

Weddle Quits Justice Post

Dallas—William A. Wiest, Independence attorney, filed with the county clerk Tuesday a petition as an independent candidate for the office of justice of the peace of the Independence district. The six-year term office was thrown open for the fall election by the resignation this month of E. A. Weddle. Wiest was appointed to fill the vacant post by Governor Earl Snell, September 9. No other candidates have filed for the office.

Wiest was a candidate for district attorney on the republican ticket last spring.

No petitions for candidacy for offices in the city election had been filed yet Wednesday afternoon with Auditor Blackley, despite the nearness of the Friday deadline date. Open to election are positions of mayor, auditor and police judge, councilman-at-large and four councilmen, one for each of the city's four wards. It is understood that all present office holders will file petitions, with the possible exception of Mayor Frank E. Kersey, who has not yet stated his intentions. Competition is not anticipated for any of the offices.

Grade Pupils Using Churches

Lebanon—Plans are being made this week here for the delayed opening of school next Monday morning. High school will open with a general assembly at 9 a. m. and the grade schools will also open at the same hour.

As a special announcement to grade school children in the north part of town, Supt. James King stated that since the new grade school building will not be ready to occupy until some time after the school year, arrangements have been made to use the basements of five churches for all children living north of Rose street.

The entire sixth grade, as well as all students living south of Rose street, will attend Queen Anne school.

Arrangements made through the cooperation of the churches follows:

The first grade children will attend school in the Assembly of God church north of the high school campus. The second grade will meet in St. Edwards Catholic school at Main and Academy streets. The third grade will hold classes in the First Presbyterian church, at Second and Ash; the fourth grade in the First Methodist church, Park and Vine streets, and the fifth grade in the First Christian church at Park and Grant streets.

Buses will run on schedule on the opening day, said King. The faculty for the Lebanon schools this year is as follows:

Elementary school: Ernest P. Caldwell, principal; Matilda Pass, Mrs. Betty Curtis, Florence Denham, Mrs. Dorothy Joell, Mrs. Clara Lee Hartman, Mrs. Grace McCracken, Virginia Hall, Mrs. Christine Young, Mrs. Martha Oliver, Mrs. K. McCray, Mrs. Florence Lane, Mrs. Marjorie Hinder, Mrs. Louise Gentry, Mrs. Thelma Jones and Mrs. W. Young.

High school: A. Burleigh Cash, principal; Mrs. Ellen Wilshire, Mrs. Christine Smith, Ruth Brown, Frank L. France, Emily France, Dorothy Bell, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. Viola Paller, Mrs. Thelma Hinder, Mrs. Bert Brenner, Velma Alexander, Mrs. Edith Smith, Lawrence Park, Mrs. Harry Miller, Howard Hickey, Jean Adair Clark, Mrs. Grace Burns, Mrs. Ruth Hamman, Julia Barnum, Mrs. Thelma Stewart and Mrs. Gladys Gehlert.

Further Enrollments Expected at Albany

Albany—Enrollment of pupils in the Albany public schools increased by 22 Tuesday, reaching a total of 1634 for the school year. It was reported at the office of City School Superintendent R. E. McCormack. This still further augmented the record set by Monday's first day enrollment of 1612. Further registrations are expected before the end of the week.

Transient Given Fine

Dallas—Otto Parkerson, transient, was fined $10 in municipal court Tuesday on a drunk charge. Parkerson was arrested on Main street by Police Chief Kitzmiller Monday night.

Salem is Host FU Convention

Liberty—Liberty local met at the hall Tuesday September 19. New members accepted were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Withers.

Jaqueline VanLoh told of her experiences at the junior camp and also gave an accordion solo. Group singing was led by Mrs. Mason Bishop after which Jimmie Ellison and Jimmie Adams gave a recitation.

Mrs. Roy Farrand, reporting for the educational committee, announced a state committee meeting at the state office October 17 and 18.

Lewis Judson, speaking for the legislative committee, read excerpts from "The Little Townsend bill," and Charles Wetterman, one of the sponsors, explained the bill and answered questions. The Liberty local passed a motion going on record as endorsing the bill and urging all voters to read it before making a decision.

The school bill was the next in order and after Judson reported on it, a general discussion followed. Mrs. A. W. Lovick explained the need of additional revenue for the schools and Wendell Barnett, county president, explained the bill.

It was announced that Marion County Farmers Union will sponsor a radio program Monday evening, September 25, at 6:15 p. m. over KOAC and John Dasch, president of Liberty local, will be a speaker.

Plans were made for the county convention at Salem October 7, an all-day meeting and Liberty local is one of the hosts.

Wendell Barnett gave a brief talk on "Cooperation, the Future of the World."

The refreshment committee for October will be Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schreve, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stagg, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stacey, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stapleton, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strode, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Trout.

Sponsoring Party Includes Mrs. Sypher

Silverton—Mrs. Brad Sypher was a member of the sponsoring party of the Landing Craft Support LCS which was launched Sunday noon at Portland. Mrs. Sypher's sister-in-law, Mrs. Merlyn Sypher, Portland, was the sponsor. Mrs. Brad Sypher is employed at the city water office at Silverton while her husband is with the armed forces in Africa.

Schools Open At Mill City

Mill City—Mill City public schools will open next Monday, September 25. All grade school and high school teachers have been secured, including the part-time teacher for the high school. Thirteen teachers have been employed by the district, of which four are new this year. New teachers for the grade school include Mrs. Catherine Lyons of Lyons, and Mrs. Katie Skillings of Fox Valley. New high school teachers include Miss Marjorie Schroeder of Mill City and Miss Burroughs of Corvallis.

The complete list of teachers and their assignments includes: Mrs. Mabel Neidham, principal of the grade school, and second grade teacher; Mrs. Catherine Lyons, first grade teacher; Miss Susan Grinstead, third grade; Miss Alice Smith, fourth grade; Mrs. Skillings, fifth grade; Mrs. Martin Jensen, sixth grade; Mrs. Vera Biero, seventh grade; and Mrs. Wilson Stevens, eighth grade. High school teachers are Frank Smith, principal and teacher of science and mathematics; Mrs. Vernon Todd, social science and English; Miss Marjorie Schroeder, home economics and physical education; Miss Burroughs, English and commercial studies; and Mrs. Harry Mason, part-time teacher for algebra and English.

Members of the school board include Don Sheyter, chairman; Carl Kelly and Verne Clark. Mrs. W. W. Allen is clerk.

Mrs. Wilson Stevens will drive the school bus again this year, which picks up quite a number of students in surrounding districts.

Polk Receives War Food Aide

Dallas—Polk county has been assigned a new war food assistant by the Oregon State college, one of the sponsors, to replace Miss Maxine Roberts, who resigned recently on account of ill health. Miss Helen Taylor of Bozeman, Mont., has been secured to fill the position in this county, according to W. C. Leth, Polk county agent.

Miss Taylor is a graduate of Montana State college and she has taken graduate work at Oregon State college. Prior to coming to Oregon she taught home economics in Montana in the Havre and Miles City high schools. Miss Taylor has a sister, Miss Janet Taylor, working in this state. She is the home demonstration agent in Clackamas county.

Miss Taylor has had considerable experience working with farm people and is especially well qualified for the work to be done in this county, according to Mr. Leth. She has also had 4-H club experience as a 4-H club member, which will greatly help her, as she will spend considerable portion of her time working with 4-H club members in this county who are enrolled in food projects.

Mondays will be maintained as office days by Miss Taylor, which is the same plan followed by the county agent's office. People wishing assistance or to consult with Miss Taylor may contact her on Mondays in her office in the Dallas city hall adjoining the farm labor office.

Horse Tosses Youth

Dallas—Eddie Gilmore, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilmore, suffered a fractured arm when he fell from a horse here Wednesday. He was taken to Bartlett's hospital.

Falls City

North Howell Planning Fair

North Howell—A small number attended the September Grange meeting. Breeds of chickens and the future of the industry were discussed. At the October meeting the measures to be voted at the coming election will be discussed.

A hot water tank is to be purchased and the youth committee will install.

The fair voted for this fall will be under the H. E. club direction and all plans will be made at the October 4 meeting.

Blue Cross hospital benefits were discussed. Lecturer Esson had a varied program with readings by Daisy Bump, Helen Wiesner, Florence Espe, Josie Stevens, Lola Esson, W. Stevens, also questions and answers and talks by other members.

The annual watermelon feed was held. The melons were furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bump.

Early Bethel Pupils Will Hold Reunion

Bethel—A reunion of early pupils of Bethel school is being planned for Sunday, Sept. 24. All pupils who attended the school prior to 1908 are invited to attend, with their families. Basket lunch will be served at 1 o'clock in the dining room of the school. Mrs. James Lauderback (Lena Matten) and Mrs. Arthur Schulz (Remoh Evans) will be in charge. It is believed that the prior-to-1908 group will fill the school to capacity.

Dessert Luncheon Served Guild Group

Woodburn—Mrs. Kenneth McGrath entertained the social club of St. Mary's Episcopal church at a dessert luncheon Monday evening at her home in East Cleveland street. Covers were placed for 24. Mrs. McGrath was assisted in serving by her daughters, Merry and Jane. The first fall meeting of St. Mary's Guild will be held next Tuesday afternoon, September 26 at the home of Mrs. S. R. Kallak in Third street.

Stayton School Year Now Open

Stayton—Classes at both parochial and public schools at Stayton convened Tuesday. At St. Mary's school Sister Mary Theresa is acting principal and teaching the fifth and sixth grades; Sister Thecia, primary; Sister Anthony, third and fourth and Sister Victoria the seventh and eighth grades. Sister Camillus will have charge of music.

Sister Mary Theresa and Sister Victoria were in Portland last year, and Sister Anthony is from Hillsboro.

In the public schools Mrs. Mary Ayres is principal and teacher of the eighth grade; Katherine Smith, first and second; Ona Weitzel, second and third; Mrs. Ruby Rawlings, fourth and fifth; Mrs. P. Lafky, fifth and sixth; Evelyn Torvend, seventh, music and art.

Under George W. Ayres as superintendent, the high school faculty members are Mrs. Nora Nelson, home economics and social science; M. Van Driesche, general science, algebra and physical education; Mrs. Bertha McDaniel, mathematics, science; Mrs. Lida Som, social science, English and girls' physical education; Mrs. Mildred Poole, commercial.

Park Splash Pool Closed for Season

Dallas—With the dam at the city park scheduled for removal this week, swimming in the pool has been discontinued for the year. J. R. Allgood, park committee chairman, reported at the Monday night meeting of the city council. Other park facilities will remain open to the public as long as the weather is favorable, he said.

Attendance at the park during the summer was considerably above war-time normal, with many groups of out-of-town as well as Dallasites regularly making use of picnic facilities. Gospel meetings have been conducted each Sunday afternoon with special speakers and music furnished under the auspices of the Dallas Ministerial association.

Ferrells Quit Hotel

Mill City—Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrell, who have been managing the Mill City hotel, owned by Louis Rada, moved to Mapleton where Ferrell is working in the mill there. New managers for the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Flatman, who have been in charge for a week or more.

The Aurora bank building, used as the post office, has been sold to A. Lettenmier.
