

Marion County War Bond Sales Now Over $600,000 Mark

The momentum of effort behind the fifth war bond campaign is gathering weight as the drive is well along in its second week. As a result Marion county's headquarters reported that total purchases were well over the $600,000 mark with the expectation that three quarters of a million worth of Uncle Sam's best securities would be in the hands of individuals and firms by the end of the week.

This campaign is being waged on a different basis than those which preceded in that few spectacular stunts are to be employed as an inducement for the purchase of bonds. One exception to this program is the giving away of a late-model automobile which was parked on the Court street side of bond headquarters Wednesday. The machine will find an owner next July 4 when the bond committee will cooperate with the American Legion in the staging of an old fashioned celebration.

The J. C. Penney company has put up 240 bonds as prizes to be awarded employees who make the best records in the disposal of bonds during the current drive. At the present time the Salem store is leading the entire organization. During the preceding campaign five employees of the Salem store placed on the prize list with Mrs. Sally Harlan topping all salesmen for the 1600 units.

Salem merchants were asked to devote a portion of their window space to displays bearing on the war bond campaign in a letter sent out by Loyal Warner, chairman of the bond committee for the Salem Retail Merchants association. Announcement was made that the Salem units of the Pacific Fruit and Produce company and Woolworths have made substantial purchases during the week.

Columbia Metals corporation employees purchased a total of $7500 in bonds Tuesday afternoon when the mobile bank visited the project. A similar rally is to be held Friday when employees of the Northern Construction company will be asked to make their purchases. It is expected the two groups will fill their quota late in the week.

Frank B. Bennett, superintendent of Salem schools, will give an inspirational address during Wednesday night's premiere at the Grand theater of the motion picture "Up In Arms." Margaret Becker and Velma Swart, two of the contestants in the effort to find a "Miss Oregon" vocalist, will be presented. The Ladd and Bush trio will sing during the performance.

The Salem Eagles lodge rally resulted in the sale of $10,250 worth of bonds to members of the organization Tuesday night. Salem concerns which are making progress in subscribing their quotas are Oregon Pulp and Paper, Reid Murdoch, California Packing corporation, Kay Woolen Mills, Sick's Brewery and employees of the water commission.

Mrs. Charles Ratcliff and Mrs. Chester Anderson of the Friendly Neighbors Garden club are responsible for the arrangement of flowers at bond headquarters during a portion of the week.

Throughout the nation sales were approaching the billion dollar mark. Individual purchases are being credited to the drive so far.
