

East Salem Lawn Party Held by Garden Roaders

East Salem, July 23—The annual outdoor picnic for members of the Garden Road Neighborhood club, their families and friends was held on the lawn of the A. C. Schaffer home on Garden road Thursday evening.

Golfers Hold First Supper

Woodburn—The first no host golf supper of the season was held at the club house at the Woodburn golf course Sunday evening with 26 members and guests attending. In charge of the tables were Mrs. P. C. McLaughlin, Mrs. Anton DeJardin, Mrs. Henry Miller and Mrs. Marion Henning.

Picnic Ardor Defeats Rain

Silverton—The heavy rains of the week-end failed to dampen the annual picnic ardor of the American Legion Delbert Reeves post and unit No. 7, and the affair was held in the new legion hall instead of the city park as planned.

Mill City

Dewey Flatman scalded his leg badly last week and was on crutches for several days, but the burn is much improved now.

Present for the dinner were: guests, Mrs. Louise Marshall, Mrs. John Schaffer and daughter, Emma Jean; Mrs. Alice Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crowley and daughter, Darlene; Miss Anna Schirmer, the Misses Bernice and Carol Schaffer, Ernest Ziesle and Miss Emma Ziesle, members and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Werner, Arlene and Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Larkins, Mrs. Martin Starr, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tartar, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reher, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rickett, Mr. and Mrs. William Hartley and Mr. and Mrs. Schaffer.

Schaffer proudly displayed a Jap gun and bayonet sent him by their son, Leonard, from Okinawa where they had been taken in active service.

Guests for several days at the A. C. Schaffer home are Mrs. Louise Marshall, a cousin of Mr. Schaffer's from Elkton, South Dakota, Mrs. John Schaffer and daughter, Emma Jean, Mr. Schaffer's sister-in-law from Sioux Falls, South Dakota. They came west for a visit with relatives in Seattle and Salem.

Scio

Flight Officer and Mrs. Frank Gates, formerly of Albany but more recently of California and Montana, visited briefly this week at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Warren of Scio and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gates near Greens bridge. The Junior Mr. Gates for several years was with his father in highway construction work in various parts of Oregon. At present he is ferrying planes from Great Falls, Mont., to Fairbanks, Alaska, having been in army air force for several years. Mrs. Gates is the daughter of Mrs. Carl Warren and was reared at Albany, graduating from high school there.

The Rev. Albert Vernon is arranging to attend Pepperdine college of liberal arts and theology at Los Angeles, beginning with the academic year in September. Mrs. Vernon will accompany him. Vernon's removal from Scio will create a vacancy in the pulpit at Scio Church of Christ, which will be supplied by the official board of the church. He has been attending Bible institute in Eugene for some time, commuting from Scio.

Mrs. E. G. Rickard is home from Turner where she attended annual pioneer camp. Among Scio young people accompanying Mrs. Rickard were Nancy Hildreth and Emmalee Miller.

Heavy yields of hay are reported in all sections of the Scio area, assuring adequate supply of roughage for livestock during the coming winter, according to reports from farmers. Hay is pouring into bulging barns and bales in fine condition, no rain thus far having interfered with the work. Most fruit crops are light this year, reportedly due to unfavorable climatic conditions, this being particularly true of cherries, berries and prunes.

Mrs. Carl Warren of Scio recently resumed aviation instruction at the Albany airport, planning to complete a course started when the United States entered the world war. She had progressed well in the work but was forced to stop temporarily because of business interests here.

Plan Park at Walnut Grove

Monmouth — Warren Nowowiejske is organizing details for a public park here to be called Walnut Grove park. Deriving its name from numerous trees on the site at the corner of Knox and Clay streets, this lot was once occupied by a large residence, moved off some time ago.

In cooperation with the Monmouth chamber of commerce, planners will build an outdoor fireplace there and in addition tables and benches for picnic dinners and a drinking fountain and standpipe for water are to be provided.

The park is credited as an enterprise of the Monmouth furniture store, owned by Mrs. Jessie Nowowiejske and son Warren. Nowowiejske is a member of the NOWOWIEJSKE section of the national camping association, and has received the national degree in the grange.

A large number of young people from the First Christian church will take advantage of the July 23 through 28 Northern Oregon Christian conference at the Silver Falls camp area.

Woodburn — A five-room modern home is being built by Irving J. Burd at the corner of Hayes and Fourth streets which will be for sale when completed. The building measures 24x44 feet and will have plastered walls, utility room, attached garage and stucco finish.

Numerous legends indicate that the Greeks recognized the usefulness of oil.

Unionvale

More than 14,000 Easter lily bulbs set at the Louis Magee farm last spring are blooming. They are being grown for green house forcing stock.

Cpl. Clayton Trent, who has 103 points after army service of three years and three months, arrived Tuesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trent, Bellevue. A family reunion, including his sister, Mrs. Claude Shelbourne and family, was held Wednesday for the returned foreign veteran.

Cabins Full at Camp Onahlee

Aurora—The 1945 session of Camp Onahlee on the Molalla river opened Sunday, July 15.

After being introduced to the 25 counselors, the 104 campers were assigned to their cabins for the Aladdin's Lamp session and short physical examinations.

The campers at Onahlee are grouped according to age and ability for swimming instruction under the direction of Barbara Wisdom of Milwaukie who is an American Red Cross swimming instructor.

Democratic camping was introduced at Onahlee this year by Margaret Milliken Hauke, camp director for the season.

Police Bring In Barley Thieves

Aurora—Fifty sacks of barley, stolen from a warehouse at Aurora, was recovered at Oswego, according to Police Chief W. A. Knowles of Oswego and deputy sheriffs, who investigated.

Ration Board Open Evenings

Dallas—The Dallas war price and rationing board will be closed on Tuesday afternoons beginning this week, but will be open from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. every Tuesday to accommodate patrons, it has been announced. The closing will allow those unable to take care of rationing business during the day an opportunity to appear at the board in the evening and the free afternoon will give clerks a chance to catch up on back work which has been piling up steadily.

Another plea to mail applications and forms to the board, rather than to appear in person has been issued by the board.

Meat ceiling price lists are now available to consumers at the office and copies may be obtained by any person upon request.

Gould Goes Back To Same Church

Woodburn—At the annual northwest conference of the Free Methodist church held at the church camp ground west of Portland, the Rev. L. C. Gould was returned to the Woodburn church for another year. Attending the conference were Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Sproule, L. Jones, Ray Trullinger, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Williams and sons. Mrs. Gould served as pianist for the conference.
