

Women Doing Good Work Says Knudsen

Seattle, April 21 (AP)—Women are doing their part in the United States' effort and doing it good, Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen, chief of production for the war department, said here today.

can't do the heavy work. But in such things as making small parts, assembling electrical apparatus and many other jobs they are making a fine record.

"I remember seeing one woman in an airplane factory—she only weighed 110 pounds—standing up there on a wing, 30 feet in the air. She was an electrical inspector."

General Knudsen arrived here last night in a newly designed transport plane on a tour of war production factories. He revealed he has inspected 170 plants within the past 60 days.

He found, he said, that America is getting mad "and that is the only way to win the war."

"There is nothing among the 30,000 armament items that are needed that is not now in production," he added. "The spirit in the factories is splendid. They're saying things like this:

"We turned out 50,000 this month—now we've got to turn out 60,000 next month."

Brig. Gen. K. B. Wolfe, army air corps, who is director of procurement at Wright field, accompanied General Knudsen. He too voiced optimism over the production rate. They will go to Spokane tomorrow.

Liberia is now the only independent nation of the African continent.
