Heir Spurned By Fiancee

Portland, Nov. 16 (AP)—A missing heir, whose twin sister has been paging him through eastern Oregon, said today he wasn't sure he wanted that $28,000 legacy after all.

Frederick Edward Souza, 43-year-old merchant seaman, saw a newspaper story explaining that his sister, Mrs. Frank J. Galvin, San Francisco, was seeking him with his parents' bequest.

"I got to have time to think this over," he said. "I'm all confused."

It was from the newspaper he learned that his parents died two years ago and that his five brothers had been killed in action. "This has hit me," he said. "I called my sister, and she's holding that money safe for me until I get this all figured out. I'm going home for Christmas this year to see her."

Souza, who disappeared into eastern Oregon to regain his health, said he'd been living at Prairie City, "where there are real people."

"Jennie?" he said, asked about the girl whom he'd told his brother-in-law he was going to eastern Oregon to marry. "Ah, she turned me down."

He opened his billfold to a faded picture.

but not too big to be friendly

YES, we're the "big" hotel. And because we are the big hotel, statesman and diplomats, Admirals and Generals, and lots of movie stars just naturally come to The Olympic. Of course we're happy to have them, but actually we are as anxious, in fact more anxious, to have our Northwest neighbors. The apple grows from the Wasatch Valley, the lumber man from Oregon, the mining man from Spokane, the merchant from Portland.

This is their home in Seattle and we want them to use it. We envision The Olympic as being a sort of headquarters for our neighbors from all parts of the state when they are in Seattle. The place to which citizens of the Northwest come just as naturally, and feel just as much at home, as do citizens of the world. And that is precisely what we would like it to be.

So when you come to Seattle, come to The Olympic. You'll find that while we're big, we're not too big to be friendly. That we are going "all out" to deserve your business. And you'll be surprised at the reasonableness of the bill, too!
