

Stocks Decline On Depressing Russian News

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Depressing war reports from Moscow, stressing the dangerous position of Stalingrad, again dominated stock market trends today and leaders fell fractions to a point or more.

Up to midday certain of the key issues showed fair resistance, but in the later proceedings the retreat became general with some acceleration in volume. In a few instances losses ran to 2 or more points in the final hour. Transactions were approximately 375,000 shares.

Stocks showing sizable declines included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe and Southern Railway. Down 2 or more were Union Pacific and Electric Power and Light 6 per cent and 7 per cent preferred.

Commodities bowed under selling attributed to the proposed federal price controls.

Dow Jones preliminary closing averages: Industrial, 105.55, off 0.96; rail, 26.35, off 0.42; utility, 11.44, off 0.16, and 65 stocks, 35.37, off 0.39.

Stock sales were 357,710 shares compared with 345,150 yesterday. Curb stock sales were 65,965 against 59,415 in the previous session.

Quiet Dealing in Grain Futures

Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—News that the administration would check living costs by executive action rather than by legislation depressed grain futures in quiet dealings today.

Wheat closed with net losses of 3/4 to 1 cent a bushel; corn was off 1/4 to 3/4; oats were off 1/4 to 1/2; rye off 1/4 to 1/2, and soybeans off 1/4 to 1/2.

Anti-inflation talk discouraged speculative interest in the wheat pit, as traders saw little hope for farm-bloc opposition to price controls over farm commodities by executive action.

Professional traders gave moderate support to wheat on the fractional declines prompted by selling from houses with eastern connections. Outside interest was generally light through most of the session.

Commission houses took September corn in small lots. Local operators and some cash interest were on the selling side. The basis of the spot market remained about steady.

Government crop reports from both the spring wheat and corn belts continued favorable.

Scattered liquidation pressed rye futures down to new low ground for the season.

Hedging was practically nil in the oats pit, and the futures held relatively steady. Soybeans fluctuated in a narrow price range in dull dealings.

Roosevelt to Make 3 Major Radio Speeches

Many of the United Nations, including Russia, The Netherlands and England, Early said, are sending official delegates to the students assembly.
China was unable to do so, he said, but Madame Chiang Kai Shek, wife of the Chinese generalissimo, will designate her country's representatives.
Mr. Roosevelt revealed yesterday at his press conference that he was preparing a plan to keep down living costs by stabilizing both wages and farm prices. He said both labor and agriculture must make sacrifices, though sacrifices, and that restrictions could not be placed on one without being imposed on the other.

Labor Chiefs Called
He called the labor leaders, Philip Murray, CIO chief, and William Green, AFL president, to the White House today to go over the cost of living situation, as he already has done with farm and other groups.
Whether new legislation would be sought was problematical, as Mr. Roosevelt said time is short and spiraling of costs may get out of hand in 30 days. Administration leaders began calling absent congressmen back to Washington, however, to receive his message.

The cost of living will be only a part of the speech he will make, the president said, indicating he probably would touch on the war in general.
Stabilize Farm Prices
Speaking more plainly about wage and farm price stabilization than at any time since his seven point price control message to congress on April 27, the president told his press conference that wages could not be stabilized "without stabilizing farm prices, and farm prices could not be stabilized without stabilizing wages."

Generally speaking, he said, wages should be stabilized at essentially present levels. But he qualified this by saying common sense should be applied. He did not believe, for example, that if food prices rose another 30 per cent, as Price Administrator Leon Henderson had said they might, the wage scale should be kept where it is now. On the other hand, he added, if food costs were held down to where they are now he saw no reason why labor should get an advantage.

Pierce Balks on Farm Price Limit

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Representative Pierce (D, Ore.) told the house that while he wanted to "go along" with Secretary Wickard of the agriculture department handling the nation's farm problem he could not approve the secretary's suggestion for repeal of the 110 per cent parity law.
The representative said farm prices now were 50 per cent lower than in the first World War and farm labor 50 per cent higher. He said equality of prices of farm products and cost must be maintained. Pierce, himself a farmer, said that during the first World War he paid $4.50 a day for farm labor while today it costs him $7 a day. He said farmers could not pay the high wages paid in shipyard and airplane factories which are causing migration of farm workers to war industries.

Bull Run Dam Not In War Risk Policy

Portland, Ore., Aug. 26 (AP)—Two items are missing from Portland's new war risk insurance policy, taken out yesterday on $4,231,000 of city property.
One unprotected item is the Bull Run dam, which city engineers declared is safe from serious damage except in case of invasion, and the other is the city auditorium. The council indicated that a few bombs dropped on this "white elephant" would provoke no tears.

About 55 per cent of Cuba's sugar mills are owned by Americans.
$8.85 down, most fat cows $9.25-$10.50, strictly good western grassers $11.30-75. Bulls fairly active, especially on weighty kinds selling at $11.75-$12. Light bulls slow, vealers active at $15.50-$16; active trade on stock cattle, choice yearlings and light feeders $13.25-75.

Boston Wool
Boston, Aug. 26 (AP)—(USA) The Boston wool market was quiet due in part to many buyers being in the west attending wool sales and auctions. A large sale was reported from Colorado of original bag, bulk fine wools at a clean price range of $1.14-17. Requests for bids on government orders caused inquiries at 1 1/2 and 3/4 blood grades.

New Variety of Elberta Peaches

M. P. Adams, who operates a peach orchard on the Wallace road about a mile and a half from Salem, has a new variety of Elberta peach in commercial bearing for the first time this year. The variety has been named the "Redelberta" and was originated by the Columbia Okanagan nursery at Washington and is patented under the nursery patent laws.
Adams set out 50 of the trees about four years ago and had his first few peaches last year and was convinced that they lived up to the reputation given them by the originators. This year he expects about 50 boxes from the trees and from further sampling is more than ever convinced, he states.
The peaches are said to have the highest sugar content, are of medium size and are good to either eat ripe, cook or can. The touch of bitter noticeable in the original Elberta peach has been eliminated by the higher sugar content, he states, and sampling of the ripened peach bears out the claims made for it.

Turkey Growers Co-op Elects Officers

Roseburg, Ore., Aug. 26 (AP)—Officers of the Oregon Turkey Growers cooperative were re-elected for another year as the directors met here last night following the annual membership meeting held Tuesday afternoon. # Hundreds Working On Alderman Farm

Unionvale—The U. S. Alderman farm is the scene of all kinds of crop harvest where hundreds of local and distant people are employed. Combining sugar beet seed is in progress, also flax pulling and Blue Lake bean harvest are the major harvesting activities when more than 50 tons of Blue Lakes were gathered in one day and trucked to the Blue Lake cannery at Salem.

Radio Training Corps Planned

The war production training program and the Ninth corps signal corps are sponsors for a radio training corps which will be set up in Salem in the near future. Prospective trainees will be interviewed by Julian Burroughs Thursday afternoon at the signal corps radio school, room 314, old senior high building.
One attractive feature of the course is the progressive wage scale offered to men while in training. Men of 1-A classification are also eligible to take the course. Further information may be obtained and appointments for interviews made by calling at the war production training office in the senior high school shop building, 14th and D streets.
Old radios are needed in connection with the course and persons wishing to donate such instruments are asked to call 6737. Arrangements will be made to pick them up. No repair work can be done for private individuals.
