PEACE DALE Congregational church, in Peace Dale, Rhode Island, was the scene of an exquisite wedding when Miss Edith Eildred Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur French Berry of Salem, became the bride of Amberson Hardy Brickhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Brickhead of Seaside, New York. The rites were performed March 14 at 8 o'clock, with Rev. Wesley A. Mallory officiating. Mrs. Lucian Campbell was the organist.

The bride wore a bouffant white net dress fashioned with a tiny waist and a very full skirt, which was trimmed with small net ruffles. The bodice was draped into a sweetheart neckline and the long sleeves had tiny ruffles over the hands. Her finger-tip veil was caught in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bouvardia.

The maid of honor was Miss Ann Eildred. She wore a deep lilac taffeta gown with a corded skirt and a matching calotte and veil. She carried a bouquet of white pansies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Doris Eildred and Mrs. Norman Lynn of Wakefield, Rhode Island, Miss Virginia Files of Providence, and Miss Lyntha Browning of Shamrock, Rhode Island. They wore white taffeta gowns fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant, and white calottes and veils. They carried bouquets of purple pansies.

Oliver W. Brickhead was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Norman Lynn, Robert Von Roeder, Burnett Bruce and Walter Grant.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Berry wore black lace with a corsage of white orchids. Mrs. Brickhead wore a blue crepe gown with a corsage of brown orchids.

A reception was held at "The Hoss-rays," in Kingston, Rhode Island. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit and white accessories. Following a wedding trip in Florida, the couple will be at home in Peace Dale at 32 Church street.

The bride attended South Kingston high school and the Ethel Traphagen Art school in New York City. The bridegroom attended Stark school and the University of Alabama.

The annual "Jitney dinner," an affair planned and arranged by the Parent-Teacher association at Leslie school, will be held Monday evening from 6 until 7:30 o'clock. It will mark the tenth straight year the dinner has been handled under the supervision of Mrs. Douglas McKay, and the twelfth year since the event was inaugurated.

Members of the association report that proceeds from the dinner, all of which have been applied to various projects for the school, have furnished the piano in the auditorium, provided dental work for many needy children, purchased the movie projector at the school, assisted in the development of the tennis courts and has in many other ways improved conditions at the school. This year the proceeds will go to aid the cafeteria fund.

The food for the dinner is provided each year by school patrons, who also handle the service and other details.

Miss Dorothy Blaisdell entertained members of her club at bridge and supper Thursday night at her home in Saginaw street. Special guests were Mrs. Robert Cannon, Miss Maxine McKillop and Mrs. Harvey Quistad.

Wright-Wilson

A pretty home ceremony Sunday afternoon will be the marriage of Miss Lois Evelyn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Wilson, and Roy Bryan Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Wright of Dayton. The vows will be exchanged at 4 o'clock before the fireplace of the Wilson home which will be banked with yellow forsythia and laurel. Rev. F. E. Fisher of Canby will read the impressive rites. The ceremony will be witnessed by members of both families and friends.

Mrs. Alex LaFollette will play the wedding marches and Mrs. Harry Stoutenbert will sing "Because" and "Until" preceding the ceremony.

Mr. Wilson will give his daughter in marriage, and they will come down an aisle formed by ribbons held by Miss Phoebe Lou Braun, Miss Kay Tomlinson, Master Alexander LaFollette and Master Leonard Davidson.

The bride will wear a two-piece ensemble of petal blue crepe Americana, with trapunto on the shoulders and pockets of the jacket. Her accessories will be of navy and she will wear a corsage of orchids.

The matron of honor will be Mrs. Joy Strickfaden, who will wear a two-piece dress of navy blue fashioned with a basque waist and circular skirt, embellished with trimming of grosgrain. She will wear navy accessories and a corsage of gardenias and Tallman roses. Flower girl will be Miss Alleen Ann Wilson of Dayton. Her dress will be fashioned of pink silk.

Horace Wright will serve as best man for his brother, and ushers will be Denzil Wilson, brother of the bride, and Joy Strickfaden.

The bride's mother will wear an almond green two-piece suit with an applique leaf design on the jacket. Her corsage will be of gardenias and Tallman roses. The bridegroom's mother will wear a powder blue crepe dress with a corsage of gardenias and Tallman roses.

A reception will follow immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. May Versteeg, grandmother of the bride, will cut the cake. Mrs. Howard Steingrube of Dayton will pour, and Mrs. Denzil Wilson of Dayton will cut the ices. Serving will be Miss Wanda Gorman of Jefferson, Miss Yvonne Thompson of West Linn and Mrs. Allen May. Miss Hazel Swanson of Portland will be about the gift room, and the guest book will be passed by Miss Gertrude Broadwell.

For going away the bride has chosen a dress fashioned of American Eagle gold with a hand crocheted bodice. She will wear a topcoat of Airway blue and blue accessories. Following a short honeymoon north, the couple will reside in Salem.

MUSICAL EVENT of the coming week will be the concert presented by the Salem "Y" Gleemen with Josephine Albert Spaulding as guest soloist. The concert will be given in the Salem high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Edouard Hurlmann is the conductor of the Gleemen and Alice Crary Brown is accompanist.

Josephine Albert Spaulding, mezzo-soprano, is one of the leading concert artists of the northwest. She is well known in the capital for her ability in the field of music. Mrs. Spaulding attended Willamette university, graduating with a degree in voice in 1931. During her college years her name was associated with the best musical productions given on the campus.

After graduation she attended the Julliard School of Music in New York, later studying with Maude Conley Hopper in Seattle and with Prof. Paul Petri of Corvallis. Early in her career she won the Music Federation contest for the state of Oregon, and again for the Pacific northwest, and represented the Pacific northwest in national competition in Minneapolis in 1933.

Since that time she has become well known to audiences in Oregon and Washington, and has been heartily acclaimed wherever she has appeared. Among her many appearances, she has appeared as soloist with the Portland Symphonic orchestra and again with the Portland Philharmonic orchestra.

In July and August of 1940 Mrs. Spaulding took the leading part in the pageant given in connection with the Salem Centennial celebration. It is planned that during the concert Mrs. Spaulding will sing the Salem Centennial song, "Wilderness to Wonderland," with the Gleemen.

Tickets may be secured from members of the Junior Red Cross of Salem high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Williams of Portland, both of whom are former Willamette students, will visit Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stevens this week-end and will attend Freshman Glee.

C. M. Tremaine, secretary of the National and Inter-American Music Week committee, from the committee's office in New York, has announced that Music Week observance will be held this year May 3 to 10 inclusive. These dates mark the 19th consecutive annual observance on a nationwide basis.

A feature of this year's Music Week will be its cooperation with defense program. The central committee has adopted two keynotes for 1942. One is "American Unity Through Music," and the other "Music Maintains Morale." Both of these will be stressed by local workers, who will cooperate in every way to introduce and expand the use of music in munitions plants, training camps and in community life.

As an aid to these workers, who wish to extend the music of the Western Hemisphere peoples, the committee has made available a book—"Recordings of American Songs and Dances—Annotated, Selected List of Popular and Folk Music." Another new publication of the Music Week committee is a pamphlet, "How Music Relieves Industrial Tedium."

As in the past, Music Week programs will feature local talent and locally trained musical groups and will include both public and private, free and paid admission events. In the case of the latter, proceeds will frequently be used for the Red Cross, the U. S. O., for musical equipment in the training camps.

Women of Rotary will meet at the Quells for a 1 o'clock luncheon Monday. The guest speaker will be Miss Eleanor Stephens, Oregon state librarian, who will speak on "Books for Lenten Reading."

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yoder (Edith Mohr), who were married at a lovely ceremony Sunday, March 15, at First Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Yoder will make their home in Salem, where Mr. Yoder is connected with the Southern Pacific railway.

Daughters of St. Elizabeth guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be entertained at a no-host luncheon Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William H. Burghardt at 800 Union street, with Mrs. Burghardt and Mrs. Thomas Rilea hostesses.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Union at the First Congregational church Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Anderson will entertain with a buffet dinner preceding the Freshman Glee. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moore and Al Vosper, all of Portland.

Among the members of the University of Oregon student body visiting their parents in the capital this week-end are Miss Harriet Crawford, Miss Betty Childs, Miss Dorothy Engle, Miss Mary Jane Simmons, Miss Elizabeth Steed, Miss Eleanor Sedstrom, Miss Beth Stewart, Miss Shirley Huntington, Miss Edith Davis, Tom Pickett, Grover Hofstetter, George Otten, Jr., and Read Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Geddes left the capital Thursday for their home in Seattle, following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens.

Willamette University campus—Dedicated to President Carl Sumner Knopf, the thirty-fourth annual Freshman Glee will be presented in the Willamette gymnasium tonight by members of the freshman class under the direction of Jim Glasse, Glee manager.

Using the centennial theme for both their songs and decorations the gymnasium will be decorated with the school colors, cardinal and gold, and the backdrop for the stage will contrast the modern with the old with pictures of the first building on the campus and the new Collins hall separated by a huge seal of the university. The cardinal and gold streamers forming the false ceiling will radiate out from a huge seal of the university.

Guests at the Glee will be welcomed by the Century girl, Miss Nancy Austin, and Jack Glasse, freshman class president, will deliver the opening address. Carrying on a tradition almost as old as that of the Glee, itself, will be the presentation of the banner to the winning class by Dr. James T. Matthews, who for many years has had this honor bestowed upon him.

The music for the senior song was composed by Miss Marian Hermanek and the words were written by a committee of seniors. Their formation will be a huge cross and a "J. L." for Jason Lee, which will be changed into a bell with a moving clapper and a W. U. Loren Hicks is in general charge of the formation.

The junior formation, which is a huge wagon wheel and an 1842 which changes into a 1942, is directed by Harold Adams. Miss Betty Sackett composed the music for their song and Miss Ruth Matthews wrote the words.

Words and music for the sophomore song were written by Ray Short and the formation, which is directed by Keith and Kent Markee, is a huge square of girls in white bordered by the boys in black, which changes into a 100 formed by the girls and a W. U. formed by the boys.

The freshmen will carry out the century theme in their formation, changing their original formation of 1842 into a 1942. Their formation is directed by Bill Byrd. Words for the freshman song were written by Miss Pauline Olson and Miss Margaret Anderson composed the music.

Judges for the event are: Music, Prof. T. S. Roberts, Virginia Ward Elliott and Denn Melvin Geist; words, Dr. Helen Pearce, Hugh Morrow and Ada Ross; and formation, W. W. Chadwick, Silas Gaiser and H. B. Collins. Wes McWain heads the general committee assisting the Glee manager, and other members of the committee are Mark Walz and Keith Sherman.

Following the Glee alumni will entertain with an informal reception at Chresto Cottage for alumni returning for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harland are in general charge and assisting them are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smart, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schreiber of Independence, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mefford and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Zeller.

An informal dance at the armory for students and alumni will follow the Glee. Chuck Regon and his orchestra will play for the dancing. Patrons and patronesses for the dance are Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. Egbert S. Oliver, Prof. and Mrs. Muro Ringnald, Dr. and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Rahe.

The program for the Glee includes: Address of welcome, Jack Glasse, freshman class president; "Song to Willamette," senior song; "Our Next Century," junior song; "Wheels of Progress," sophomore song; "Facing the Dawn," freshman song. Judges' decisions and presentation of the banner by Dr. J. T. Matthews.

MRS. ROLLAND JORY was hostess at a Dower Chest tea this afternoon honoring Miss Ruth Wellhausen, bride-elect of Roger Lewis, at her home in Liberty. Miss Jackie Van Loh presented each guest a clever announcement which showed the wedding date to be April 18.

Greeting the guests at the door was Miss Glenna Barnes. Mrs. Jory, Miss Wellhausen and Mrs. William Wellhausen received the guests informally in the living room.

The tea table was centered with an exquisite arrangement of double white peach blossoms, and featured silhouettes of the betrothed couple. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Roy Farrand, Mrs. V. Orndoff of Corvallis, Mrs. Ralph Cartwright, Mrs. Conrad Loehner, Mrs. Ed Jory and Mrs. Arthur Chase of Newberg.

In charge of the friendship quilt blocks was Miss Ila Krauger. Mrs. Jory will open her home for no-host luncheons from March 25 to 31 so friends may complete work upon the quilt.

All white is the rule tonight as co-eds at Willamette university march onto the stage in the Willamette gym to participate in the thirty-fourth annual Glee. Century girl, Jane Austin's dress will be made with a three button bodice, a square neckline and a full gored skirt. Shirtwaist frocks are popular for the event. Miss Emma Lou East is wearing a model with a pleated skirt and Miss Beryl Seacat's frock, of rayon and cotton crash, is fashioned with a flared skirt. Miss Margaret Sehon's dress has a pocket trim on the bodice and her skirt is pleated, while the frock worn by Miss Mary Jean Huston will have tucks on the shoulders and a flared skirt.

Miss Ruth Finney has chosen a sailor dress for the Glee with a light blue trim on the collar and the bottom of the skirt, and blonde, Miss Lois Phillips will wear a fitted princess style dress, which buttons down the front. Wearing light weight wools are Miss Barbara Hollingsworth, who will wear a long sleeved sweater and a white wool skirt, and Miss Betty Jean Smith, whose long torso frock is fashioned with full skirt and elbow length sleeves. Miss Mary Elizabeth Ross has chosen a simple frock with fitted bodice and peter-pan collar and a flared skirt.

Two piece frocks are a favorite this year and Miss Jane Patton has chosen one with fitted short sleeved blouse and gored skirt. Miss Luree Norris will be a bit on the dressy side with her sheer lace trimmed blouse, which she will wear with a white skirt as will Miss Mary Laughlin, whose long torso dress has a pleated skirt and a lace trim. We've all heard of the calico cat but Miss Ethel Hickey has bested that and has found a colorful calico horse lapel pin which she wears on her black suit.

It's plaid again! And this time it is Miss Phyllis Fisher in a nifty long jacket model of red, brown and beige plaid with a pleated skirt.

A bit tropical is the gay print blouse that Miss Kitty Ryan wears with her brown mannish tailored suit. The background is of beige and the flures are bright green, rust, yellow and brown, all harmonizing beautifully.

From co-ed to business woman is Miss Rosemary Detweiler, a former Willamette student, who now resides in Los Angeles and has the important position of assistant buyer in Bullock's Budget Shop. Rosemary advises those who plan to wear wool in the future to buy their wool outfits now while they can get them.

Leaving early Thursday morning for the east to join her husband in Washington, D. C. was Mrs. Ronald Gemmell. For traveling she wore a green and brown plaid suit with a brown sports blouse and a yellow beret.

Mrs. Marion Armstrong will entertain members of her bridge club with a salad luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

The First Congregational church will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Ruth Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Peck, and James G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward G. Smith of Lake Grove. The wedding is to be an event of Saturday, March 28, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Clarence Reynolds of Corvallis will officiate.

Miss Peck will be given in marriage by her father. She will have as her maid of honor Mrs. Robert Beardsley. Bridesmaids will be Miss Gretchen Smith, Mrs. Morris E. Wilson of Portland, Miss Ruth Melson and Miss Charlotte McClary.

A reception will follow immediately in the church parlors. Miss Helen Hadley will cut the bride's cake. Serving will be Miss Mary Jane Lau, Miss Ruth Skinner, Miss Donna and Miss Veda Reed, both of Corvallis. Irma Illert will have charge of the guest book.

Miss Peck attended Corvallis schools and the Capital Business college. She is now with the secretary of state's office.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Oregon law school and is now with the attorney general's office.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club will meet for dinner at the Golden Pheasant, Tuesday, March 24, at 6:30 o'clock. The program is in charge of International Relations committee, and the guest speaker will be Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf, president of Willamette University. His subject is "Our County in a War Torn World."

Members of Town and Gown club will meet Thursday at 2:30 o'clock at Lausanne hall. Dean Melvin Geist, tenor, will present a program for the afternoon. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Geist. The program will include:

- Alma mia.....Handel
 - Stornellata Marinara.....Cimarosa
 - If I Were King of Ireland (Irish air).....Arr. by Fisher
