Home Front Picture as it Looks Now in Rationing

Washington, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The home front picture as it looks today:

Consumer goods—WPB lifts 210 wartime production controls, clearing way for unlimited output of radios, refrigerators, trucks, stoves, washing machines and many other peacetime standbys.

Tires—Rationing ended on tires for farm and industrial use; passengers tires expected to be ration-free by the first of the year.

Automobiles—Manufacturers will get go-ahead for unlimited production within a few days.

Shoes—WPB lifts limitation on leather, assuring increased shoe production and an end of rationing in anywhere from a few weeks to a couple of months.

Gasoline—OPA to cut prices effective Sept. 1 in 17 eastern states and District of Columbia. Reductions to range from six tenths to 1.2 cents a gallon.

Salvage—WPB urges volunteer committee to stay on the job until reconversion is completed. Fats, oil and tin remain critically short.

Travel—Restrictions on rail travel and airlines priorities continue in effect. However, coaches that are being returned empty after carrying troops now can be used to accommodate civilian passengers.

Cutbacks — Continue heavily. Latest include $425,000,000 shipbuilding cancellation by maritime commission and $1,500,000,000 ordnance cutback by navy.

Cotton goods—Military cutbacks free 90,000,000 yards for civilian use.

Draft—Armed forces to induct 63,000 men in 18-26 year category during September. Navy's September quota cut from 22,000 to 13,000. Army to take about 50,000 monthly.

Charge accounts — Government may make some modification soon in regulations governing installment buying and charge accounts.

Stocks Turn Irregular

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Leading stocks moved erratically over a series of declines and recoveries in today's market with rails and motors generally making the best showing during the final hour.

Bidding for the carriers spread selective to other departments. Transfers were around 1,300,000 shares.

Speedy easing of government industrial controls as a means of pushing reconversion tended to buoy sentiment. Economic unsettlement caused by heavy contract cancellations in steel and other fields, combined with a temporary wave of unemployment, served to temper investment enthusiasm.

In the comeback category were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Graham-Paige, General Electric, Du Pont and Caterpillar Tractor. Hesitant were American Telephone, Goodyear, International Harvester, American Can, Standard Oil (N.J.), Consolidated Edison and Johns-Manville. Bonds were uneven.

Grain Mart Steadied

Chicago, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—A closing rally steadied wheat, corn and oats on the board of trade after early weakness prompted by peacetimes uncertainties, heavy crop yields, cutbacks in army demand and the end of lend-lease. Bearish sentiment prevailed most of the session, however, and rye and barley failed to recover.

Wheat finished the day up ¼ to off ¼ cent a bushel; corn up ⅛ to up ½; oats up ¼ to ⅞; rye off ⅛ to 2 cents, and barley off 1¾ to 2⅛.

Rye led the recession with a break of 2½ cents a bushel pushing May and July deliveries down to new season lows, and about 15 to 21 cents below the season's tops. Most selling stemmed from persistent commission house liquidation. The White House announcement that lend-lease had been terminated prompted selling.

Hedge selling in wheat was offset partly by buying against government orders for the spot article in the southwest. The quantities of wheat moving freely to terminals had a depressing effect and speculative interest was at low ebb.

Corn displayed an unsettled tone in light trade.

Wide military applications have been found for the all-glass sealed-beam headlight developed before the war and almost universally used on American automobiles.

Assert Lifting Lid on Salary Raises Won't Send Prices Up

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—William H. Davis, economic stabilizer, said today the new policy of allowing pay raises without government okay won't send prices up. In an interview Davis declared: "I am not worried that any raises under this program will be inflationary. I am confident they won't break down our price controls."

President Truman's new peacetime policy of permitting unlimited raises in wages and salaries—just so the pay boosts don't cause higher prices—has caused many thoughtful people to ask:

Can pay be raised right and left without eventually forcing prices up in spite of anything the government can do? Won't the pressure to raise prices be so great that inflation will result?

(You can think of inflation as generally-rising prices that cause your dollar to get weaker and weaker in buying power.)

But Davis took an optimistic view of the new policy.

He avoided trying to predict the extent of raises under the new plan.

But he said that whatever raises are granted won't bust prices loose. He gave three reasons for saying so:

1. Employers who give raises will be doing it voluntarily. And they must agree not to use these raises as a basis for asking that price ceilings on their products be lifted.

2. Even in normal times, pay increases don't necessarily mean higher prices. This country has increased its standard of living throughout the years by a long, gradual process of raising wages faster than prices.

3. Despite raises, the nation's total payroll will be going down for a while. This is because wartime overtime pay will be cut off, many workers will be unemployed, and others will be going from high-paid jobs to lower-paid jobs.

Government officials agree that the number and amount of pay raises in the next few months are "extremely difficult" to predict.

Meantime the new wage policy was made clearer today by officals of Davis's office.

They explained that an employer can grant a raise in wages or salary without getting government permission if:

1. The raise won't be used as a basis for seeking an increase in price ceilings, or for resisting future reductions in price ceilings.

2. The raise will not be an expense to the federal government. (For example on a "cost-plus" contract the government, if the contractor grants raises the government has to foot the bill.)
