

Nova and Army Rap Publicity for Fight

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
(Wide World Staff Columnist)
New York, May 20 (AP)—Lou Nova and the army just about wrecked the ballyhoo for the Nova-Lee Savold navy relief fight in Washington tomorrow. First Lou announced he had laid aside all his cockeyed yoga and cosmic punch nonsense; then the word came out that the army didn't intend to let Joe Louis fight for profit. That left the tub thumpers with nothing to work on but Savold. The Dodgers already had sold most of the seats in good locations for all 14 night games when that black-out order came along Monday. . . . Marmalade (Biggie) Goldberg, voted most likely to succeed by his Chicago Cardinal teammates, has been made assistant superintendent of a Chicago machine tool firm and placed in charge of the company's defense plant at West Pullman, Ill.; general superintendent for the firm's Chicago plant is Solle Sherman, retired Bears' quarterback.

Pat 'n Mike
If this story sounds too perfect to be true, we'll admit we heard it from a publicity guy. . . . Seems that a couple of years ago Mrs. Payne Whitney was listening to a broadcast of the Dodgers' game and thinking of names for some colts. When she heard Red Barber say "It's a shut out," she picked the tag for a colt whose dam was Goose Egg. . . . And last spring when she was talking over derby prospects with her trainer, the Dodgers were on the air again and came up with another shut out, so she decided to enter the colt along with Devil Diver. . . . Apparently she decided the mike was pat.

Today's Guest Star
Tommy Tucker, Cleveland News: "A fellow in St. Petersburg has announced he'll turn his 18-hole golf course into a cow pasture for the duration. . . . Par for the course, it is understood, will be two quarts of grade A and a pound of butter."

Northwest Golf Tourney, Everett

Everett, May 20 (AP)—A strong field of professionals and amateurs is being lined up for the Pacific Northwest open golf tournament to be held at the Everett Golf and Country club Saturday and Sunday.
Al Zimmerman of Portland will be defending his title, and there will be plenty of the northwest's money golfers on hand seeking the $700 in cash and war bonds going to the top-rankers.
There was a possibility that National Amateur Champion Bud Ward, now an air force corporal, might be able to come over from Spokane. And the Sand Point naval air station can contribute such stars as Lt. Jack Westland, three-time winner of the Northwest Amateur; Scotty Campbell, three-time winner of the Washington State Amateur; and Ken Tucker, who was the professional at the Everett course until he entered the navy a few months ago.

Root Handing Out Misery

By Robert Myers
Hollywood, May 20 (AP)—Charley Root through? Hardly. The old Chicago Cub star is still pitching baseball. Ask Pacific Coast league hitters. The old boy is handing them nothing but misery.
Old Charley is going after his eighth win of the season tonight for Hollywood against Pepper Martin's Sacramento club. You remember Pepper, of course. He is Sacramento's manager. And Oscar Vitt pilots Hollywood. But back to Charley Root.
He's been beaten once this year since kissing the Cubs and his major league career goodbye. Portland, the tall end club, sneaked in to a 4-3 win, but it took 'em 14 innings. Sure, old Charley was in there at the finish. He's finished every game he's started this season.
He's also beaten every club in the circuit.
Root claims to be 43. He did not make an understatement of the point. This is his 22nd year in organized baseball. He pitched for Chicago for 16 years before coming to Hollywood this season.
To date, Root has pitched to 286 batters. They are hitting him for a .210 average, and scoring on him with a 2.07 earned run average. He's walked 13 and fanned 30.

No Name Playoff Held Up by Rain

Albany—A wet and sloppy diamond caused the cancellation of the No Name league baseball tournament here Tuesday, and the games were postponed until Wednesday if weather permits. It was announced by Coach Dwight Adams of Albany.
Behind the three-hit pitching of Bruce Hamilton, the Salem Vikings beat the Oregon City Pioneers Monday and won the right to meet Milwaukie in the first game. Albany will meet Corvallis in the second game. Tournament plans call for four games the first day at 1:30 and 3:30, then at 7 and 9 p.m., the afternoon losers to meet in the first night game and the afternoon losers in the second.

Californians Resume Rowing Rivalry

Berkeley, Cal., May 20 (AP)—After a lapse of 22 years, California and Stanford will resume their rowing rivalry Saturday morning on the Stanford home course at Redwood City.
The last California-Stanford crew race was held in 1920. California won that year and the previous season, but from 1907 to 1919 Stanford dominated the competition.

When he reached there in February and on their wedding anniversary, May 6, and Mother's day, he sent her cablegrams. Sgt. and Mrs. Smith have two young children, Julie Mariann and Richard, Jr.

War to Change Grid Tactics, Little Says

By Jack Guenther
New York, May 20 (AP)—The best dressed and possibly the best versed of the college coaches peered through his pince-nez into the future today and there detected a subtle but definite link between the strategy of the battlefield and that of the gridiron. The war, predicted Lou Little, will substantially alter the tactics and psychology of football.
Primarily, the balance of power will shift to the offense.
An old warrior himself—he served as a captain in World War I—the Sage of Morningside Heights explains his contention simply. In the past six months, he emphasizes, people have become offense minded. Individual exploits and daring have been stressed everywhere. Boys—particularly—are thinking in terms of commandos, pursuit pilots and parachutists.
Little believes that the key word of football will be attack. He isn't saying that coaches will just give the boys a ball and tell them to toss it wildly. But he does think that the stress of rock-ribbed tackles and stone-wall guards will be relaxed gradually. Not that the center buck or the off-tackle smash will be abandoned; they will be used less frequently.
The accent will be switched to daring, to deception and to individual brain work. Football will remain a tough game but it will become a smarter game. The material will be selected with a view to increased potentialities of attack and the boys themselves will provide more action by taking more chances. A tie will no longer be a moral victory, it will be a defeat.

Skits and Scratches

By Fred Zimmerman
Capital Journal Sports Editor

Since Walla Walla appears to be the only point in the Northwest conference capable or willing to finance baseball championships, the Whitman Missionaries are entitled to whatever advantage may arise from performing in familiar surroundings. Baseball, track and tennis competition will be combined in one big athletic event later this week in the Palouse country.
Spec Keene and his Bearcat diamond axes left this morning for the scene of battle—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Coach Nig Borleske, after being ousted from the play-offs last year, is back with a stronger club than ever and is favored to take the series although Earl Toolson, Bill Hanauka, Amman Adams and Jack Richards may give the Missionary batters a bit of trouble.
Paul Cookingham will direct the Bearcat track and field squad of nine contestants, including himself. Last spring Willamette, along with other conference schools, made the trip to Walla Walla only to encounter a cloud burst. It was so wet they called off everything except water polo and that was cancelled because the boys left their suits at home.
And speaking of baseball, what a friend of the sport is Wm. L. McGinnis, general superintendent of the Silver Falls Timber company of Silverton. When Coach Spec Keene needed a diamond Monday on which to stage a doubleheader between Willamette and Portland, he got McGinnis on the phone and asked permission to play on the field named for the Silverton man.
W. L. not only made the Bearcat mentor and his boys welcome, but made every effort to make matters comfortable for all concerned, even though he had but three hours' notice.
McGinnis field at Silverton is an excellent example of what a community can do for itself when there is cooperation. Silverton needed a baseball diamond a few years back. Did the citizens seek assistance from the WPA or any of the several federal agencies? They did not. Boys from the big mill there donated labor while the owners of the lumber concern provided the material. Together, they constructed one of the finest plants in the valley.
With three gallons of gas a week to work on, the question of who is head of the family will be aired in many households in the near future. Whether the liquid is to be consumed by the male member as he makes his way to and from his favorite golf course, or whether the missus is to squander a big portion of it in gadding around to the various eating parties may be expected to be the cause celebre in many a squabble. If the previous motor fuel gets to scarce, Salm Golf club divot takers might arrange with the Oregon Electric for a couple of handcars. But as one "athlete" put it, "by the time I pumped one of those things that far I would be in no shape to play golf."

Final Effort To Play Ball

Whether the Spokane Indians will return to their home base without taking a bat off their collective shoulders will be determined by the gent who rules the weather. The Indians, who arrived in the city early Monday for a three game series with the Senators at Geo. E. Waters park were forced to remain idle last night since all efforts to sop up the accumulation of water proved futile.
An effort will be made at 8 o'clock tonight to salvage at least one contest of the series with Ken Clow scheduled to take over the pitching chores for the Senators.
Following tonight's engagement (if played) the Solons will shove off for Spokane where they will engage the Indians in a series extending through next Monday. They will then head for Vancouver for a joust with the Caplans. The Salem club will then return to the home base June 2 for the second round against Spokane.

Walla Walla Meet Draws Bearcats

A squad of nine Willamette university trackmen, including Paul Cookingham, who acts as coach while not actually participating in the various events, will leave for Walla Walla Thursday where they will take part in the annual Northwest conference championships. Although Whitman was soundly beaten by Portland university last week, the Missionaries are favored to collect the most points in the two-day conference competition.
Making the trip with Cookingham are John Macy, Elmer Abel, Ken Lilly, Ronald Runyan, Keith Nash, Glenn Nordquist, Don Burton and Bob Bailey.

Linn Health Officer Compliments Hospital

Selo—Dr. A. Edward Bastron of Albany, Linn county health officer, who was in Selo on official business, complimented highly the set-up of the Selo auxiliary hospital, in charge of a civilian defense committee headed by Dr. A. G. Prill of this city. Dr. Prill accepted an invitation to speak Tuesday night at a committee meeting in Albany having charge of establishment of an emergency war hospital in the county seat.

Bridge Club Elects

Mill City—The last meeting of the year for the bridge club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. C. E. Mason. The election of officers for next year resulted in Mrs. Chas. Porter being elected president, and Mrs. C. M. Cline as secretary. Mrs. W. L. Quinn held high score for the year, and Mrs. Mason second.

Tom Hamilton Urges Competitive Sports

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The last thing that colleges and universities should be doing at this time is curtailing their athletic programs because of the war, says Lieut.-Commander Tom Hamilton, head of the navy's new aviation physical training program.
"It's exactly what we don't want them to do," said the big, dark man who once made three drop-kicks to tie the Army and who coached the navy football team with marked success in 1934-36. "For some of them it is just a convenient out because they think they might lose money."
"I can't say too forcibly that it is absolutely essential to the armed services that competitive sports continue in the schools, despite financial losses; that kids be brought up in competitive athletics. The problem we face right now—our having to add five months to our training period in order to whip our boys into top physical shape—never would have arisen if there had been more hard competitive sports in the last 20 years."
The commander, himself, is a striking example of the benefit of athletics. At 36 he looks like he still might play 60 minutes of football, and the enforced occupancy of a desk chair while a war is going on is about to get him down.
"Flying is my business," he grumbled. "I've had 13 years of training and I've asked them to let me go as soon as the four pre-flight training schools are running smoothly, and I think they will."

Bayless Agrees

New York, May 20 (AP)—Elimination of competitive athletics by many colleges was condemned by Lieut. Walter B. Bayless as a blow at the conditioning of 30,000 cadets in the naval air corps.
"Those kind of sports are the breath of life to any kind of service, particularly the air corps, and that's why we are inaugurating a national program, starting May 28, to harden our air cadets by a complete layout of sports," he said.

WI Clubs Idle Tuesday Night

(By the United Press)
No games were played in the Western International baseball league Tuesday night.
Tacoma still holds its first place position, with 17 games won and eight lost. Vancouver is second with 13 won and 10 lost. Salem and Spokane are in third and fourth positions, respectively.

Nelson Favorite In PGA Tourney

Absecon, N.J., May 20 (AP)—Byron Nelson, hotter than a July sun in his native Texas, is one of the favorites—and not without reason—in the National Pro Golf association tourney that gets under way on the Seaview course Monday.
Nelson, winner of the 1942 masters at Augusta, Ga., and a finalist the last three years in the PGA, was a mechanically perfect Sunday as he won the second annual Massachusetts Big Eight tourney with a five-under par 139.
The big Texan, now laying out of Toledo, O., is paired with Bruce Coltart of Atlantic City, and Jimmy Hines of Lakeville, Long Island, through the 36-hole qualifying test which will occupy the 116 play-for-pay shot-makers on Monday and Tuesday.
One of his chief threats, Little Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., will play the two rounds with Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia, according to the pairings released today by Fred Corcoran, PGA tournament manager.

Submarine Sailor Has Distant Friends

Woodburn—Mrs. T. K. Sanderson, whose son, Wesley Koehner, has been serving on an American submarine since the outbreak of the war, has received two letters from women in western Australia in whose homes Wesley has recently been a guest.
The following paragraph is taken from one of the letters: "My son got to know him (Wesley) in town and brought him home and we were delighted to meet him as we feel we can't do enough for those boys that have come to fight for us and are very brave."
A snap-shot of Wesley was included in one of the letters which shows him to be in the best of health. It seems his home port is near the place from which the letters were written and the people were expecting him to make another visit and were very happy to be entertaining an American sailor.

Girl Athletes Elect

Woodburn—New officers of the GAA recently elected at Woodburn high school are Aileen Waymire, president; Dorothy Johnson, vice-president and Juanita Sebern, secretary-treasurer. Sports managers have not been announced.

Orrell Elbows Beavers to Win Over Angels

(By the Associated Press)
The Portland Beavers, who recently landed in the basement after a Pacific Coast league baseball tour, celebrated their homecoming last night with a spectacular 3 to 0 win from the first-place Los Angeles Angels.
Joe Orrell, Beaver fireball artist, spaced seven hits as his offerings baffled the Angel batsmen, who top the league in base hits.
And it was Orrell who singled at the opening of the fifth inning to start a four-hit rally which netted the Beavers their third run.
San Francisco and Seattle were idle last night.
Oakland slipped further towards a spot in the lower division in dropping a game to the third-place San Diego Padres, who combined two hits with an Oak error to score twice in the fourth and win 2 to 1.
Jack Salveson pitched craftily in an attempt to protect the slim lead the Oaks gave him in the third and allowed only six hits to seven yielded by the winning hurler, Frankie Dasso.
The Padre hold on the upper division spot was further strengthened by the 6 to 5 win Hollywood blasted out in collecting 14 hits off Sacramento hurlers, Tony Freitas and Bill Schmidt.
The game was tied at five runs each in the eighth when Joe Hoover tripled and Babe Herman slammed a long fly to bring in Hoover for the winning tally.
Short score:
San Diego 000 000 0-2 4 1
Oakland 010 000 0-1 7 1
Dasso and Salcedo; Salveson and Ramirez.
Los Angeles 000 000 0-0 7 1

Sacramento 001 000 0-3 10 2

Brooklyn to Try Twilight Ball

New York, May 20 (AP)—As a substitute for night games banned by dim-out rules in the metropolitan area, the Brooklyn Dodgers planned today to experiment with twilight tilts starting next Monday against the Philadelphia Phils.
There was a possibility, it was said, that authorities would permit arc lights to be used briefly if necessary to finish the game.

Yanks and Indians Snarled at Loop Top

By Judson Bailey
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Out in the middle west where there is no gasoline rationing the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians have managed to get themselves in a traffic tangle at the top of the American league. The world champions have been stalled for almost two weeks, the weather and schedule combining to keep them idle on nine of the last 13 days, and meanwhile the Indians have won eight out of nine games to create the worst congestion of the season around first place.
Today the Yanks still are two percentage points ahead, but the tribe is half a game in front on won-lost reckoning. The standings show:
New York 20 9 .690
Cleveland 22 10 .688
The Indians ambushed the Philadelphia Athletics again yesterday for a 4-1 triumph on the four-hit hurling of slim, red-haired Charles Embree, rookie from Wilkes-Barre making his first start. He had the help of home runs by Oris Hockett and Jeff Heath.
In the only other American league game the Detroit Tigers trounced the Boston Red Sox 5-2 with Hal Newhouser pitching a six-hit ball game. He had a n-hitter for six frames and was given a send-off by Rip Radcliff with a three-run homer in the first inning.
The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to sweep aside all opposition in the National league by tagging the Chicago Cubs 6-1 for the pace-makers' eighth successive victory. Curt Davis pitched six-hit ball and for the second straight day the only run scored against Brooklyn was a homer—this one by Phil Cavaretta in the eighth.
Philadelphia staged a twilight game for army and navy relief funds and 3366 persons paid $3732.20 to see the Phils beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and knock the Bucaneers out of the place.

Cliff Dapper, above is one of the reasons why Manager Leo Durocher of Brooklyn has few worries in the catching department. Dapper, up from Los Angeles, works with Mickey Owen and Billy Sullivan.
