Ration Rumors Still Confuse At Silverton

Silverton—Some confusion still seems to be floating about in regard to sugar rationing. For instance, according to Walter Geren, clerk, in case a ration book is lost, a person must wait 60 days to get a new one.

If the retailer cannot supply the amount of sugar desired at the time of application, the storekeeper, if he wishes, may set up a certificate credit account for his customer. Customers may endorse certificates to the grocer and let the grocer obtain sugar for him, the customer to take delivery at a later date.

Canning sugar must not be used for fruit to be placed in a locker. Fruit must be canned in the home.

Canning sugar must be used for canning purposes. Canning may not be cut down to use the sugar for jam or jellies. Allowances lists are being published. Both imprisonment and heavy fines are imposed on those failing to obey these regulations. Each person is allowed one pound for jam or jelly.

No information has been received as yet on coffee or cocoa rationing at the local office. Rumors are that this will come at a later date. As far as the office is concerned white syrups which are purchased are not to be rationed. References to "simple" syrup means the white syrups made at home for canning. This is also rationed. That made up in advance is figured at the rate of 8 1/2 pounds per gallon of syrup.

Independence Service Board Getting Results

Independence—A. L. Thomas, chairman of the city service board committee, reports that much has been accomplished in the past three months by the board, through the efforts of E. L. Gray, city coordinator. Mr. Thomas stated that it is rather difficult to make a complete report of all of the activities but there were many items he would like to have mentioned.

Polk county tax-payers have been sent the sum of $20,000 by the state taking over the Independence-Granger road. The county court had planned to spend a considerable portion of this amount on this road this year as the bridges were in poor shape and had to be replaced and also a large amount will be saved in the repair and maintenance of the road. "The credit of the state taking over this road goes entirely to Mr. Gray. He was directly responsible for the cooperation of the Camp Adair officials and the activity of the four county cantonment council's efforts," stated Mr. Thomas.

Through the efforts of Gray a petition was presented to the state highway commission at its meeting in Portland last week asking them to establish a definite location of the proposed bridge at Independence and also of the Independence-Monmouth highway. The petition was received favorably by the commission and a report is expected at their next meeting June 25. It was indicated that the probable location of the bridge would be at the present ferry location or even more favorable in line with Monmouth street, making a direct route for the highway to Monmouth.

Thomas also brought out that the activities of the service board and Gary's work has brought considerable advertising to the city. The new large sign at Brunk's corner advertising the Independence road as the shortest route to Camp Adair has attracted much traffic.

Gray has also been very active in the house building program and has assisted in securing priorities for the construction of a number of homes here. Work is expected to start very soon on these houses and also a subdivision just west of the city limits which will accommodate 10 or more houses is being planned.

The work of establishing a civic center in the city has been accomplished by the efforts of Gray. This center will be under the supervision of the defense recreation committee of which Glen C. Smith is chairman. Smith announces that the defense committee has been enlarged and that representatives from all local organizations and churches will be asked to furnish a member of their groups to serve on the civic center committee. The work of preparing the room, which will be located in the Fluke building on C street has already begun.

Thomas also reports that Gray has assisted in the establishing of a log dump south of the city by the Western Loggers company and that work on that project is expected to be under way soon.

The board has maintained an office and giving housing, room and other information to hundreds of people during the past three months.

The cost of maintaining the city service board and the work of Gray is made possible by contributions of local merchants.
