Jobless Claims for Aid Increasing

Of the 4480 claims filed with the unemployment compensation commission during August, 3494 originated in Portland. Commission offices here reported here today.

Approximately 15,000 job openings are listed in employment offices of the state, but half are for unskilled men and women with pay in proportion, the report declares.

One hundred and forty seven claims were received from veterans during August, compared with the previous high month of December, 1944, when 81 veterans' claims were filed.

Home Extension Units Install Officers

A meeting of the officers of nineteen of the Marion county home extension units was held Friday in the auditorium of the Portland Gas and Coke company. The purpose of the meeting was to install these officers for the ensuing year and to train them in procedures to follow at future meetings. Approximately 60 were present. The Marion county home extension committee served as hostesses and installed the new officers.

Mrs. Floyd Fox, chairman of the county committee, presided at the meeting. The program started at 10:30 a. m. and ended at 3:30 p. m. A group discussion for chairmen and vice-chairmen was led by Mrs. Azalea Sager, state home demonstration leader. Miss Marjorie Tye led a group discussion for secretaries and installed new members of the county committee.

Later Mrs. Sager gave a brief talk on parliamentary procedure. Singing for the day was led by Mrs. Glenn Briedwell of Silverton. Miss Eleanor Trindle, new emergency assistant, was presented to the group.

Juniors Will Be Reorganized

With all the schools opening for a new year, Junior Red Cross activities soon will be reorganized, too, reports Mrs. Carmelita Weddle, who is the chairman for this group from the Marion county chapter of the Red Cross.

A letter will reach teachers about October 10 telling them about the Junior Red Cross' enrollment for service and about the activities carried on by the organization. Enrollment supplies will be at the county school office and at the Red Cross office.

Supplies for hospitals, assistance to returned prisoners of war from Japan, educational gift boxes for Europe and the Philippines, and Christmas cards for servicemen in hospitals to send out will be the four major projects to be carried on by Junior Red Cross this year.

Working with Mrs. Weddle in planning the new year's work include Mrs. Doris Ransom from the Parrish junior high school, Miss Eleanor Roberts of the Leslie junior high school, Mrs. Grace Jones of Butteville school, and Mrs. Dolores Jager of the Auburn school. The plan this year will be to have a committee for the Salem schools and another committee to work with the rural schools.

Lt. Carl McLeod Leaves Marines

His discharge from the U. S. marine corps received this week in San Diego, Lt. Carl McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McLeod arrived in Salem Friday afternoon, after 25 months of duty in the Pacific.

McLeod, who received his discharge under the point system, had been in the service since February, 1942, and just prior to leaving the marines returned from his second tour of duty overseas. Leaving the States in 1942, the officer fought through the entire Guadalcanal battle and was sent home in April, 1943 and given duty here. In July, 1944, he returned to overseas duty with the 26th marine regiment of the Fifth marine division and took part in the battle for Iwo Jima.

While overseas the last time the Salemite received a field promotion to second lieutenant. In addition to his theater ribbon with its battle stars, McLeod wears the Bronze Star for meritorious service in the Iwo Jima campaign, and the Presidential Unit citation.

Knights Open Year's Work

The opening meeting of the fall season of the Knights of Columbus was attended by a crowded council chamber at Sunnily Tuesday evening, with installation of officers conducted by District Deputy William J. LaRoche of Salem, assisted by Grand Knight, Fred Rupp, also of Salem.

The following members were installed as officers of the local Sublimity: a council: Grand knight, Ed Jacoby; deputy grand knight, Pat Gorman; chancellor, Paul Pietrok; advocate; Raymond Kerber, financial secretary, Edward J. Bell; warden, John P. Bentz; lecturer, Sam Bridges; recorder, Francis J. O'Connor; treasurer, Andy A. Kintz; inside guard, John G. Halfman; outside guard, Lawrence Pietrick; trustee, Sam Bridges. Reverend Beatus Bur of Jordan was selected chaplain.

Dr. A. L. Elvin of Salem, field agent of the supreme office of the Knights of Columbus gave a general resume on the insurance features of the Knights of Columbus. Visiting servicemen, now home on furlough, who attended and gave talks, were Ed Gorman of Salem, and Kenneth Bentz of Sunnily. Past District Deputy C. A. Suing of Salem, Chaplain Father Baur, and Rev. Ethelbert Mai of the Salvationist order talked on the future work of the order.

A review of the service activities of the members of the local council showed that the council has been very fortunate in its casualty list, since Pearl Harbor. During this time 87 members were in the armed forces all over the globe, and to date only one death has been reported. As far as can be ascertained there will be none of the other 86 who will eventually return home who will suffer the loss of limbs or otherwise be seriously injured.

Chaplain Father Baur is offering a high mass of thanksgiving in recognition of favors shown armed force members. Membership Chairman Ted Etzel reports over 10 applications on file, and plans are being formulated for an early conferring of the degrees of the order on another class.

The "best possible summary of existing public attitudes" is the purpose of a roundtable to be offered by Public Relations News of New York City, and Paul B. Carr, assistant manager of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, is listed as one contributor to opinion on a variety of subjects that will be collected through questionnaire.

Contributors are asked to answer questionnaires once a week for six months. The first is to deal with post-war industry and reconversion among other things. Glenn Griswold is editor of the publication.

A purse containing money and valuable articles was reported to police today by W. H. Bushnell of the Hawaiian Islands as having been lost or stolen from his wife when they stopped at the rest room of the Standard Oil service station at Mission and South Commercial. The purse itself is valued at $25. Contents included charm bracelets valued at $500, a $10 bill, ration book, AAA card and two pairs of eye glasses. The jewelry is of Hawaiian make. The Bushnells drove from San Francisco and said they would be through Salem again in about two weeks.

Fifty-one army officers from Camp Adair, in charge of Major Gerald Jones and Lt. Edward Noe, were in Salem Thursday for a tour of inspection of Salem industries. They visited, under the escort of Chamber of Commerce officials, the alumina plant, Oregon Flax Textiles, Inc., Oregon State penitentiary, the state forestry buildings, Blue Lake cannery, the Western Paper Converting company, and Sicks' Brewery. Major Jones is director of the ground forces' training school, and his home is at Ottumwa, Ia. Lt. Noe, an instructor, is from Valentine, Nebr.

Dr. J.C. Harrison Goes to Everett

Dr. J. C. Harrison, in his seventh year as pastor of the First Methodist church is being transferred to the First church of Everett, Wash., effective early in October, according to announcement Friday by Bishop Bruce R. Baxter. Dr. Joseph M. Adams of the Everett church will replace Dr. Harrison. During his more than six years as minister of the First church in Salem, Dr. Harrison has built up one of the largest congregations of the denomination in the state. A debt of $12,500 which existed at the start of his pastorate has been paid off. For 12 years, Dr. Harrison has been a trustee of Willamette university and for the past three years president of its board. He has served as a member of the board of managers of the Salem Community War Chest.

During his more than 19 years in Oregon, Dr. Harrison held the pastorate of Centenary Wilbur church during which time an $80,000 educational temple was built. During a seven-year term as Portland district superintendent he made a national record in World Service of the church. Mrs. Harrison, an AB graduate of State Women's college of Mississippi, is a member of the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Adams' service in Washington includes pastorates at Pullman, Walla Walla and five years in Everett. He is about 50 years of age and is considered one of the outstanding youth pastors of the entire northwest. He holds the position of councilor of youth for the Northwest conference. The family consists of a wife and a son, the latter a graduate of Washington State college.

Auto Crashed By Locomotive

Only one of a party of six young persons was injured, and not seriously, when an automobile was struck by a Southern Pacific locomotive at 14th and Mission streets at 11:45 Thursday night. In the auto were Ray Stoddard, 1420 North Fourth, the driver; Dale Burns, 325 South Winter; Ralph Caulkins, 2585 South Summer; Barbara Kobow, 1825 North Cottage; Midge Dabbs, route 7; and Gloria Scott, 1785 North Winter.

Burns received a slight injury in the right side. The automobile was damaged, but was driven away under its own power after the spare wheel had replaced one on which the tire was blown out.

The automobile was being driven north on 14th, and when turning west on Mission grade crossing was struck on the right side by the locomotive, which was piloted by Dale Forbes. The locomotive was backing south. It stopped in four paces from the point of impact, but the automobile was thrown a distance of 12 paces headed east instead of west.

Another near auto-train crash occurred at practically the same time when a vehicle driven by Don Bostic, 7211 Maryland avenue, Portland, stalled on the Southern Pacific track at 12th and Marion. Police were called, in turn called a wrecker and the auto was removed from the rails just before a southbound train came by.

Bostic had driven off the pavement on 12th, and was unable to get his car started after it stalled on the track.

Realtors Rap Sales Control

The Salem Board of Realtors went on record Friday as being opposed to all government controls in the matter of the sale of real estate and directed the secretary to send copies of the resolution to Oregon representatives in congress and to the national and state realtor associations. Prices will take care of themselves if there is a free rein given in the matter of new construction, it was declared during a brief discussion of the resolution which was presented by W. G. Hardy.

Plans for the state convention to be held at Gearhart, were discussed by members of the board. Salem will be the host organization and will underwrite the expense of the hospital part of the conference.

Rev. Chester Hamblin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave a talk concerning the forthcoming community chest campaign and advanced a number of reasons why there should be continued support of the movement. The army of occupation will need the services of those groups supported by the chest while it is a matter of good business on our part to help the homeless and helpless people of Europe. Rev. Hamblin said.

Salem Electric Seeks to Extend Poles on County Roads

Salem Electric, new name under which the former Salem Electric Cooperative is operating by terms of supplementary articles of incorporation recently filed, has presented three petitions to the Marion county court asking permission to extend pole lines over all the public thoroughfares adjacent to and about two miles north and east from the city limits in an area roughly described as lying between the Willamette river and the state penitentiary properties. Petitions are signed by L. V. Benson as president, and J. E. Hogg, secretary of the concern.

One petition asks for right to extend pole lines along the north river road from the north city limits to the Keizer school and on all roads extending eastward and westerly from the north river road to their length.

A second petition asks the authority to extend pole lines along market road 26, the Salem-Silverton road, from the Southern Pacific right of way to Williams avenue; also on Evergreen avenue from market road 26 to market road 21, the Salem-Pratum road, or more generally known as the Garden road. This petition also asks for right of way to make extensions on Beach, Lana and Highway avenues, Donald street, Carlton way, Duncan, Abrams, Williams and Larsen avenues.

The third petition asks for right of way to extend pole lines on market road 21, the Garden road, from the city limits of Salem for a distance eastward of two miles and also to make extensions on Downing street, York street, Park avenue and on D street from the city limits for a distance eastward of two miles.

County Judge Grant Murphy stated that the court cannot act on the petitions as they stand at the present time due to the fact that the maps accompanying the petitions are not in proper form, in that they fail to show where the lines are to be located in the various thoroughfares relative to existing power lines or existing telephone lines. He stated this amendment to the maps would be mandatory before the court can pass on the question.

It was revealed that a previous application had come into the court for a blanket permit on all lines radiating out two miles from the city in the general directions covered, but this was not considered, being too vague a description.

Public Utilities Commissioner George Flagg, in response to an inquiry from the county judge, stated his office would have no control over the matter here involved, as the concern is a cooperative.

Mrs. Culbertson Dies at Mt. Vernon

Word has been received from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., of the death there from a cerebral hemorrhage of Mrs. Ann Augusta Stockton Culbertson. Mrs. Culbertson, who was 72 years of age at the time of her death, was the daughter of the late J. L. Stockton, early Salem merchant.

Among the survivors are a son, Leon Augustus Culbertson of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and a sister, Miss Zoe Stockton of Salem. Shipment is being made to Salem for services and interment, which will be under the direction of the W. T. Rigdon company.

Dr. Benbow Talks To Rose Society

Thursday night's meeting of the Salem Rose Society was well attended and close attention was given to the address of Dr. Earl W. Benbow of Dallas. The next meeting is scheduled for the night of November 15 at the YMCA with Fred Edmunds, head of the Portland rose experimental gardens as the speaker.

Committee assignments were made Thursday night by W. G. Krueger, president of the society. These committees include: Membership, Harold Elbert, Mrs. George Timm, R. A. Smith, Mrs. F. S. Huston and F. W. Lehman; publicity, A. L. Lindbeck, Mrs. John Ramage, Knight Pearcey, Mrs. George W. Alling and Mrs. A. M. Fitzmaurice; program, Mrs. C. A. Kells, Dr. Frank E. Brown, Nellie E. Schwab, Lee Canfield and Margaret Hogg; rose show, Elizabeth Lord, George W. Alling, Edith Schryver and Dr. K. H. Waters.

Patrons of the Sunnyside district are reminded by the board of directors that school will start Monday morning.

Mrs. Dunlap Passes at Home

Resident of Oregon her entire life and of Salem for many years, Mrs. Effie W. Dunlap, died early this morning at her home at 1625 Center street from a heart attack.

Born in Douglas county, Oregon, near Scottsburg, October 15, 1866, Mrs. Dunlap was the daughter of Samuel L. and Emma August Reid. Her father died when she was a small child and with her step-father, W. L. Byars, and her mother, she came to Salem to make her home, when Byars and Gen. W. H. O'Dell operated the two Salem papers, the Capital Journal and the Oregon Statesman.

Mrs. Dunlap was first married to Addison Wright, who died many years ago and her second husband was J. Frank Dunlap, who died a few years ago.

Educated in Salem schools, Mrs. Dunlap is also a graduate of Willamette university. She has been a member of the First Methodist church for many years and was active in the Sunday school work of that church as well as its W.S.C.S. She was a member of a number of Salem patriotic organizations, among which were the Women's Relief corps, Sons of Union Veterans auxiliary and the American War Mothers.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Emma C. Drake of Heppner and Vera Mae Given of Silverton; two sons, J. A. Wright of Detroit and Stephen Elmo Wright of Medical Lake, Wash.; a sister, Mrs. Ronald Glover of Salem; two brothers, W. F. Byars of Goldendale, Wash., and Dr. Alfred H. Byars of San Diego and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held from the W. T. Rigdon chapel Monday, September 24 at 1:30 p. m. with concluding services at the City View cemetery.

State Purchases Vet Land Bonds

The state of Oregon today was awarded a contract to finance $1,000,000 in bonds for the Oregon war veterans' fund. The state's bid of $995,204 plus interest was lowest of 12 submitted, according to Director of Veterans' Affairs Hugh Rosson. The bonds are dated October 1, 1945, and will mature in ten years. The bonds are valued at $1000 each.

Interest rates will be 3/4 of one percent payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 each year. Interest in a 10 year period will amount to $79,796. The funds will be used in granting loans to veterans of World War two to be used in purchasing homes or farms. Loans to veterans will be held at $3000 and will draw four percent interest on unpaid balances. The loans must be paid in 20 years.

Rosson said the veterans' department will be ready to accept applications for loans after October 10.
