Snell Discusses Vets' Problems

Post-war problems pertaining to the returning veteran and the welfare of the state were discussed by Governor Earl Snell at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday noon. Paramount obligation of these is to win the war at the earliest possible moment.

Federal policies must be taken into consideration, the governor said, and there is a definite place for federal-state cooperation which should favor free enterprise and personal initiative. Whatever remains to be done must point towards a lasting peace throughout the world through political and economic force and if necessary, military might. America is charged with this responsibility, he said.

Governor Snell said there must be a unified program of service ready for the ex-service-man and towards this means he called a meeting of the heads of all veterans' organizations in Portland to create a central agency to provide information. There were 35 of these representatives at the meeting with an executive committee of seven to provide a liaison committee, both meeting monthly.

Authority for this program was granted by the last legislature which set up the necessary machinery along the line of the GI bill of rights. The post war readjustment and rehabilitation committee has outlined a total of $400,000,000 in projects, some of which are tentative only, but so far there is cash on hand of $60,000,000 for this purpose, Governor Snell said. Together with funds for unemployment compensation the total amount available is $120,000,000.

Layton Pleads For Clemency

Richard Harry Layton, 39, former Monmouth police officer sentenced to die December 8, has appealed to Governor Earl Snell for commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment, the governor said today.

The governor did not indicate what action he would take, although it has been his policy not to commute sentences unless a miscarriage of justice is proved.

Layton was convicted in Polk county circuit court of the rape-slitting of Ruth Hildebrand, 17, Dallas, and he was sentenced to die in the prison's gas chamber. The crime occurred June 8, 1943, on a Willamette river bank 15 miles south of Salem, and her battered nude body was found floating in the river 12 days later.

Layton had confessed, but in his appeal to the state supreme court, he contended that police tortured him to obtain the confession. The supreme court unanimously upheld the conviction, and the United States supreme court refused to review the case.

"He eats like a horse and sleeps like a log," Halley said. "The only time he gets fidgety is when his meals don't arrive on time."

Time Against Joe, Declares Dempsey

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Cmdr. Jack Dempsey of the coast guard, former world's heavyweight champion, believes the deadliest challenger Sgt. Joe Louis will have to face after the war is Father Time.

Dempsey, here for a buy-a-bond program, said that time is always the toughest opponent when a champion lays off and two more years in the army for the brown bomber would leave him far off the championship form that is needed in the heavyweight ranks.

"Army life doesn't help a fighter," Dempsey said. "Louis no doubt will return to the ring after the war, but if he has to wait two or more years a second or third-rater may be able to stop him."

Army Bans Fag Sales in Britain

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—The halting of cigarette sales at all U. S. army post exchanges in England except at air force combat stations led the army newspaper Stars and Stripes today to demand an answer from Washington "to the question which is in the mind of every GI smoker—where are the cigarettes?"

The army said a critical shortage and priorities for combat forces on the continent caused the ban on sales. Hospital patients and combat personnel will still be able to smoke their favorite brands from the states. British cigarettes cost about 30 cents for a package of 20. British Tommies are rationed 45 English cigarettes a week.

In Paris supreme headquarters promised a report on the cigarette situation in the French capital and many other rear areas, where U. S. soldiers were also told they could get no cigarettes.

American cigarettes were selling on the Paris black market at $4 per package.

(The Tokyo radio, in a broadcast recorded by CBS, said it was virtually impossible to find a package of popular-brand cigarettes anywhere in the United States, and cited this as an indication that collapse on the U. S. home front was near.)

Wine Retailers Have New Problem

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Oregon win retailers may be prevented by a federal law from selling their stocks of dessert wines to wholesalers for resale to the Oregon liquor control commission.

Retailers, under their federal tax stamp, are limited to the sale of no more than five gallons at a time. Dealers here have entered a plea at Washington for relaxation of the regulation in order to clear their shelves of fortified wines before the Burke bill takes effect December 7.

The bill limits sale of that type of wine to state liquor stores.

Nelson Given Cabinet Rank

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson has been designated "personal representative" of President Roosevelt, with rank at the cabinet level, and will occupy offices in the White House.

The appointment was confirmed by letter shortly before Nelson, former WPB chairman, left this country on his second mission to Chungking to create a Chinese war production board, it was ascertained today.

The presidential letter notified Nelson he would sit in cabinet meetings, and was understood also to mention another trip in the Pacific on his return from China. This appeared to point to New Zealand or Australia.

Beyond this, the note did not go much further in formalizing Nelson's status than the "Dear Donald" letter accepting Nelson's resignation from strifetorn WPB. Mr. Roosevelt then asked him to remain in the government for "a high post of major importance" in international economic affairs.

For this reason, some friends of Nelson believe the new message to be an interim device emphasizing Nelson's role as direct economic envoy between the president and the heads of foreign governments, but probably to be followed up by a more precise title and official status.

Harley Selected to Head Surplus Board

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Congressional sources reported today that President Roosevelt had picked Former Gov. Robert A. Harley, of Connecticut, as chairman of the surplus war property disposal board.

Senator Guy M. Gillette (D., Iowa), and Col. Edward Heller, of San Francisco, would be the other two members, according to senators who asked anonymously.

They said they understood the nominations would be sent to the senate soon. The posts carry salaries of $12,000 a year. Gillette was defeated for reelection November 7. Congress created the board to manage disposition of an estimated $100,000,000 of surplus war properties.
