

Salem Art Center Association Presented with Jared French Work

The American Academy of Arts and Letters is presenting Jared French's "A Woman" to the Salem Art Center association, one of the 50 museums and galleries in the United States and Canada selected by the academy to receive one of the 50 paintings, drawings and watercolors bought from the Childé Hassam fund by the academy and exhibited there early this season.

The fund derives from a collection of paintings, water colors and pastels in possession of the artist at his death. They were bequeathed to the academy with the stipulation that they be sold from time to time and income from sales be used to purchase works by contemporary American and Canadian artists for presentations to U. S. and Canadian museums.

The American Academy of Arts and Letters, America's highest representative body of the arts, was founded in 1904 and incorporated, as was the National Institute of Arts and Letters, by an act of congress to further literature and the fine arts in the U. S. President of the academy is Walter Damrosch, distinguished musician, composer and conductor.

SOCIETY

ert John White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Velma J. White of Silverton. Rev. R. W. Achon officiated.

Miss Grace Stevens of Oregon City played the wedding marches and accompanied Miss Maxine and Miss Gwendolyn Beck of Molalla who sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with a lace front panel, court train, V-neck and long gathered sleeves. Her three-fourths length veil, lace trimmed, fell from a lace and flower bonnet. She carried an orchid and gardenia muff with satin background dotted with small pale-blue daisies with streamers of white satin ribbon.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Morfit of Baker, Oregon, wore white net over satin and carried a gardenia and daisy nosegay. Other attendants wearing white net and satin identical gowns, carrying gardenia sheafs from which fell pink and blue ribbon cascades were Miss Caroline Davies, Miss LaVone Sowa, Miss Barbara Larson and Miss Billie Ruth Philpot.

Flower girls were Jennie Lee Sharp of Molalla and Alene DeGure of Silverton wearing fluffy frocks and white satin and lace and carrying baskets of white roses and snapdragons.

John O. Christenson of Portland, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Usners, who also lighted the tapers were Lance White, Woodburn, Roy Borsig of Scotts Mills, Chauncey Bunke of Molalla and Harvey Christenson of Salem.

The bride's cake centered the serving table. Mrs. Chauncey Bunke presided at the urns. Mrs. John O. Christenson was in charge of the punch bowl and Mrs. Elmer Thompson and Miss Kreta Albright cut and served the cakes. Mrs. O. L. Beeden of Baker served the ices, and assisting about the rooms were Miss Cleo Wilson, Miss Wanda Blattman, Miss Jean Schreiber and Miss Laurel Lee Jensen. At the gift table and passing the guest book were Mrs. Harry Isaacs of San Francisco, and Miss Betty Beaty of Molalla.

For going away the bride wore a wool blue-gray tulleur, black accessories and an off-the-face aqua hat. After a week's honeymoon trip to the Oregon beaches the young couple will be at their country home on Butte Creek.

Austin Home Shower Scene

Woodburn—Mrs. H. M. Austin and Mrs. R. E. Harper entertained with a gift shower Tuesday night at the Austin home, honoring Mrs. Frank Butterfield.

To the Editor: The president and his array of advisers insist upon extension of the draft, loans abroad and keeping the nation under a state of war, with some $35 billions in surplus property locked up which is sorely needed in our civilian economy, but so far none of them insist upon paying cannon fodder on a parity with corn and wheat, etc.

On the eve of Mother's day and Father's day and Aunt Betty and others, is it not time that those who supply the cannon fodder insist upon being considered as part of the USA, and having their sons and daughters paid decent compensation—$100 a month and entirely found?

An administration which will pile up $35 billions surplus goods needs a postwar ultimatum superior to executive orders, and a mandate at home to set the national house in better order than playing politics and foreign chess; and also a directive to forbid all foreign speakers using our soil to promote their malicious diplomacy, especially when their avowed promises, such as independence and freedom for India et al, remain so much campaign bunk.

The American people seemingly are treated like so many adolescents, incapable of self-government.

Public opinion has been a force they left to return to Oregon, they experienced an earthquake which made the bric a brac in their room tilt and sway.

Woodburn—Members of Evergreen Chapter No. 41, Order of the Eastern Star who were guests of Chadwick Chapter at Salem Tuesday night were Hazel Hughes, worthy matron and Neal Butterfield, worthy patron who were escorted to the east; Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, associate matron and associate patron, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow C. Dixon, Annettie Simmons, Estelle Anderson, Zoia Lowthian, Nina Ringo, Nona Miller, Lillian Bitney, E. Aline Beers, Minnie E. Melvin, J. W. Moore and Minnie Richards.

Lebanon—News was received this week of the marriage of Miss Eula Frances Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burton of Nashville, Tennessee, to SK 3c Theodore Edwin Daily, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Daily. The wedding was solemnized in Franklin, Ky. and the couple are making their home in Nashville. After April 15, when the bridegroom expects to receive his discharge, they will be at home in Lebanon.

New Rocket Up 43 Miles

Pasadena, March 21 (AP)—A new ionosphere rocket, developed by California Institute of Technology, has soared 43 1/2 miles into space in quest of weather secrets.

The army ordnance department disclosed today that the rocket, weighing 1000 pounds, 16 feet long and 12 inches in diameter, has been turned over to the signal corps. Its job will be to speed into the sub-stratosphere, record temperatures, and release the data by parachute.

Army authorities disclosed that in a recent test at the White Sands proving grounds at Las Cruces, New Mexico, the giant man-made meteor soared to a new American altitude record, 230,000 feet. That is 43 1/2 miles. The test was made under the direction of Lt. Col. Harold R. Turner.

A parachute attachment brings the device back to earth. Its record height exceeds by some 100,000 feet the best achieved by the signal corps' weather balloons. Cost of its development was not disclosed.

Delzell With Hoover Staff

Charles Delzell, who lived in Salem while his father, W. A. Delzell was on the staff of former Governor Walter M. Pierce, has accompanied Herbert Hoover to Europe as a member of President Truman's famine emergency committee. The party has reached Paris on a journey that will cover every European country that has requested food aid from the United States.

Young Delzell's home is now in Portland. He returned to Oregon last fall after service with the intelligence department in Italy. Press releases have mentioned him as a food expert, but it is understood he will serve as an interpreter and statistician. He is a graduate of University of Oregon and took his master's degree at Stanford where he wrote a thesis on the occupation of Belgium after the first World War.

Prior to his appointment to the food committee Delzell had been asked to go to Europe with a group of 12 men commissioned to collect books on war and the causes of war for the Hoover War Library in the Library of
