Laymen Speak At Silverton

Silverton—Rev. O. Leonard Jones, pastor of the local Methodist church, is attending the graduate school for ministers at Tacoma from July 28 through August 5, and will not be present with his congregation next Sunday.

Instead of the regular sermon hour three laymen will be in charge and will speak on the needs of the church today as a layman sees it.

The Young Adult group will hold services Sunday evening around the open air fireplace for worship and common counsel.

Rev. Jones will be present to deliver the sermon at the forenoon worship hour August 9.

The summer session which Rev. Jones is attending at Tacoma is an annual event for ministers from Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Around six men are selected from each district for the school.

National representatives from the church from Wisconsin, New Jersey and New York will present the study courses, together with teachers from Puget Sound where the school is held.
