Scio

Mrs. Bess Phillippi was home from a week-end visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Haller, and two sons, of Oak Grove, near Portland. Haller is in the south in army service.

M. D. Zander and family plan to move from Scio at no distant date to a more central point for his contemplated new work in accountancy, for which he is under instruction at Salem.

James Summers recently resumed armed service in the navy, following his marriage in Scio to Miss Bette June Withers, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. A. Withers, at the bride's home. The latter will remain at Scio for the present.

Scio Garden club members' boy friends (husbands mostly) responded Monday afternoon to invitation of their girls friends (wives mostly) to assist in weeding, hoeing and otherwise beautifying the club's plot to ground adjoining the bank on the north.

Home Canning School Opening

Silverton—Leonard Hudson of the school faculty, head of the agricultural department, announces the Silverton school cannery will begin operations by June 16 or as soon after that as possible with the canning of peas and fruits to come first on the lists.

Patrons desiring the advantage of the cannery must contact the management by phone Red 161, or 2092 for appointments.

Mrs. Leonard Hudson will serve as home economic instructor this season in place of Mrs. Charles Davis. If the cannery is open six days a week, a retort operator will have to be hired. In this position during the past seasons has been E. Nelson, an experienced cannery man, who is with the local Royal cannery this year.

The boiler will be heated by gas this season, doing away with one laborer. Three power driven sealers and one power driven pea huller are added to the equipment. Five cookers, four large ones and one small, are added, compared to one large and two small cookers of the past year. Capacity output is between 300 and 500 cans an hour, varying with the product. The management hopes to be able to can as much fruit as the patron desires, an improvement over last year's output.

Work has been in progress in repairing and placing new machinery and equipment since April.

The cannery is in the former Silverton Creamery building in North Water street. Other headquarters will be arranged for the convenience of donors early in the week. Silverton's share is set at $300,000.

than 60 present for the unique program fashioned after the Major Bowes radio technique, when children standing back of banners in the sanctuary to represent many of the leading nations, gave a resume of the advancement of Christianity for self denial.

It was of a very appropriate nature because of the D-day prayers for all allied service-men.

Next Sunday, Father's day will be observed at morning and evening services and a cordial invitation to the public to attend is extended.

Mother's Club Will Be Formed

Dallas—To complete the organization of a mothers' club, which will have as its purpose the assisting with the Dallas elementary school hot lunch project, a meeting of mothers is being called for Thursday at 2 o'clock in the school lunchroom, according to Mrs. Ivan Warner, president of the Dallas Woman's club, who is serving as temporary chairman.

At the meeting the group will report the names of any women who might be qualified and willing to help with buying for summer canning and take turns supervising the canning groups. The women will also consider a possible staff of cooks, buyers and helpers for the coming school year.

An earlier call sent to all elementary school mothers met with enthusiastic response, Mrs. Warner stated. A report of the school lunch project for the past school year showed that the project is in good shape financially, but lacking in buyers and supervisors for the canning of 2,000 quarts of food necessary. Such quantity canning keeps the cost of the lunch within reach of the average child and makes the project possible under the rationing system, Mrs. Warner explained.

Besides the two regular semesters a third semester will be held consisting of an accelerated course during the summer months. The summer session will comprise college freshman classes on up.

After a short recess seminarians will return June 19 for a semester's work to be completed by September 2. During the summer session class periods will be a full 60 minutes and classes will be held six days a week. This session will be followed by another short recess, before the regular fall classes begin.

When asked concerning the accelerated course, the Rev. Damian Jentes, OSB, seminary rector, said, "It is a temporary measure, of course; but we do not believe in it because the training of young men for the priesthood is such that it cannot be hurried."
