Geology Class to Make Study Tours

Excursions to nearby spots, including the unusual Silver Creek falls area, to study rock formations will be features of the course in geology to be taught by Prof. Herman Clark in the Willamette university summer session beginning June 9.

"Willamette valley was once an ocean beach and so we are able in many areas of the valley to study marine deposits, marine shells and the uplands from which the sediments were derived which made up the old beach," said Prof. Clark today. "Within 25 miles of Salem we have an exceptionally great variety of rocks and rock formations, making for unusual opportunities for the study of geology."

Other features of the course will be training in the use of geological maps and the laboratory identification of rocks and minerals.

Professor Clark's course in geology has been one of the most popular at the local institution and the summer course is in response to demand from those unable to attend the regular session. Registration for the summer session begins Monday, June 9, and the session concludes Friday, July 18.

Registration For Civilian Defense Urged

Washington, May 21 (AP)—A plan for the voluntary registration of the millions of men above the present military age was reported under consideration today as Mayor Fiorello La Guardia came here to direct the vast new civilian defense program.

Counting in more than 2,000,000 World War veterans, authorities said there were approximately 10,000,000 men in the age group 35 through 45. (The age limits for military service registrants are 21 through 35.)

Furthermore, they pointed out, there were 27,000,000 women between ages of 21 and 46 from whom additional millions of volunteers could be drawn. If the registration were extended to cover them.

A final decision on adoption of the voluntary registration plan, it was said, will rest with La Guardia, to whom the president has delegated full authority for supervising the organization of civilian defenses. Such defenses include home guards, already formed in some states, air-raid warning and rail-raid defense services, and the numerous services connected with recreational and social projects for men in the army.

In announcing his selection of New York's mayor for the new post, Mr. Roosevelt indicated that civilian defense services might utilize men of military age who are in deferred classifications. He said that he had asked selective service headquarters for the names of those who could volunteer for civilian defense duties.

Of the 16,500,000 selective service registrants, about 6,000,000 have been classified to date and only 600,000 of these men will be in training by the end of June. Thus a reservoir of at least 5,000,000 would be available here, and the number would be more than doubled when the remaining 10,000,000 registrants are classified.

Demands End To Totalitarian Tank Economics

Baltimore, Md., May 21 (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared today that maintenance of free trade on the high seas demands that the "tank economics" of the totalitarian powers be ended at the source—"by the only means which pirates understand and respect."

He described "tank economics" in a speech before a luncheon meeting of the Baltimore association of commerce as a "system of exploitation backed by cannon and, less ostentatiously, by restrictions which funnel

Accuse Lewis of Seeking Dictatorship

New York, May 21 (AP)—Direct negotiations between southern soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America (U. M. W.) ended in an outburst of name-calling by both sides and the dispute over contract terms was left to the national defense mediation board for attempted settlement.

Representatives of the operators and union were to meet with the board in Washington Friday.

Before the recess was jointly announced, the southern operators asserted in a national newspaper advertisement campaign that U. M. W. President John L. Lewis would become "dictator of this country" if the bituminous industry accepted the union's new wage and working conditions contract.

Lewis made no personal reply to his official spokesman, K. C. Adams, said "this advertising attempt of the feudal carpet-bagging coal operators who, pretending a southern gentlemen's status, try to elicit public support under the guise of patriotism and public welfare" would fill the old devil himself in disgust.

Adams called the southern "mook patriots" and declared their economic record disclosed in congressional investigations "bellees their self-advertised story of fair play and square dealing." This appeal to the public, he added, was a "wall and last creak" of a feudal mind appealing for continued domination of all they can survey.

The southern group, rejecting the contract formally approved yesterday by northern Appalachian operators, said the contract would make Lewis as powerful that by controlling the country's entire soft coal production he would have a "death grip" upon every vital defense industry.
