Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee are entertaining as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Orth and their two sons, Raymond and Ronald Orth, of Olympia, Wash.

Willamette University Campus—Members of Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity entertained Paul Robeson at an 11 o'clock dinner at the chapter house following the concert by the famous American negro performer at the Salem high school Thursday evening. Also honored were William Schatzkammer, talented 24-year-old pianist appearing on the Community Concert series program with Mr. Robeson and Lawrence Brown, Mr. Robeson's accompanist.

Decorations at the informal affair were variegated carnations in shades of pink and yellow and large bouquets of bright spring daffodils.

Although he preferred not to address the college fraternal group formally, Mr. Robeson answered the many questions of the Kappa men and discussed his college days.

Also entertaining a special guest during this week were members of Alpha Phi Alpha sorority, who honored Miss Olive M. Dahl, dean of women, at dinner in the chapter house Wednesday. Dean Dahl talked informally with the pledges and members at the regular house meeting following dinner.

ALWAYS a favorite with sports loving Oregonians, the Oregon high school basketball tournament, which is being played in the Willamette university gymnasium this week-end, boasts of fewer out of town folk than in previous years. Travel difficulties and the added stress of war times has taken its toll of out-of-town visitors.

A large group of Salemites is attending the games, however, and bleachers have remained full throughout the series. Among the coaches' wives attending with their husbands are Mrs. Wayne Scott of Klamath Falls, Mrs. Ted Sarpola of Baker, Mrs. Walter Palmberg of Astoria and Mrs. Walter Commons of Powers.

Among those coming to the capital for the finals, which will be played this evening are Bishop and Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coleman of Corvallis.

Miss Kathleen Broer was among a group of students at the Juilliard Graduate school in New York, who gave a recital Tuesday, March 2, at the school.

"Sound-Off," the benefit army production, with a cast of one hundred soldiers from Fort Lewis and orchestra composed of twenty pieces, which is being presented at the Portland Civic auditorium this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening with proceeds from the event to be used in promoting a Pacific Northwest recreation and sports program, will attract a number of the capital city folk.

The cast for the production, which was so popular that it played 11 performances to capacity house in Seattle, includes a number of men with previous stage and motion picture experience. The author of the musical revue is Corporal Wally Chulock, who is also the featured performer. Dance sequins were written and directed by Private Lew Harter and Sergeant Sam Woodgate is co-composer of the song hits and arranged the entire musical score for the show.

In the production an accomplished concert violinist is brought to the audience in the person of Sergeant Harry Shub, who has toured France, Belgium and parts of the United States with the Hadley trio. The singing star of the picture, Sergeant Stan Richards, was at one time featured entertainer at the Edgewater beach hotel in Chicago and made several radio appearances as well as being featured at night clubs. Also included in the cast will be several of the soldiers who were formerly stationed in the Salem area.

Special guest at the Sunday matinee performance will be Mrs. Clifton Mudd of the state recreation committee, who also has had a prominent part in planning the recreation program for servicemen in Salem.

Etokta Woman's club will meet Tuesday at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Elmer M. McKee, 935 Shipping street. Sharing hostess honors with Mrs. McKee will be Mrs. Emil Carlson, Mrs. W. K. Grier and Miss Gertrude Savage. "Keep Oregon Green" will form the topic for the afternoon, and will be presented by Mrs. Mason Bishop.

Louis Koon of Whittier, California, arrived in the capital Thursday to visit as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Lorna Koon, and his sister, Miss Ina Koon.

Mrs. Asa Lewelling, the former Margaret Ross, whose marriage was an event of March 10, in Marfa, Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Custer Ross of Salem and Lieutenant Lewelling is the son of Judge and Mrs. L. G. Lewelling of Albany. The vows were exchanged Wednesday afternoon, following the graduation ceremony in which Lieutenant Lewelling received his wings and commission.—(Jessen-Miller).

WILLAMETTE University Campus—Compositions to be presented in the 35th annual Freshman Glee were this week selected by all four classes and singing and marching practices began in earnest in preparation for the traditional event now but a week away.

"Bearcat Blues" is the title of the song written by Miss Betty Sackett and Miss Jean Jackson, which was chosen by the members of the senior class as their bid for first place cardinal and gold banner. Ray Short is the composer of both the words and music of "What We Found at WU," the junior selection. Miss Louise Wrisley and Marion Crews combined their creative efforts in producing the sophomore song, "The Gremlin Hop." The words were written by Bill Byrd. "Keyboard Cogitation" will be the title of the freshman presentation, with words by Miss Gloria Wumach and music by Miss Faith Idso.

The complete list of judges for the Saturday night performance was announced this week by the members of the Glee general committee. Ranking the marching formations according to their merit will be Miss Gale Currey, of the Willamette faculty, William Phillips and Fred Wolf. Judges for the quality of music will be Prof. T. S. Roberts, instructor in organ at the university, Miss Gretchen Kreamer and Prof. Lewis Pankaskie, instructor in instrumental music. Words will be judged by Miss Ada Ross, Hugh Morrow, city librarian, and Dr. E. S. Oliver of the English department.

As in past years, the women will be attired in white dresses and the men in black or dark suits. Formations will be presented by the use of the contrasting colors. In accordance with tradition, the women of each class will wear identical corsages of the class' choosing.

Interest is centering in Portland during the coming week, where members of the state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution will gather for their annual meeting. Chapters in district 2 of the state will be hostesses for the meeting, and the Chemeketa chapter will serve as one of the hostess chapters.

The meetings will be held at the Multnomah hotel, March 16 and 17, and Tuesday activities will feature a memorial hour and the state board meeting. Wednesday will be the assembly call in the grand ball room of the hotel at 8 o'clock, which will be an all-day session. Luncheon will be served at the hotel. Presiding at the meeting will be Mrs. William Horsfall, state regent of Marshfield.

Delegates from the Salem chapter include Mrs. David Wright, regent, Miss Harriett Fullenwider, Mrs. Oscar Hayter, Mrs. I. M. Shannep, Mrs. Carey F. Martin, Mrs. W. E. Hanson, Mrs. H. J. Ostlund, Mrs. H. S. Pinkerton, Mrs. J. D. Fontaine and Mrs. E. B. Johnston. Alternates for the Salem delegation are Mrs. C. A. Ratcliff, Mrs. R. D. Paris, Mrs. Paul Barden, Mrs. William Thielson, Mrs. Roy Mills, Mrs. Ivan Putnam, Mrs. Karl Steiwer, Mrs. M. A. Pekar, Mrs. John Harbison and Mrs. M. J. Lizburg. President of district No. 2 is Mrs. E. H. Barendreck of Carlton and Mrs. W. E. Hanson is vice-president.

Miss Catherine Thomas is spending the week-end in Corvallis.

Miss Pat Fish, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fish, who Monday was named the sweetheart of Chemeketa chapter of DeMolay. She will be honored March 26, the day when members of DeMolay take over the city administrative offices for the day. She will be honored with a tea on that occasion.—(Jessen-Miller).

Sweetheart of the DeMolays is Miss Pat Fish, sparkling daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fish, who this year is a senior at Salem high school. The honor to Miss Fish was revealed earlier in the week.

Miss Fish has received several signal honors during her years in high school which include queen of last year's civic carnival and the fact that she was elected to become a member of the National Honor society. She is a member of Chadwick assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, where she has held several offices.

A tea to be given March 26 by members of Chemeketa chapter of DeMolay will honor Miss Fish.

Pressure of the times postponed the February meeting of the Central Willamette Valley association of Phi Beta Kappa, until Monday evening, March 15, when Mrs. J. H. Carlin will be hostess to the group at the Carlin home in North Summer street. Sharing hostess honors with Mrs. Carlin will be Mrs. J. M. Devers, Sr.

One of the items of discussion at the meeting will be the honor award, given by the Phi Beta Kappa each year in recognition of scholarship. The president of the association, Miss Jeannette Roberts, has appointed a committee to report recommendations for such recognition. The committee includes Mrs. J. M. Devers, Sr., Dr. Tom H. Tuttle of Linfield college, and Mrs. J. E. Black of the Oregon College of Education.

With a thought to the challenging problems of the present and future status of education, a symposium has been planned for the evening, which will have as its main topic, "Tendencies in Education as Affected by War."

The first sub-topic is "College Curriculum," and the group includes, the dilemma, Mrs. J. E. Black of the Oregon College of Education; pro liberal arts, Mrs. J. O. Burcham; con liberal arts, Dr. Chester F. Luther; and policies and practices by Dr. G. Herbert Smith.

Secondary school curriculum, the second sub-topic, will have as its leader Mrs. C. A. Ratcliff. A discussion by the group will be followed by a summary by Professor Harry L. Dillin of Linfield college.

Husbands and wives of the members have been invited to attend, since the present educational tendencies are of vital concern to everyone.

Plans for the "birthday party" Monday evening, March 15, an annual affair given for the Capital post of the American Legion by the auxiliary, are completed, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Stanley Krueger, auxiliary president.

The business meeting will convene at 8 o'clock, following which the Capital post will join the women at the Salem Woman's clubhouse for a social hour. Entertainment consisting of talent from Camp Adair has been arranged by Mrs. Dick Meyer.

Refreshments are in charge of the community service committee and the communications committee, headed by Mrs. W. H. Baillie and Mrs. Ella Voves.

Mrs. K. H. Pickens will entertain members of the executive board of the Women of Rotary at an all-day meeting Monday. The group will sew on draperies for a sun room in the hospital at Camp Adair. A no-host luncheon will be served at noon.

Miss Lois Lutz of Corvallis spent Wednesday and Thursday in the capital as a guest of Miss Frances Clinton.

Dancing to the music of an army orchestra at the USO center this evening between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock will be the men in uniform and Salem Junior Hostess league members.

This afternoon the servicemen were extended invitations to be dinner guests in a number of Salem homes by members of the home hospitality committee, who were on duty at the center between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock.

Tomorrow's activities are many and varied with the serving of breakfast to the men in the services at 9 o'clock in the morning, opening the day's program. Dancing to the music of a juke box is the diversion planned from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon and this will be followed by a musical program at 5:15 o'clock. Final event scheduled for the day is the singfest at 8:30 o'clock.

Informal dancing in the ballroom will be dispensed with Monday night but informal games have been planned for the evening.

Servicemen's sewing will be done for them Tuesday by the American War Mothers, who are meeting at the center from 10 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Two events are scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock Tuesday night: The Discussion club will hold its meeting at this time and enlisted men and their wives will be entertained at an informal party in the ballroom. Nine o'clock is singfest time.

Small games activities and informal dancing will entertain the men in uniform, and Junior Hostesses who visit the center Wednesday night, and Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock Stamp club members will meet at the center, while others dance to the music of the juke box in the ballroom.

Many of the Junior Hostess league members will be guests at informal dances at Camp Adair Friday night, but for those remaining in the city and servicemen visiting the center an informal evening of dancing and games has been planned.

The regular Saturday night dance will bring the week's activities to a close.

Announcement is being made by Miss Hattie Bratzel, president of Salem Junior Woman's club, of the appointment of Mrs. L. M. Falkenhagen as assistant director of publicity for the club. Mrs. Falkenhagen, who is assistant to Mrs. Thorne Hammond, publicity director, is chairman of the public welfare department of the club, and has been a member since 1941. She is a graduate of Reed college in chemistry, and taught at Canby high school for two years. Her former home is Oakland, California, and she was Miss Jane Willson prior to her marriage. Mr. Falkenhagen is supervisor of procedures and research for the Unemployment Compensation commission.

The Marine Corps league auxiliary met Thursday evening in the "Santiam" room of the Salem Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Fred S. McCall presided at the meeting.

At the committee of awards meeting of the Camp Fire Girls, which was held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, members of the Tawanka group all passed their ranks. Passing the woodgathering's rank were Barbara Owens, Elizabeth Apple, Eunice Miller and Barbara Zumwalt. Those who passed the fire-maker's rank were Virginia Beall, Patricia Ullman, Jodel Parker and Donna Ahall.

The Tawanka group met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. A. E. Ullman, Thursday afternoon, and it was announced that all of the girls had completed their ceremonial gowns.
