

MRS. NEAL TOURTELLOTT, national president of Pro-America, will be a distinguished visitor in the capital next Wednesday when she appears at a meeting of the Salem unit, Pro-America, at the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, president of the local Pro-America, will preside.

A dinner is being arranged preceding the meeting to honor Mrs. Tourtelotte. The affair will be held at the Quella and reservations should be made with Mrs. Spaulding by Monday night.

Another special guest at Wednesday's meeting will be Mrs. Don Baker of Seattle, the former Hazel Handy of Portland, who is president of the King county Pro-America.

Mrs. Tourtelotte was one of the 15 founders of Pro-America and as well as serving twice as its national president she has served as mentor of the Washington state Pro-America and King county Pro-America.

She is a graduate of Smith College and has taken work at the University of Washington, where she is now studying for her master's degree in political science. She is a past president of the Seattle Junior League. In 1943 Mrs. Tourtelotte was nominated for the Washington state legislature. She published the "Seattle" from 1929 to 1932. She was one of two Seattle women to serve on the Seattle Civilian War committee.

Miss Phyllis Byers left today to spend the week-end in Tacoma with friends.

DETAILS HAVE reached the capital from Brooklyn telling of the marriage of Miss Ilona Batson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Batson of Salem, to Sgt. Alan Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Edwards of Brooklyn, N.Y., which took place in Brooklyn September 22.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the Hyde Park Congregational church at 2 o'clock with D. Yountz officiating before a gathering of friends and relatives. Mrs. T. Wimer played the wedding marches.

For her wedding the bride chose a graceful white satin gown fashioned with a full skirt. The fitted bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline with tiny satin buttons extending to the low pointed waistline in front.

A coronet of orange blossoms held her fingertip silk lace veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Melisha Edwards, aunt of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow net gown fashioned with a basque satin bodice and full skirt. She wore lavender asters in her hair and carried a bouquet of lavender and white asters tied with yellow satin ribbons.

B. J. Edwards, uncle of the bridegroom, was Sgt. Edwards' best man.

Mrs. Mark Edwards selected a fuchsia 'crepe gown and a sequin enhanced black hat with silk lace veil for her son's marriage. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a colonial garden bouquet flanked with tall white tapers.

Miss Margie Holland presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Jessie Edwards cut the cake. Serving were Mrs. Mildred Willis and Mrs. Lila Holland, aunt of the bridegroom.

When the newlyweds left for their wedding trip to Niagara Falls the bride wore a black wool jersey dress with colorful embroidery and a black hat and accessories with a corsage of white carnations.

The bride, a senior at Willamette university, has been popular in campus activities, a member of the Collegian staff and participated in the intramural after-dinner speaking contest.

Sgt. Alan Edwards majored in languages at Brooklyn college for two and half years before entering the service. He also attended the University of Wisconsin. He recently returned from Italy where he has been with the radio division of the MAF.

Sgt. and Mrs. Edwards will remain in the east until he reports for his reassignment.

MRS. HERBERT DUFFY of San Francisco, who has been a popular visitor in the capital this past week. Among those entertaining for her pleasure were Mrs. Lloyd Riches, Mrs. T. J. Riches, Mrs. Frederick Hill Thompson, Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Abner K. Kline. (Jessen-Miller)

THERE IS growing interest in the concert which Mary Elizabeth Kells is to present in Waller Hall on Tuesday evening, October 23.

It is over two years since Salem music lovers have heard her in concert, at which time she was soloist with the Salem Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Edouard Hurliman, and she will also be remembered as having appeared with the Salem Y Gleemen as guest soloist.

For the past two years, Miss Kells has been in New York city studying under the guidance of Paul Althouse, famous ex-Metropolitan star, and with Alice Nichols as her coach.

While there, she was identified with the Columbia Opera Workshop and performed in the premier run of a commissioned comic opera by Bernard Wagenaar, as well as in the first American showing of an eighteenth century four-character opera by Pergolesi. She had a church soloist position in New Jersey and gave concerts in that state as well as other centers.

Her program here will include old English and Italian works, familiar lieder of Schubert and Brahms, arias by Massenet, and French and English groups. Miss Alice Cray Brown will be her accompanist.

The Ministers' Wives group will meet at the home of Mrs. Dudley Strain at 1595 Jefferson street at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Clay Pomeroy will assist Mrs. Strain in hostessing duties for tea which will be served at the appointed hour. Primarily a social meeting, the group will welcome new members.

Mrs. Breyman Boise will open her Court street residence to St. Anne's Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church Monday afternoon. Mrs. Vernon Perry will preside at the business session.

Hostesses with Mrs. Boise will be Mrs. Charlie Huggins, Mrs. Robert Brennan, Mrs. Ralph Moody and Mrs. F. W. Poorman.

AMERICAN Association of University Women will open its fall meeting Saturday, October 20th, with a luncheon in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel at 12:15 o'clock. Miss Eleanor Stephens and Miss Ida Mae Smith, program chairmen, report that they have been fortunate in securing Dr. Clifford E. Maser as guest speaker.

Dr. Maser is head of the division of business and industry at Oregon State college. He is a dynamic and fascinating speaker and his extemporaneous approach to a subject well known to him should prove most valuable and thought provoking. The topic under discussion will be "There Will Always Be a Europe" and Dr. Maser will handle the problem of future Germany in relation to Europe. A musical invocation, "Prayer for Peace" by Brahe, will be sung by Mrs. F. W. Burlingham.

The decoration chairman, Mrs. Brazier Small, has appointed Mrs. F. A. Massee in charge of decorations for this meeting. Mrs. Massee will be assisted by Mrs. L. J. Chapin and Miss Mary Keefe, Hospitality chairman, Miss Beryl Holt, has as her committee, Miss Mabel P. Robertson, Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger, Mrs. W. R. Berndt, Mrs. A. C. F. Perry and Miss Lillian Davis.

Mrs. John Burcham, president, asks that members attend and invite guests and prospective members to this meeting. Reservations can be placed through Mrs. Carl Aschenbrenner, 7593, or Mrs. Robert Lantz, 7084, on Wednesday, October 17th, or Thursday, the 18th. Reservations must be secured not later than Thursday for the luncheon which will be in promptly at 12:15 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Aiken and Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mills are among the Salemites attending the Oregon State-Oregon football classic at Corvallis this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle W. Headrick will motor tomorrow to Victoria, where they plan to spend a week. A tour of Vancouver island is included in their itinerary.

TRAILING SMILAX and white chrysanthemums adorned the altar of First Congregational church last night when Miss Corale Nichols, daughter of Mrs. Cass A. Nichols and the late Mr. Nichols, became the bride of Douglas Richard Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baker. A large assemblage of friends and relatives witnessed the impressive ceremony, which was read by Dr. John L. Knight of Willamette university at 8 o'clock.

Miss Marilyn Nelson and Miss Leona Tingstad, wearing aqua and pink chiffon frocks and holding cathedral chandeliers based with gardenias, lighted the altar candles. Miss Edith Fairham sang before the ceremony and Miss Alice Rose was at the organ console.

The bride's uncle, Edwin Armstrong, gave her in marriage. She was a lovely picture in a handsome wedding gown of ivory satin combined with marquisette. The satin bodice had a sweetheart neck and long sleeves and the marquisette skirt cascaded into a long court train. Her net veil was edged with deep lace and trimmed with lace insertions. It was caught in a cap with orange blossoms and white satin ribbons. She carried a white Bible topped with white orchids and with markers tied with stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Luella Nichols, was the maid of honor. She wore a frock of pink taffeta, made in off-the-shoulder fashion and with a graceful full skirt. She wore flowers in her hair and carried a sheaf of pink and white roses, carnations and bouvardia.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Nichols, another sister of the bride, and Miss Joyce Armstrong, the bride's cousin, wore blue net frocks designed like that of the honor attendant. They also carried bouquets of pink and white flowers.

Carl Butte was the best man and ushers were Val Dare Sloper, William Stortz and Ronald Nichols.

The bride's mother wore a black crepe dress combined with white lace and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Baker, the bridegroom's mother, wore blue marquisette with pink rosebuds.

A reception followed in the church parlors with the bridal couple and their attendants receiving. Miss Donna Shaffer passed the guest book and Miss Clarice Busselle was in charge of the gift table.

The bride's table was covered with a handsome hand embroidered cloth and centered with the four-tiered wedding cake, smilax, pink and white flowers and burning white candles in crystal holders. Mrs. John A. Hain and Mrs. Carmelite Weddle presided at the urns and Mrs. Edwin Armstrong cut her niece's wedding cake. Assisting in serving were the Misses Lorraine Murdock, Thelma Wilcox, Marion Wampler and Betty Bruckman.

For going away the bride wore a smart gray-green frock with a black short top coat and black accessories. Pinned to her lapel was a corsage of orchids. After a trip to Victoria, B.C., and other points in the north, Mr. Baker and his bride will return to Salem to make their home.

The bride is a graduate of Salem high school and attended Willamette university, where she was a member of Delta Phi. Her fiancé is a graduate of North Dakota schools and is now connected with the Bonesteel Sales and Service company.
