

Fire Patrol Heads Chosen

Dallas—Directors and officers for the coming year were elected at the annual membership meeting of the Polk County Fire Patrol association held Tuesday in the circuit court room of the county courthouse. Directors re-elected included C. L. Starr, Portland; William Swindells, Portland and W. V. Fuller, Dallas. Swindells, no longer a resident of Polk county, resigned in favor of Kendall Wood of Dallas, who was elected as a new director. Other new directors elected were C. H. Greenwood of Dallas, logging company and Curtis J. Hines of Grand Ronde, superintendent of Polk Operating company.

Officers named were C. L. Starr, president; Charles H. Greenwood, vice-president; Hugh H. Walker, district warden and Eugene Hayter, secretary-treasurer. All held office last year with the exception of vice-president, Greenwood.

Financial reports for 1942 were read, approved and filed. The budget for the current year, presented by the budget committee, was accepted after a few minor changes were approved.

Visitors at the meeting included Jap Russell of the state board of forestry; John R. Woods, secretary of Oregon Forest Fire association; John Montgomery of the U. S. forest service; William M. Kelly of the Western Logging company; Mr. Tilly of the Willamette Valley Nursery; Mrs. E. Slack, district inspector; Hubert Staples, Pope Talbot, forester and N. O. Nicolson of the Oregon, California railroad administration.
