Mary Has Pet Duck, Follows Her to School

Mary Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Arnold, 1315 North 21st street, is owner of a pet Mallard duck, which like another Mary's little lamb, follows her to school. Mary attends Englewood school, and the duck, whose name is Oscar, has a lot of fun playing with the children on the school grounds. Also some of the neighborhood dogs like Oscar, one especially. This dog and Oscar have become great pals. One of Mary's aunts presented Oscar to Mary last Easter when the duck was a baby, and had become separated some way from the wild bunch.

Albany Postoffice Records Shattered

Albany—All business volume records at the Albany post office are being shattered by current Christmas mail. Postmaster G. T. Hockensmith said Thursday. After lagging during November and early December, a rush began this week and has increased with such crescendo that not only will December volume set a new record but the record for the year will stand out far above that of last year, which itself set an all-time high.

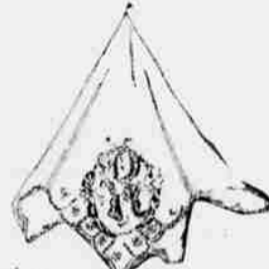

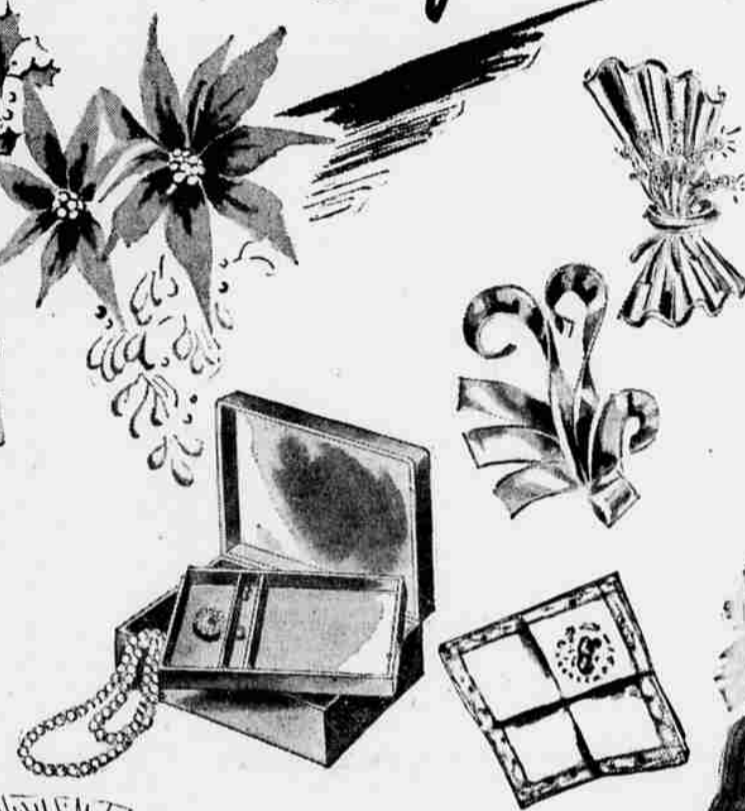

Of special interest to all attending were the films shown by the school superintendent, planned for the PTA meeting; and the health talk by Mrs. Harmon Yearly, a member of the Marion county department of health staff. A suggestion made by Mrs. Agnes Booth, county superintendent of schools, that the council meetings be held at night so that teachers might attend, was brought before the group for consideration by the president, Mrs. W.
