Duff Cooper Moved to East

London, July 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill revised his government today for a third time since May 2, dispatching Alfred Duff Cooper to the far east as a special war coordinator for the cabinet and naming Brendan Bracken minister of information in his stead.

Bracken, who has been Churchill's parliamentary private secretary, is the fourth man since the start of the war to hold the information portfolio—a post often referred to as "the graveyard of ministerial reputations" because its occupants have been the targets of such sharp criticism.

The exact nature of Cooper's new assignment was not disclosed, but it was understood his duties would be similar to those of Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, government coordinator in the middle east.

Cooper—51-year-old conservative who resigned as Prime Minister Chamberlain's first lord of the admiralty because he disapproved of his appeasement policy—was believed headed for Singapore, potential hot-spot if Japan should attempt an off-predicted southward thrust.

Lyttelton, who is a special minister of state, Duff Cooper will not be a member of the inner war cabinet. He remains a member of the government, however, by virtue of his appointment as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster in place of Lord Hankey.

Other government changes saw Lord Hankey appointed paymaster general and 38-year-old Richard Austen Butler elevated from parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs to president of the board of education.

Hiking Group Visits Mountain

Jefferson park, situated at the north slope of the mountain peak of the same name, was visited by a group of 14 Chemeketa over the weekend who hiked the 12-mile round trip Sunday. Otto Bowman led the party, Gov. C. A. Sprague, who was originally booked to do the honors, being unable to make the trip.

The party found considerably less snow along the ridges than is usually found this time of year. One compensation was the comparative lack of mosquitoes. Flowers were in good bloom, especially the heather in three colors. The road above Breitenbush hot springs was found quite rough.

The Chemeketas outing committee, including Dr. C. A. Downs, Otto Bowman and Walter Miller, decided to shift the site of the 1941 outing to the east shore of Breitenbush lake from the northwest because of greater seclusion and deeper water.

Members of the week-end party included Bowman, Paul Deuber, Dorothy Middleton, Dr. C. A. Downs, Flavia Downs, Pauline Corning, Walter Miller, Doreen Baker, Melva Hodge, Bob Kennedy, Jennie Keudell, Emil Renner, Virginia Wells and Bessie Smith.

Japanese Ships Sail from Cristobal

Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, July 21 (AP)—Five of six Japanese merchantmen after an unsuccessful week-long wait for transit through the Panama canal to the Pacific, sailed yesterday for Rio de Janeiro, their agents said.

Two other Japanese ships which had not waited so long sailed for undisclosed destinations. The destination of the five was not known beyond Rio de Janeiro.

Panama canal authorities would not say why the Japanese had not used the canal. It was understood no protests had been made by the Japanese captains, one of whom before departure, sent a cable from Tokyo saying the canal had been closed.

Washington, July 21 (AP)—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said today that urgent repairs to the Panama canal made it necessary to curtail merchant shipping through the canal.

He made this statement in connection with dispatches from the Canal Zone that several Japanese ships had sailed apparently home-ward around the Cape of Horn after failing to get transit through the canal.

Welles said canal authorities had issued orders restricting or prohibiting merchant shipping but that he was not familiar with the full details.

"Unfortunately we cannot, for reasons of security, write giving full details of the ambulance's whereabouts and activities, but when the story of the British American Ambulance Corps ambulances is told, those who have so generously donated and subscribed for them will feel justly proud of the part they have taken in alleviating suffering."

"It is most encouraging and stimulating to us to have had your support and we renew with gratitude our appreciation for your thoughtfulness and generosity."

First Aid Car Resolution to Appear Tonight

Alderman Tom Armstrong announced today that he will offer a resolution to the city council tonight asking the creation of a special committee to investigate proposals to place the city's first aid car on a more substantial and permanent basis.

Armstrong said it is his idea that the car, now badly worn, should be replaced and that responsibility for its operation and maintenance placed in a single department under the supervision of a regular committee augmented by perhaps a physician and perhaps an expert mechanic.

The council was also scheduled to open bids on the recently authorized $200,000 sewer bond issue.

Bidding is expected to be brisk for the privilege of providing aggregates for use in the paving of North Fifth and Jefferson streets.

Since Oregon Motor stages official city buses by Ralph C. Ravenel, it is doubtful whether the council will have any definite action to-night concerning the matter. Ravenel would operate buses on a schedule of five cent straight fare with an additional charge for transfers.

Citizens who will team up with members of the council in consideration of the annual budget will probably be named tonight.

La Londe said he had been up and down the coast since leaving here and more lately has been at Walla Walla.

He advised against "unfair suspicions" of foreign-born residents of this country, asserting that the majority of the foreign-born is loyal to the United States.
