Gift Program Is Presented

Dallas—A plea for Christmas gifts for servicemen at sea is being sent out by the Red Cross Valley-Coast Camp and Hospital council, according to Mrs. Charles H. Greenwood of Dallas, council chairman, who received a telegram from the San Francisco office this week urging cooperation of the nine-county council in the gift program.

Members of all branches of the service who will be on the high seas at Christmas time are to be included in the gift project. It is requested that gifts be packaged in boxes. They may contain Christmas messages as well as the names and addresses of the individuals or organizations sending the gifts.

Suggested gift items include writing pad and pencil, paperback books, soap, cigarettes, handkerchiefs (white or khaki), camphor ice, lipstick (colorless), oilskin waterproof tobacco pouch, snapshot case, small games and leatherette photograph holder.

Local contributors are asked to leave packaged gifts at the Polk county Red Cross center or at the Mountain States Power company rooms. A list of enclosed gift items should accompany the packages, in order that the Red Cross may know the contents.

Christian Minister Comes to Silverton

Silverton—Of interest to Silverton will be the arrival Tuesday of Rev. C. Arthur Bates and Mrs. Bates who are working in the interest of the centennial movement of Christian churches of Oregon, and who will conduct over-Thanksgiving meetings at the local Christian church from Wednesday evening through Sunday.

Topics for sermon subjects announced by Rev. Bates include for Wednesday evening, "The Church Faces Its Task," Thursday, "Spiritual Rationing," Friday, "The Windows of Heaven," Saturday, "An Awareness of God," Sunday forenoon, "Drink Ye, All of It," and Sunday, "Christianity Made Easy." Rev. Bates was pastor of the Mill City church for a number of years and served the pastorate of Klamath Falls before entering the state-wide work. Rev. Bates is president of the state board of Christian churches as well as being chairman of the state centennial program committee.

Surprise Fire Drill Staged

Mt. Angel—A good average for vacating the Mt. Angel schools was made at each school, when the firemen conducted a surprise fire drill. The east and west wing each were out of the buildings at St. Mary's grammar school in 45 seconds. Attending that school are 340 pupils.

Mt. Angel college students numbering 40, vacated the basement in 42 seconds, and main floor in 55 seconds.

Mt. Angel Academy high and Normal school, attended by 200 students had all on the second floor, south wing outside in 40 seconds; main floor, south wing in 55 seconds, and north wing in 1 minute 15 seconds.

The academy grammar school pupils were out of the west wing on lower floor in 20 seconds; east wing, lower floor in 28 seconds, and north wing, second main floor in 35 seconds. They numbered 40 pupils on lower and 28 on the top floor. Better time than in recent drills was made in all the schools, according to Fire Chief Andy Schmidt, Louis Schwab, Francis Schmidt, and William Bean who directed the drill.

Labish Center Club Officers Selected

Labish Center — The lower grade pupils held an election recently for officers of the 4-H club.

Thirteen standard club members are enrolled and 11 honorary members. The first and second grades are not old enough to meet the age requirements and become regular members. James Bishop, county club leader, visited with the members at the school recently and talked on club work.

Games, dancing and singing were features of the entertainment. Assisting were Mrs. Alma Knowler, state educational director, Mrs. Wilson, leader of the Bethel local, and Mrs. Louis Koenig of Woodburn.

Polk Veterans Show Movies

Dallas—Veterans from various branches of service and theatres of war, under the auspices of the U. S. navy, presented a "Report from Battle" before an audience of approximately 200 industrial workers and their families at the Dallas Machine and Locomotive Works last week in the interest of stimulating greater activity in production of war-needed equipment.

Veterans relating their war experiences included Frank Johnson, member of the navy medical corps; Pfc. Arthur Jourden of the Second Marines, and Coast Guard Machinist James W. Lockhart. Johnson, landing with the marines in the Marshalls and Saipan, attended the wounded and dying during that invasion, was himself wounded there and later evacuated. Pfc. Jourden, member of the Second Marines landing at Tulai, Guadalcanal and Tarawa, wears the Presidential Unit Citation presented in recognition of the unit's record on the field of battle. Coast Guard Machinist Lockhart, wearing two rows of decorations, told how it felt to land armies on beaches against fierce German opposition on two continents. The veterans displayed Japanese and German equipment, explained how ingenious enemy war materials operate to take the lives of American youth. They spoke of the variety of uses made of lift trucks, of the transportation by them of wounded men to airplanes where they would be taken directly to hospitals. They repeatedly emphasized the effective use of blood plasma in saving lives.

Two films were shown, one depicting the retaking of the island of Guam, which featured the dramatic rescue of Radio Operator George Tweed, fugitive from the Japanese since
