

Stocks Advance Irregularly in Dull Session

New York, Aug. 15 (AP)—Selective demand for a few issues today featured an otherwise dull, firm stock list. Ralls led an irregular rise in bonds commodities were narrow movers in the short session.

Stocks opened steady to firm on dull turnover and remained dull through the two-hour trading period.

Borden led in volume and made a new high for the year at 21 1/4 up 1/4.

Steel shares were very dull with Bethlehem up nearly a point, and Inland up more than a point. Railroad issues, some utilities, and building shares gained. Oils held firm and mercantiles, steady to firm.

In the ralls, new tops were made by Erie certificates at 6 1/4 up 1/4 and Texas & Pacific 16 3/4 up 1/4.

Monsanto Chemical preferred B gained a point to equal its high at 119, while Eastman Kodak lost 1 1/2 to 127 1/2 before meeting support. Engineers Public Service 5 1/2 per cent preferred was up 2 1/2 points to 50 on one sale.

Sales on the big board were 126,000 shares against 101,100 last Saturday. Curb stock sales were 26,925 against 15,140 last Saturday.

Dow-Jones preliminary closing averages were: Industrial, 108.39, up 0.24; rail, 25.88, up 0.01; utility, 11.45, up 0.02; 65 stocks, 35.42, up 0.07.

Wheat Market Firm Today

Chicago, Aug. 15 (AP)—Profitable spreading operations with selling of corn against purchase of wheat pressed corn futures to new seasonal lows and firmed the wheat market on the board of trade today.

After hitting new lows, corn recovered partially to close with net losses of 1/2 to 3/4 cent a bushel. Wheat closed 3/4 to 1/2 cent higher, oats unchanged to 1/4, rye off 1/4 to 1/2, and soybeans unchanged to 1/2.

Scattered long liquidation and local selling, particularly of the September contract, gave corn an exceptionally heavy tone. September corn yielded around 1 1/2 cents a bushel before pressure subsided. The competition of other feed grains in the government's program to encourage livestock production and favorable crop conditions were factors.

A resting demand met minor fractional declines in oats futures that were induced by the weakness of corn and expectations of an increasing crop movement in the northwest.

Locals sold rye to commission houses. Rye followed more closely the trend of corn in today's session, although some spreaders bought rye against sales of the yellow cereal.

Soybean futures eased in dull trading.

their visit. Motor torpedo boats were reported near us but they did not see us. For an hour or more as we raced away, anti-aircraft shells and bullets danced in the sky but we paid little attention. Our part of the night's work was completed.

"We had been in enemy waters over two hours but the job went throughout without a hitch. The only incident came next morning when one or two enemy aircraft circled around and then headed for home without attacking."

Ask Treasury For Tax Data

Washington, Aug. 15 (AP)—Chairman George (D. Ga.), said today the treasury had been asked to submit to the senate finance committee estimates of the effect on revenues of proposed post-war tax rebates for corporations as well as debt reduction credits for individuals.

Indicating that he would be guided largely by the net effect on the revenue of such proposals, George said it seemed imperative to soften the impact of high income levies written into the new tax bill before it passed the house.

"I am convinced by responsible and trustworthy testimony before the committee that the rates of the house bill require the establishment of some form of debt deduction and post-war credit for both individuals and corporations," George told reporters.

The house approved bill would add $6,271,000,000 to yearly federal revenues, a large portion of this amount being obtained through substantially increased income taxes on individuals and business firms.

Individual rates would range from 19 to 88 per cent on net income, while corporations would pay a combined total of 45 per cent in normal and surtax levies, with excess profits taxed at 90 per cent.

County Poor Farm To be Welfare Home

The Marion county poor farm which was scheduled to pass out of existence December 31 as under the budget county support would be withdrawn by that time, will go into history September 1 instead, under a deal approved by the county court today which will convert the properties on the north river road into a care home for inmates sent there by the Marion county public welfare commission.

Under the new plan Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hill who have been operating the poor farm for a number of years for the county, will lease the home and a part of the land from the county from September 1 this year to September 1, 1943, at the rate of $50 a month, the lease to cover the buildings and enough land for garden purposes. The remainder of the approximate 30 acres on the place will be held out by the county and put up for sale.

Court members stated today that the Hills have arranged with the county welfare commission to operate the place as a care home for beneficiaries from that commission on a basis to be worked out between them. Thus the place passes out as a county poor farm and will become a care home under some designation probably to be determined by the commission. They stated that homes available for the care of these types of cases are becoming very scarce in the vicinity and that the commission will be able to provide enough inmates to warrant the operation of the place.

There are now 11 inmates at the farm, all men, the buildings not being equipped for the care of women. It has a top capacity of 25 inmates but court members said that the Hills do not contemplate handling more than 16 due to the help situation.

While court members are uncertain as to just how long the county farm has been in operation, Commissioner Smith guessed for probably 60 years, anyway.

The court already had decided on its abandonment at the end of the year and turning all of the cases there over to the welfare commission. It was stated today that all of the present inmates are eligible for relief from the commission so it will make no material change as to their home status.

Court members complimented the care which the Hills have given of the county farm property and said they have kept both buildings and grounds in excellent condition.

Freeze Wages, Advise Goss

Washington, Aug. 15 (AP)—Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, advised the nation today that the first step to halt inflation should be to "freeze everything temporarily."

Goss, in a prepared radio address, said "some mistakes have been made which threaten to break down our whole price control program," and recommended steps to halt inflation, including these:

1. Freeze everything temporarily, including wages.
2. Recognize the fact that it will be necessary for all to accept somewhat lower standards of living.
3. Abandon the idea that all increased living costs must be accompanied by increased income.
4. Permit necessary price adjustments, up or down, where profits are excessive.
5. Permit adjustments of sub-standard wages or cases where injustices or inequities are shown, but not to exceed 2 1/2 per cent annually in the general wage level.

The Grange master also advised a comprehensive research into the question "of a practical base for determining that portion of the national income which should in justice go to industry, labor and agriculture."

Brown Rot Control Urged by Agent

Dallas—W. C. Leth, Polk county agricultural agent recommends that fruit growers make immediate applications of finely ground sulphur dust or wettable spray to control brown rot on peaches and prunes. As the season progresses, other applications should follow. In the event of rain, dusting should follow each rain in order to prevent the spread and development of brown rot on the fruit.

Fruit thus treated not only will stand longer without spoiling but will also ship better in the fresh state. Prune growers who find difficulty in getting driers to accept the prunes as soon as they are picked may find a previous dusting of sulphur to be of a great deal of help in preventing brown rot losses after prunes are picked and before they are started through the drying process in the drier.

Every state, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii are on the tabulation made public by the treasury today. New York led in the pinball class with 22,143, Wisconsin in the slot machine group with 7,247. Oklahoma is at the bottom of the list, with 33 machines in the pinball class and 14 in the slot machine group.

Prune Growers To Meet Tuesday

Reiterating the urgency of a meeting to consider steps to forestall threatened seizure of dried prunes in Oregon, J. D. Mickle, state director of agriculture, issued his second call today for all prune growers, packers and drier operators to attend the conference here next Tuesday.

Unless sanitary conditions are improved immediately, Mickle warned, the industry will suffer the loss of most of the finished product through seizure by federal agencies. Representatives of the federal food and drug administration and the state planning committee will attend, Mickle said.

A new method of freezing beef which requires only six hours instead of the usual eight days was recently demonstrated in Argentina, according to the department of commerce.

New Ceiling Prices For Paving Asphalt

Washington, Aug. 15 (AP)—New ceiling prices for pavement asphalt, cut-back asphalt and road oils at ocean terminals in Washington and Oregon and at California refineries were established yesterday by the office of price administration.

OPA said the effect of the ceiling, which becomes operative August 20, was to establish the posted prices between October 1 and October 15, 1941, as the maximums. Heretofore, the ceiling has been based on prices on deliveries between July 1 and Oct. 15, 1941. This basis, officials said, did not adequately reflect increased prices posted during the October 1-15 period.

and that so far they had been successful because it was apparent that no big enemy force had arrived in the southern Solomons.

Convoy Attacked
Flying fortresses made the attack on the convoy bound for the Solomons from Rabaul—a small convoy, MacArthur reported.

Two of six Japanese Zero fighter planes which tried to protect the convoy were shot down and three were damaged. In three heavy attacks on a convoy off New Guinea the day before, three enemy Zeros had been downed and three damaged out of a total of 13.

This brought a three-day soire in this New Guinea-New Britain area to six enemy fighters damaged and between nine and 12 damaged by allied heavy and medium bomber planes out of a total of 27 challenging enemy planes. Not a single allied bomber was lost in the three days, though some returned to base damaged and with casualties.

United Press dispatches from Pearl Harbor indicated that no more doubt was held there that the Marines were in the Solomons to stay.

Seek Pickers For Tomatoes

Lebanon—Although the bean picking situation is being generally taken care of, a few more pickers can be used in two of the yards, according to information from the local employment office. The crop is reported very good. However, states Cal Edwards, employment manager, there will be a big demand for tomato pickers within a week or so, and persons interested are urged to register now. The tomato crop this year is the largest in history.

The Snow Peak Logging company, it is reported, has been forced to consolidate its operations east of Lebanon because of a shortage of labor. Since there is quite a supply of logs on hand the two local operations were made into one and a surplus of 15 men under the new set-up was transferred to the Black Rock logging works near Dallas. Both are owned by the Gerlinger interests with sawmills at Dallas.

There are now 75 women being employed at the local plywood plant on three shifts. None has had to be let out because of inability to do the work, it is announced. First pay checks were paid the women Monday.

Producers to Erect Addition

Plans for construction of a dehydrating plant immediately adjoining the present cannery has been announced by the Blue Lake Producers cannery in West Salem. The addition will be erected on what is known as the Wells property at Patterson and Second streets and will require the removal of a residence, tenants being notified to vacate within a week.

Preliminary plans for the plant have been completed. Plans for dehydrating plants have been discussed here for some time in the canning industry with the curtailment of tin cans and also for the necessity of eliminating bulk in transportation of foods as much as possible, especially in war orders both for this country and for lend lease shipments. It is expected there will be large expansion in dehydrating of both fruits and vegetables as time goes on.

The Blue Lake Producers is expected to add another shift to its cannery workers tonight at 11 o'clock. It has been working two shifts of 75 workers each. The cannery handles great quantities of beans from the West Station section, as well as canning other fruits and vegetables in season.

Berry Receiving Station Is Closed

Scio, Aug. 15 — Approximately 158 tons of berries, grossing growers $26,324.30, were delivered at the receiving station during the season recently closed, according to figures revealed by Ed Rubesh, secretary of the local fruit growers' association.

First strawberries were received June 1, consisting of Marshall and Red Heart varieties, total of 218,523 pounds having been handled, bringing $17-84.84, or 8 cents per pound; red raspberries, 35,237 pounds at 12 cents, $4,228.44; black raspberries, 17,796 pounds at 9 cents, $1,601.64; boysenberries, 24,939 pounds at 7 cents, $1,745.73; youngberries, 12,329 pounds at 7 cents, $863.03; loganberries, 138 pounds at cents, $6.66; gooseberries, 6,500 pounds at 6 cents, $393.96.

Approximately 200 acres of berries are tributary to Scio, but acreage this season was somewhat smaller, and the yield was estimated by Rubesh as 50 per cent. Unfavorable weather accounted for the decline, he stated.
