Nelson Heads Film Producers

Hollywood, June 13 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson will become president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers on June 29.

The former war production board chairman and special emissary to China disclosed his acceptance of the position yesterday after meeting with representatives of 25 smaller studios composing the society.

The society did not divulge Nelson's salary, but other sources reported it will be $50,000 per year.

Nelson, 56, perwar executive vice president of Sears, Roebuck and Company, announced that David M. Noyes of New York would serve as vice president of the society. Noyes, a former advertising executive, was Nelson's assistant with WPB.

Nelson succeeds Loyd Wright, president and general counsel of the society since it was organized three years ago. Wright will continue as counsel and John C. Flinn as executive secretary.

Carrier Bought by Bonds Now Ready

Seattle, June 13 (AP)—Purchased with war bonds sold by King county women, the Air-craft Carriers P.S.S. Puget Sound will be commissioned at the Tacoma yards of Todd-Pacific at 3 p.m. Monday, the navy announced yesterday.

The carrier was launched Nov. 30 and christened at that time by Mrs. Bert Teats of Sheridan, Ore., mother of the late naval aviator, Ensign Grant Wayne Teats.

Doolittle Flies In Superfort

Seattle, June 13 (AP)—Lt. Gen. James Doolittle flew a B-29 Superfortress for the first time today and declared "It's a marvelous airplane."

The former eighth air force leader climbed into the copilot's seat of a B-29 at Boeing field. He let Maj. Bert Eckstein, chief test pilot of the army's air technical service command here, take the big ship off the ground. Then Doolittle took over the controls as the plane banked and climbed.

"It certainly handled nicely," Doolittle told reporters after the half-hour flight that ended shortly after noon.

Maj. Gen. Earl E. Partridge and Brig. Gen. Leon Johnson accompanied Doolittle on the flight and changed places with him in the co-pilot's seat while Doolittle tried out the bombardier's post and went back to chat with Flight Engineer George Pells.

Pells offered the general his seat but Doolittle replied with a grin: "Looks like too much work there. I'll just watch."

After the flight Doolittle inspected the Boeing C-97, transport counterpart of the B-29.

Millions of Tons of Coal at Coos Bay

Portland, Ore., June 13 (AP)—Close to the tidewater in the Coos Bay area lie millions of tons of coal suitable for domestic and industrial use, according to information in a 180-page bulletin released today by the Oregon state department of geology and mineral industries.

The joint authors of the report, John Eliot Allen and Ewart M. Baldwin, said their deductions came from the exploration of 1000 acres of coal land in that vicinity.

The survey was authorized by the 42nd Oregon legislature and financed jointly by the state and Coos county.

Patton Seeking New Assignment

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., flew here today to report to Gen. George S. Marshall, army chief of staff, for a new assignment.

The hard-hitting third army commander said he did not know what his next job would be.

Patton flew here in an army transport plane from the Pacific coast, accompanied by his wife.

Asked whether he would like to be sent to the Pacific, he said, "I guess we all would, wouldn't we?"

Salem Sailor Killed in Crash

A navy bomber crash into the sea off San Diego last Wednesday claimed the life of AMM 3c Lawrence A. Simington of Salem and two other fliers who were on a routine flight from Long Beach, Calif.

The Salem sailor, born in Madison, Wis., February 3, 1913, came west to Oregon about 7 years ago. He had been in the service since March, 1944, and was to have left for overseas duty within the next month.

A shipwreck at a Vancouver shipyard, prior to entering the service he trained at Miami, Fla., and in New Orleans, La., before being sent to California.

Surviving Simington are his wife, Anne B. Simington of Salem; four children, Robert, Lorraine, Barbara and Martin Simington, all of Salem; his father, Walter Simington of Vancouver; his mother, Rachael Simington of Wisconsin; three brothers, Les, Lewis and Leonard Simington, all with the U.S. army overseas; and two sisters, Mrs. Harris Boyer of Swishome, Ore., and Mrs. John Jaukueck of Vancouver, Wash.

Funeral services, which will be held at the W. T. Rigdon chapel Thursday, June 14, at 1:30 p.m., will be under the auspices of Capital post No. 9 of the American Legion. Rev. S. Raynor Smith will officiate and pallbearers will be V-12 men from Willamette university. Concluding services will be at the City View cemetery.

War Bond Sales

Mill City sent in a report today showing an additional of $7012.50 in E bonds there, or a total of $25,950, all in E bonds, against a quota of $35,000 for the section. D. B. Hill is Mill City chairman. Chairman Sid Stevens of the retail division reported the Holland Bakery as over its quota to add to the list of retail establishments reaching that point and Denver Young sheriff, in charge of courthouse sales, reported employees there also as over their quotas.

Observance of Flag day Thursday in connection with the bond drive will be carried out in a special noon hour program at Victory Center on the courthouse grounds. This will also be broadcast over KSLM at 12:45. Details of the program have not been fully worked out. It is stated this special event will not interfere with the regular Saturday noon hour program also planned for Victory Center.

Arrangements also are being worked out for a big bond rally at Silverton next week with a "This Is Your Infantry" show to be staged at the Silverton ball park Friday night, June 22. All kinds of fighting equipment will be shown with spectacular effects with flame throwers and other types of ordnance used by soldiers in fighting the Japs. The bond talk will be given at the ball park that evening by Rex Kimmel.

Women workers who are getting ready to go down the home stretch with a big cleanup of the city will have a luncheon gathering June 19 at the Golden Pheasant. Mrs. James T. Brand, women's chairman, has announced. Over 300 bond saleswomen are making a complete canvass of the city.

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Seventh war loan sales to individual buyers went into the last quarter stretch today with announced sales of $5,280,000,000, 75.4 percent of the $7,000,000,000 quota.

Total E bond sales, however, are not as well advanced. Sales at latest report were $2,377,000,000, or 59 percent of the $4,000,000,000 quota.

Bob McGuire, specialist with the navy's V-12 unit at Willamette university, suffered a dislocation and fracture of the right ankle while engaging in a base sliding contest in Eugene Sunday. McGuire was playing shortstop for the Hills Creek team of the Cascade baseball league. It is expected he will be out of competition for a number of weeks.

Howard Perry, for several years deputy sheriff in the tax collection department, has submitted his resignation to Sheriff Denver Young effective as of June 15.

Elliott Roosevelt's $200,000 Loan Settled for $4,000

Washington, June 13 (AP)—Demands were voiced in congress today for an investigation of the settlement of a $200,000 private loan to Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt for $4000. Caruthers Ewing, general counsel of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., said the loan was made in 1939 by John Hartford, president of the A & P, settled three years later, and written off as a bad debt in Hartford's 1942 income tax report.

While Rep. Knutson (R., Minn.) told reporters he believed the internal revenue bureau should investigate, Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) declared in a senate speech that congress itself should make an inquiry.

Hartford yesterday termed "substantially correct" a story in Westbrook Pegler's column syndicated by Kings Features, that the son of the late president borrowed the $200,000 in 1938. Roosevelt could not be reached for comment.

Pegler's account "is not the whole story but it is substantially correct," Hartford said, adding "I would not have made it public myself and I regret very much that it has been published."

Ewing said in Danville, Ill., the debt was settled three years later "at the request of the Roosevelt family" through the then secretary of commerce, Jesse Jones.

Ewing said Elliott Roosevelt, then 29, secured the loan to finance his Texas radio interests. "They were losing money hand over fist," Ewing added.

He said that in 1942 Jones told him the Roosevelt family wanted to compromise the debt and he took young Roosevelt's note and stock collateral to Jones who "gave me a check payable to John Hartford for $4000 which was all Hartford ever received on the loan and the whole thing was closed."

"The loan," Ewing said, "was written off by Mr. Hartford in his 1942 income tax report as a bad debt."

Pegler said the A & P. head at first was reluctant to make the loan on the basis it might embarrass President Roosevelt. "Elliott immediately telephoned to President Roosevelt," Pegler said, "and the president spoke cordially to Mr. Hartford . . . and thanked him for this favor to his son. He also invited Mr. Hartford to call on him."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt could not be reached for comment.

Seek Lumber From Canada

Vancouver, B.C., June 13 (CP)—Hoping to procure an increased supply of British Columbia lumber for "immediate and urgent" American military requirements in the Pacific, a group of four ranking U.S. army, navy and marine officers addressed a meeting representing all branches of the lumber industry in the province here yesterday.

Lumber ranks only second to ammunition as the most critical need in the next phase of the war against Japan, declared Lt. Cmdr. M. A. Anderson, U.S. navy.

U.S. lumber production has fallen off to the extent of about 38,000,000 feet per week, and is unable to cope with the tremendous demands being made by Pacific forces, he said.

(At the present time 15 percent of British Columbia lumber production is earmarked for shipment to the U.S. No suggestion was made by the procurement group that this quota be raised—at least not immediately. Their chief concern is that exports to the United States be confined to military requirements, instead of being shipped for civilian consumption.)

Salem One Short For Blood Quota

Salem was just one donor short of filling the maximum capacity of 200 pints of blood Tuesday as the result of the weekly visit of the mobile unit operating out of Portland. Red Cross officials were trying to find the 200th donor, but while several were found who were willing, all had had their lunches and therefore were ineligible.

Registration was 150 short Monday noon, indicating that many donors came in Tuesday without the formality of announcing their intentions. Additions to the "gallon club" were Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Bradford, 1160 Second St., West Salem; Mrs. Mary E. Light, 410 Jefferson, Silverton; Gene Vandenberg, 845 E. Marvin Johnson, route 1; Mrs. Beryl Porter, route 4; Connell C. Ward, 449 South Cottage.

Mogan Promoted To Rank of Major

Now with the supreme headquarters of the 15th army in Germany Farley Mogan, who prior to entering the service in May, 1942, was with the Oregon state police, has been promoted to the rank of major.

The Salem officer, son of Mrs. Frank Mogan and the late Mr. Mogan, left the States about a year ago for duty in the European theater and has been on the continent for sometime with the military government setup.

Gordon Hewitt, 16, route 3; Roger Dick Radke, 16, route 2, and Duane Rawlins, 16, 1973 North Capitol, have been picked up by Deputy Sheriff James Garvin and State Officer Price for Yamhill county on a charge of breaking a fence. They were released by posting $100 each as cash bail.

Certificate of retirement from Mickey Mouse Grocery, 815 S. 12th street, has been filed with the county clerk by Hale Mickey.

President Says

ropes after his reception here Monday.

The rumor did not start here, the president replied smilingly when he was asked about it by a reporter who mentioned Paris sources in connection with his inquiry.

(The Army and Navy Journal, unofficial service publication, said last week it had heard reports that General George C. Marshall felt that the war had progressed to a point where it might be possible for him to retire. The Journal mentioned the possibility, in this event, that Eisenhower might be called upon to take over Marshall's post as chief of staff. Lauding the services of both men, the publication urged that Marshall abandon any thought of retirement at this time.)

Frisbie Talks on Discharged Vets

With ships on the seven seas this nation must become world-minded with the next ten years the most crucial in history, Commander Charles J. Frisbie, USNR, director of civil readjustment for the 13th naval district with headquarters in Seattle, told the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon.

The navy has completed its program for taking care of its discharged veterans, he said, with rehabilitation applying to the physical and readjustment to the mental. Commander Frisbie was much opposed to the numerous civilian groups set up to guide and direct the discharged veterans. He likened these to a forest with it becoming necessary to take the veteran by the hand and show him the right tree.

Both state measures and the local one for the purchase of Bush pasture on the ballot for the special election June 22 were endorsed by the club.
