

Paid Observer Manning Post For First Time

Dallas — The first paid observer went on duty Saturday at the local civilian aircraft observation post, which has been manned by civilian volunteers since its founding in early December. Three full time eight-hour shift observers, Alvin Dickover, Peter Berg and L. H. Holt, and one alternate, Vern Smith, have been secured by local civilian defense authorities, who recently launched the paid observer plan as a solution to the increasingly difficult problem of keeping the post properly manned. Outside demands had depleted the ranks of the established personnel and new volunteers were few.

To finance the plan, which is dependent upon individual contribution for its support, heads of families have been contacted through the medium of local employers. The response to date has been adequate, although many have not yet been contacted. Contributions are made at the rate of $1 per quarter, or 25 cents per month per family. Money received is deposited to a recently set up civilian defense observer post account at the Dallas City bank. Checks issued will be signed by Lelf S. Finseth, civilian defense chairman, and William Blackley, defense coordinator and city liaison officer.

War Defense Duties Varied At Jefferson

Jefferson — A meeting was held Friday night in the city hall for all women in the home nursing class and all first aiders, standard and advanced. Miss Margaret Hamill, R. N., is supervisor.

The supplies for the casualty station were checked over and found to be quite adequate. Three more army cots and baby clothes are needed. Matters concerning the station were discussed, also procedure in case of an emergency. Much credit is due Mrs. Hal Wiley, general chairman of the casualty station, who has worked faith fully in organizing the station. She has been ably assisted by Mrs. Guy Roland, chairman, and Mrs. K. S. Thurston, first assistant.

Jefferson will be in the demitow area, ordered by the coast defense, effective August 20. This city is on the very edge of the territory included the line running along the Santiam river and including Stayton, Detroit, Lyons and Mill City.

Pamphlets covering the demitow will be available shortly at postoffice, filling stations, local defense officers and air raid wardens. Everyone is urged to obtain a copy and study the regulations.

Aircraft spotters from this vicinity are invited to join the "army" of spotters at Eugene on August 16 for a picnic and conference.

The program opens with registration at 10 a. m. for spotters and filter center workers and their families. At 11 a. m. a war service will be held in the city park. The public is invited to attend this open air service.

Following the picnic dinner a band concert will be enjoyed and at 2:30 the general assembly will be held in the armory. Observers and filter center workers will be given instructions from the army personnel in attendance.

Woman, Age 89, Takes to Field For Hay Harvest

St. Paul — America need have no worry regarding the ability of its women, when women like Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, age 89, go into the fields and help harvest the crops by working on a hay baler.

Unable to get sufficient men to help harvest the hay on his farm at St. Paul, Pete Murphy discovered there were women and children in the community who would help him. When the others went out to help, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, decided she should do her part too and worked side by side with the other women.

A big part of the crop was saved by the help of these women and children, Mr. Murphy stated.

Water Meters Are Authorized

Scio — Long-cherished hope of the Scio city council soon is to be realized by installation of about 125 meters for the water system, according to action taken a few days ago.

Expense of meters and installation is estimated at approximately $1800. Work is expected to start this week, it is announced by C. M. Cyrus, city water superintendent.

Resignation of E. D. Myers, city treasurer for the last 23 years, was reluctantly accepted by the council at the monthly meeting Monday night. The mayor, council members and recorder expressed genuine appreciation for Myers' long, faithful and able administration of city finances.

Only nomination for Myers' successor was P. W. Schunk, who was appointed to the post. Schunk officiated as mayor of Scio for several years and is considered a good man for treasurer. Myers gave as reason for relinquishing the post that other interests demanded his full time and attention.

Mayor Withers presided at the meeting, all councilmen being present except Chromy and Funk. Claims against the city were allowed in the approximate sum of $200.

Reunion Is Staged By Garrison Clan

Amity — The descendants of Abraham and Mary Garrison, early Oregon pioneers who settled west of Amity, held their annual reunion in the Amity city park Sunday. A basket dinner was served and the afternoon was spent in visiting Mrs. W. W. Jones (Aunt Tillie), of Monmouth, the only living child of Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, who was unable to be present on account of illness. Officers elected for next year are president, Chester Mulkey of McMinnville; vice-president, Lee Ladd of Sheridan; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Garrison, McMinnville.
