Radley Inspects USO Center for Enlargement

Arriving in Salem Tuesday to investigate the need for an enlargement of the facilities at the Salem USO center was H. M. Radley of the public buildings administration in Washington, D. C.

Radley made no comment on whether he would make any recommendations for increased facilities for the Salem center, but while in Salem he will confer with Robert R. Boardman, Salem USO director, on the plans for an addition to the Salem center, which were submitted some time ago to the war priorities board and the FSA.

The Salem center, which is a comparatively young center, moved into its present quarters September 3 of this year, and to date has accommodated as many as 753 men in one day.

The building is now equipped with a game room, reading and writing room, dance floor and canteen. The proposed addition would include a lounge, sleeping quarters and shower facilities for servicemen and by the inclusion of the lounge in the addition, the present dance floor could be enlarged to include that part now used for a reading and writing room.

Nazis Charge Hospital Raided

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The German high command concluded its communique today with a charge that British planes had attacked a German dressing station on the Egyptian front and with this menacing remark: "From this the German high command is compelled to draw the conclusion that the British government no longer attaches any value to maintenance of the convention of Geneva."

This apparently is a new phase of the German propaganda campaign of threats combined with allegations, unsupported by any independent evidence, of allied actions contrary to international pacts and the accepted rules of war.

The Geneva convention mentioned pledges its signatories to respect for the Red Cross emblem of medical services in the field.

Kaiser Defies Union by Using Negro Workers

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Henry J. Kaiser company shipyard at Vancouver, Wash., stood firm today behind a decision to use negro workers in skilled jobs despite protests by AFL unions.

Tom Ray, Boilermakers' Union business agent, demanded that the company limit negroes to common labor and segregate their living quarters from the white workers.

He said the Portland Metal Trades Council and J. A. Franklin, International Boilermakers' president, supported him.

In a press conference yesterday Ray assured the company of violating a labor stabilization agreement by elevating from common labor 23 of the 100 negroes recently recruited in New York. They are now in training for journeymen's jobs, Ray said.

Edgar F. Kaiser, son of Henry J. Kaiser and general manager of the shipyard, in a statement in Washington, D.C., denied violation of any agreement and said that the real issue was racial discrimination.

His company, Kaiser said, is under a federal contract requiring employers not to discriminate against any worker, regardless of race, creed or color.

Ray said the reason for his protests were two-fold:

(1) The negroes were promoted faster than several thousand journeymen's helpers who have worked more than six months without being admitted to training classes.

(2) White men were living in dormitories with negroes despite a company promise that separate quarters would be provided.

Boston Black Coffee Market

Boston, Oct. 21 (AP)—A husband's dissatisfaction with coffee that his wife said she had been "lucky to get" has led to exposure of an extensive black market in Massachusetts and a promise by OPA officials that it will be wiped out.

OPA investigators said they had discovered coffee adulterated with cereal, sales above ceiling prices and apparent violations of war production board sales quotas.

The investigation bureau, John M. Russel, OPA enforcement attorney, related last night, when a Fitchburg man protested to his wife about the quality of the morning coffee.

She had retained a sales slip showing that she paid 45 cents a pound for it. The husband thereupon turned the coffee over to the OPA, which found that it was of an inferior grade.

The investigators went to the store where it was purchased and found that the store obtained it from a peddler. The peddler obtained it from a wholesaler who got it from a roaster. From there, the investigation led to 12 other wholesalers served by the roaster and to scores of retailers served by the wholesalers, the investigators announced.

Inspectors said wholesalers were allowed by WPB order to sell but 65 per cent of the quantity sold in the corresponding quarter of last year, and that one wholesaler who sold 10,269 pounds in September, 1941, sold 42,098 pounds last month.

Members of the committee are W. C. Winslow, chairman, F. S. Lamport, J. J. Wilson, and E. A. Miller. Assisting them in the direction of the campaign are Joseph Felton, president of the Marion county Republican club, and C. A. Lewis, chairman of the county republican central committee.

Mobilization Bill For War Production

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt today said he expected within two weeks to submit to President Roosevelt proposed legislation to mobilize men and women for war production. He said bills now pending fail to meet such a program's basic requirements.

McNutt told the senate military affairs committee that a WMC management-labor policy committee is now drafting the legislation. He said the committee does not believe that a law should be adopted by congress until all indirect means available for mobilizing manpower are exhausted.

Womanpower will be required to solve the manpower problem, he added, because 5,000,000

Club Hears Mrs. Barnes

If life of a foreign correspondent is a fascinating one, as she declared, so was the story of many years in Europe as told by Mrs. Ralph Barnes to the Kiwanis club and their wives Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Barnes lived in Paris, Rome, Moscow and Germany until Barnes was placed in charge of a bureau at London. Barnes was expelled from Germany because of a story he wrote that did not appear in the New York Herald-Tribune until a year later, in which he predicted that Germany and Russia would be at war within one or two years at the latest. His prediction came true a year and two days later.

Shopping difficulties and also living conditions were interestingly portrayed by Mrs. Barnes. She described Moscow as a combination of the east and the west and a "miserable place for a person with a sensitive nose." Meals were never planned, she said, because no one knew what was obtainable until the markets were visited.

Mrs. Barnes displayed a letter to her husband signed by Stalin in 1933.

Delay Cut in Newsprint

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Announcing formation of a newspaper industry advisory committee, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board gave assurance today that the proposed cut in newsprint production would be delayed until the industry has had an opportunity to consult on effects of the curtailment.

The committee's first meeting will be held there October 27. The proposed 10 per cent reduction in paper output was high on the agenda, along with the American Newspaper Publishers' association's own plan to conserve newsprint, transportation and labor.

The industry plan, outlined in the ANPA bulletin in April, proposed a decrease in the number of editions, elimination of "returns" and sample copies, and other technical steps to save scarce materials.

Nelson, pointing out that wartime scarcities have brought newspapers face to face with "a number of operating problems," declared: "It is felt in the WPB that all of these problems should be discussed with representatives of the industry and all possible solutions explored."

Also scheduled for consideration are the manpower shortage developing in the industry, the effect of curtailed supplies of copper, zinc, steel stitching wire, and vital chemicals, as well as metal salvage problems.

100 Girls Wanted For Soldiers' Dance

Unless several more Junior Hostess league members sign up at the Hostess headquarters for dances at Camp Adair Friday night several soldiers will be without dancing partners that evening. The special service officer from the post has asked the Salem unit to provide one hundred girls to the dance but to date only 72 Junior Hostesses have indicated their intention of attending the dances at the post.

At the meeting of the Hostess league executive committee held at the headquarters last night, the membership of the Junior Hostess league was increased by 23 when the group voted approval of that many candidates for membership in the organization.

Prize Awards For Collection Of Metal Scrap

P. L. Jackson, Portland, editor and publisher of the Oregon Journal, was named chairman of the prize awards committee in the newspaper scrap metals drive today, Claude I. Sersanos, chairman of the state salvage committee, announced.

Other members of the committee are Judge Carl W. Chambers, president of the association of Oregon counties; Circuit Judge Martin W. Hawkins, Portland; President Donald M. Erb of the University of Oregon; and W. J. Schoenfeld, dean of the school of agriculture, Oregon State college.

Weight certificates must be turned in by midnight Saturday so that the committee may determine the prize winners.

Prize awards are: $1,000 in bonds to the county collecting the greatest per capita poundage in any three weeks between September 28 and October 24, the prize to be given to any charity designated by the salvage committee of the winning county.

$500 in bonds to the second-ranking county, this prize also to go to charity.

$300 in bonds to the business firm giving or selling the largest amount of scrap metal.

$150 in bonds to the person giving or selling largest amount of scrap metal.

$50 in bonds or stamps to the unit of a boys' or girls' organization turning in the largest amount of scrap metal.

Recess Taken By Congress

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Having disposed of five major pieces of war legislation with a speed reminiscent of the early days after Pearl Harbor, the house went into informal recess today and many members started for home to put their political houses in order.

"This is an election year," Majority Leader McCormack (D., Mass.), told the house, "and the members on both sides of the aisle (democrats and republicans) ought to be given an opportunity to present their views to their people and do whatever may be necessary in connection with their political campaigns."

Speaker Rayburn (D., Tex.), told newspapermen no controversial legislation would be taken up without due notice to the absent members. It was expected the house would hold at least two routine sessions weekly until after the Nov. 3 elections unless an emergency arises.

In five weeks the house has passed anti-inflation legislation, the 18-10 year draft, the new tax bill, a $15,000,000,000 wartime appropriation and spending authorization bill, and a nationwide residential and commercial rent control measure.

2 Eugene Men Die In Santiam Crash

Eugene, Oct. 21 (AP)—Clifford L. Lyons, Eugene, and Ray Leeman Johnson, Checkasha, Okla., were killed Tuesday morning when their gravel dump truck left the Santiam highway about a mile east of the Salem-Albany junction, the Lane county coroner reported today.

The bodies of the two men were brought to Eugene after being discovered by the state police highway patrol. The two men, employees of the Concrete Construction company of Portland, were on their way to a job at Redmond when the accident occurred.
