill, McKee and Broadacres.

A general assembly was held in the morning and the purpose of eighth grade day explained after which the girls were taken in charge by Mrs. Helen Guiss in the Home Economics department and boys interested in agriculture were taken on a field trip by Henry Pavelek, instructor in agriculture, while other boys were entertained in the general science department.

At 11 o'clock a ball game between the eighth and ninth grade boys was enjoyed under the direction of Coach Hal Chapman while the girls were entertained with softball.

Badges were given to all visitors which admitted them free of charge to the baseball game at Legion park and they were also guests at the May day program and the May day ball in the evening.

Road Section Improvement Being Sought

Albany—Maintenance of the Knox Butte road from Cottonwoods to its intersection with the Pacific highway at the Albany airport and of the Mill City-Lyons road as a state secondary highway was asked by the Linn county court of the state highway commission. Members of the court stated that while they received no promise of the work being done, it was believed that the commission members are favorable toward granting the requests.
