Polk Official Count Steady

Dallas—Official election count figures released Monday by County Clerk C. S. Graves, left the unofficial tabulation figures essentially unchanged. In the five-way republican state representative race, Lef S. Finseth, Dallas mayor, had a lead of 334 votes over his nearest competitor, Ralph C. Shepard who had 745. E. Hardin Davis received 180, Joy Hills 288, and Mrs. Joe Rogers 112.

For county judge on the democratic ticket, the only county office contest, Herman Van Well, present judge, with 612 votes held his 118 lead over Tracy Staats who had 496.

A contest in the fall election for the office of county treasurer will likely result from the writing in on democratic ballots of the name of Troy Turner. He received 59 votes. Mrs. Rachel Hawkins, republican candidate and present county treasurer, received 11 votes on democratic ballots.

Bruce Spaulding, democratic candidate for district attorney, received 56 votes on republican ballots, assuring him of the nomination on both tickets at the general election.

As nearly as can be computed, 25 per cent of the democratic registration and 40 per cent of the republican registration turned out to vote at the primary election Friday.
