Unfavorable Report on Kaiser Cargo Planes

son today studied an "unfavor-able report" on the proposed plan of Henry J. Kaiser to build 70-ton cargo planes, but WPB spokesmen said Nelson "still has an open mind on the matter."

The report was drawn up by a special committee named to investigate the possibility of using Kaiser's west coast shippards to construct giant air freighters to ferry materials and men to x214 world wide war fronts.

Its members were plane buildtation ers Glenn Martin, designer of x212 the flying boat "Mars" on which Kaiser based his plans, Grover Loening, Donald Douglas and John Northrop.

A spokesman for Nelson said the WPB chief considers the unfavorable report as "just another piece of evidence," and will not reach any decision until he confers with Kaiser here next week. The report was understood to
