

Camp Adair In Need of Better Traffic

Albany, Ore., April 21—Howard C. Johnson, coordinator for Linn, Benton, Marion and Polk counties, spoke before the Albany realtors Monday on his work as liaison officer for Camp Adair for the counties. Johnson said his first official act of importance was to appear before the state highway commission in the interest of improving the Granger-Independence road to relieve the heavy traffic on highway 99W.

At present there are between 300 and 500 trucks crossing the highway hauling material, he stated. In time this will be increased to between 3000 and 3500 a day, necessitating a change in through traffic. He appealed to the highway commission to relieve the expense of Benton and Polk counties in making the improvement. It is expected that in time the war department will make this road into a four lane, hard surface highway, he said.

Regarding transportation from the various towns to the camp, he explained that buses were not available to the extent needed and urged that those having automobiles and who are employed at the camp cooperate in taking fellow workers to and from the grounds. A recent canvass made by the gatekeepers of the camps shows: men making the trip into the camp with one man to the car, 424; two men to the car, 305; three men, 164; four men, 95; five men, 67, and six men, 21. It was voted by members of the realty board here that a rating committee should be formed in each town to regulate rentals. It was reported that excessive rents are being charged in some towns within the area.

Keizer Clubs Plan Achievement Day

Keizer—The annual 4-H club Achievement day will be held in the school auditorium Friday, May 10. Exhibits of work done by the different clubs during the year will be on display all day Friday and also in the evening. A program will be presented at 8 o'clock. All parents and patrons are invited. Refreshments will be sold, and the money placed in the 4-H club fund.

Now Up to Parents To Keep Kids Home

The city council last night enacted a curfew ordinance which makes parents more than the police responsible for the care of their children under the age of 18. It provides that children under that age shall not be on the streets after 10:30 o'clock at night unless accompanied by parents, guardians or persons authorized by parents or guardians. If children are caught on the streets otherwise, they are to be taken to police headquarters and parents or guardians notified and requested to come and get them. If they refuse then they can be punished by a fine of not over $500, imprisonment of not over 60 days, or both.

Playgrounds Ask Increase

Representatives of the city public playgrounds appeared before the city council last night and asked for an increase in the appropriation for playgrounds for the year beginning July 1. Mrs. David Wright, chairman of the city school board and a member of the public playgrounds board, first took the floor, but asked that Roy S. (Spec) Keene, also a member of the board, present the case. Mr. Keene said that increased use of the swimming pools was in prospect on account of soldiers stationed in the vicinity, and introduced Vernon Gilmore, playground superintendent, who presented the financial needs.

Mr. Gilmore said that for some years the WPA contribution in labor had averaged around $4000 a year, but this aid had been removed by the war emergency, and assurance had been given that it could not be expected during the next year, therefore both the city and the school board would be asked to increase their appropriations for the playground.

Last year the school board appropriation was $3650, he said, and the city appropriation about $2750. This year each is asked for $4568.50. There is a possibility that the appropriation for the junior band, an amount of $800, may be applied and provision made for the band by other arrangements. Mr. Gilmore said that last year attendance totaled 300,000 and the year before 320,000.

Man Lurks in Brush, Scares Children

In the area bounded by Oxford, Hinges, 14th and 19th streets there is a dense brush. And in the brush lurks a man whose diversion seems to be frightening little children. On complaint of people living in the neighborhood police have searched the place, but so far haven't caught the man. Last night there came before the city council a petition signed by numerous residents of the community asking the city to clear the brush out of the place so it no longer will harbor anyone of bad repute. It was referred to the street committee.

One-Mill Tax Bill Killed By Council

On motion by Alderman David O'Hara, seconded by Alderman E. B. Perrine, the city council last night killed by indefinite postponement the bill providing for a 1-mill tax levy to provide a sinking fund mainly to pay interest and installments on the $200,000 sewage treatment bond issue.

O'Hara asked for a roll call on the motion. Only three votes, those of Aldermen P. H. Holmes, James H. Nicholson and Lloyd T. Rigdon were against killing the bill. Clark was absent.

O'Hara objected to an addition to city taxes and to the emergency clause which would have prevented a referendum against the measure. He said it was unnecessary as a means of meeting payments on the bonds.

The $200,000 is a bond issue which is not being used because the cutting off of WPA aid by the war emergency has made it impossible to get labor from that source, also because of the impossibility to get materials due to priority restrictions.

It had been proposed that the sinking fund be created by a sewer service charge collected with water bills by the city water office. This also is now impossible because office equipment necessary for the purpose cannot now be obtained.

Half-Dollar 84 Years Old Dug Up

A half dollar that may be worth more than its face value, although it is murky and covered with clay, was unearthed yesterday on South Winter street about 100 feet south of the railroad. It was found seven feet below the surface of the ground. The old coin, bearing the date 1858, and the tiny letter "o," indicating it was minted at New Orleans 84 years ago, was dug up by Charles Greenleaf, employee of the Empire Construction company, which is on a project for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company. The eagle design on one side of the coin and the Liberty design on the other are decidedly different from those figures on modern coins.

New Home Occupied

Illihoe—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feller are now occupying their new home on the Pacific highway. The house, recently completed, is unusually lovely, being smartly appointed with the latest in modern fixtures and is complete throughout with oak floors, venetian blinds and two fireplaces—one of which is located in the spacious rumpus room downstairs.
