Hold-up Men Shot to Death

New York, April 13 (AP)—Two holdup men, both war veterans, were shot to death early today in a gun battle with police who said they surprised the pair as they were looting an upper west side hotel.

One of the men, who attempted to shoot his way out with a .38 caliber German Luger pistol, fell fatally wounded in the hotel lobby.

The second, unarmed, fled but was dropped on the sidewalk a short distance from the hotel.

The shootings climaxed a week-long series of fatal shootings in the city which have brought death to eight persons.

Police said the two men, identified from papers in their pockets as John J. Farragher, 32, and Albert J. Ray, former tank corpsmen, entered the Hotel Berkeley bound and gagged the night manager then took $31 from him and $35 from a safe.

Two patrolmen, who had seen the men enter the hotel, followed them into the lobby.

The patrolmen said that when they ordered the pair to put up their hands, Ray opened fire.

Officers were elected and installed Friday night by the Salem Shrine club with L. Parker Lineberry named president to succeed Roy L. Houck, who became a member of the board of directors. Dr. Charles Durden, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, was the installing officer. Other officers elected were Kenneth Bloom, of Albany, and Richard Fish, of Silverton, vice presidents; T. Harold Tomlinson, secretary; Frank Minio and L. B. Gilbertson, directors for two years, and Ray Hoffman and Lee Unruh, directors for one year.

Legion to Hear Former Chiefs

Capital Post No. 9 of the American Legion will hold one of its most important meetings of the year next Monday night, when a packed house will uphold or condemn the activities reports of the post's living past-commanders. Past-Commanders' Night is a Legion institution, with the activities of that particular meeting given almost entirely over to the men who have served the post as commanders in former years. Each in turn must stand before the membership and recite the successes and failures of the year he served, and his every statement is subject to question and correction from the audience.

Post Adjutant Arthur Johnson will send notices of the meeting to the entire membership, now well in excess of 700, announced Commander I. N. Bacon. Following the meeting, Bacon said, an old fashioned pig-feed will be held in Legion Hall.

Since its inception in 1919, the post has elected 29 commanders, including the present one, I. N. Bacon. Six of the 28 past-commanders are deceased. They were W. Carlton Smith, 1920; Dr. B. F. Pound, 1921; George P. Griffith, 1923; Clifford W. Brown, 1925; Glen W. Porter, 1938, and Ray Stumbo, 1941.

Approximately 50 new members are to be initiated at the Monday night meeting, Commander Bacon announced.

Also released from Sugamo today was stolid, unsmiling Kiyoshi Gogo, former president of Mitsubishi heavy industries, also for lack of evidence that he was a war criminal.

His anger ebbing, he said he was well treated in prison. He praised the commandant, Col. Robert M. Hardy, Yakima, Wash.

Asked how the prisoners felt about former Premier Hideki Tojo, Nashimoto replied: "We avoided talking about Tojo and the war."

Veteran of Wars

Nashimoto took part in the Russo-Japanese war and rose through various important posts until he became a full general in 1923 and a field marshal in 1932. He was a supreme war councillor and lord custodian of national shrines for many years.

Alumina Plant

The strike followed a unanimous vote taken by the union Thursday night. At a wage stabilization hearing in Seattle in March a wage increase of from 20 to 25 percent was approved, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which furnishes the money to the Columbia Metals company for the operation, was given until April 15 to decide whether it would abide by the wage decision. The time expires Monday and no word has come from the RFC.

Project Manager Seyfried has informed John B. McCourt of the wage stabilization board in effect that he would like to see the agreement complied with, notwithstanding the plant's uncertain future, so that the process of extracting alumina from clay can be proved.

McCourt has called a special meeting of the 12th regional stabilization board in Seattle for Monday.

Van Sweringen said Saturday that, on the assumption the board will a third time approve the wage increase, the union has given RFC until 3 o'clock next Friday to notify the union and Columbia Metals corporation that the agreement is in effect as to retroactive pay and wage increase.

"If it does not," said Van Sweringen, "the skeleton crew that is keeping about $100,000 worth of solution warmed up will be taken off."

The picket line is to be maintained only during daylight hours.

Russians Using Jeeps to Hunt Wolves

Moscow, April 13 (AP)—The Russians have adapted the jeep to another use—wolf chasing. A report from Bakinsky in the Baku area said that a pack of hungry wolves set upon a drove of horses in the Milky Steppe near a collective farm recently.

A farmer named Dzhabarov, noticing the wolves, turned his jeep off the road and pursued the wolves across the Steppe. The wolves turned tail and fled, whereupon farmer Dzhabarov rounded up the horses and drove them home ahead of his jeep.

Fire Destroys Hatchery

McMinnville, April 12 (AP)—A hatchery fire here last night killed 5000 baby chicks and 3200 young turkeys and caused $12,000 damage to the Cobe Hatchery & Produce company plant. The blaze was believed to have started in a brooder motor.

In the ancient Roman calendar, April was the second month of the year.

Suspect Held for Torso Murder Of Girl Found in Willamette

Milwaukie, Ore., April 13 (AP)—A man was taken into custody today as he was telephoning state police that he could "tell them everything" about the chopped-off torso of a young girl found in the Willamette river last night.

The man called state police from a telephone booth in a Portland auto parking station to say he knew the identity of the girl whose nude torso—head, arms, and legs hacked off—was hauled from the river wrapped in old clothes and burlap sack.

While he was talking on the phone, state police notified city officers, who raced to the Portland parking station and arrested the man.

"I can tell you everything about this murder," he telephoned. He said he could take officers to the spot where the body was cut up, and could identify the girl. He last saw her, he said, the night of April 4.

State police, who took him to headquarters here for questioning, said later they were not sure he actually knew anything about the torso recovered at Wisdom Island moorage here.

H. C. Foster, Portland, and James and Mary Rader, Milwaukie, pulled what they thought was a "bagful of drowned cats" from the water. It turned out to be a mutilated body, wrapped in slacks, long underwear, and a dark sweater and topcoat. Sacking was tied around the bundle with rope and wire.

Ray Rilance, Clackamas county coroner, said the girl appeared to be in her teens or early twenties and weighed about 110 to 115 pounds. He said the knife-wielder did "rather a neat job—at least knew where the joints were." The head, arms and legs were missing.

The coroner estimated the body had been in the water 24 to 36 hours.

Elmer Fisher, Portland weather bureau official, said the body could have been placed in the water "anywhere below Oregon City falls" but could not have drifted upstream from Portland. It was found between here and Portland's Dunthorpe suburb.

Police immediately began the arduous task of identification, hoping for clues in the garments in which the girl was wrapped.

325,000 Japs In Indonesia

London, April 13 (AP)—Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor general of the Dutch East Indies, said today 325,000 Japanese were still in Indonesia—290,000 under allied control and the rest "somewhere in the interior of Java."

Van Mook declined to predict when the withdrawal of British troops from Indonesia, announced last night, would be completed. Dutch forces are to replace the British units in gradual transfers.

The announcement was made in a British communique following a conference attended by the British and Dutch prime ministers and foreign secretaries.

Van Mook said negotiations between the Dutch and Indonesians on the islanders' requests for independence probably would be resolved by an "equal partnership" and provisions for the Indonesians to decide whether they wished to continue such a partnership.

Van Mook said the main need in Indonesia was not so much food as for textiles. Negotiations now are underway with the United States, Britain and Australia for between $100,000,000 and $500,000,000 in foreign credits for reconstruction, he said.

Van Mook will return to Holland today to present the partnership plan to his government and then go back to Indonesia "as soon as possible."

Willis Funeral Service Tuesday

Funeral services for Col. Percy Willis, retired army man and early Marion county educator, who died in Portland Thursday, will be held at the Holman and Lutz chapel in Portland Tuesday at 1 p. m. and interment will be in the City View cemetery here that afternoon at 4 p. m. The services had originally been set for Monday afternoon.

The colonel, a resident of Oregon since 1871, when he came to this state from Texas with his parents, died at his home from a heart attack. He was a graduate of Willamette university, later serving on the board of trustees of the institution for a number of years, and was co-founder of the Second Oregon Infantry Veterans' association.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ida Winnifred Purvine, and two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Borgart of Portland and Mrs. Leona Piper of Los Angeles.

Salem Blossom Week Broadcast

Salem's annual Blossom week and resources and scenery of the Willamette valley will be featured in the Pacific Greyhound radio broadcast Sunday, heard over station KSLM at 10:15 a. m.

This announcement was received in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from F. W. Ackerman of San Francisco, president of the Greyhound lines.

The program will be held over 40 radio stations throughout the west. It is the coming Sunday's feature for the company's regular Sunday broadcast under the general title of "Romance of the Highways."

The broadcaster is Commander Scott who will stress resources and scenic spots of the Willamette valley and the Blossom festival.

The program will be of special significance for the reason that Monday is the beginning of Blossom week in Salem, to be followed by Blossom day the following Sunday.

Veterans Section For Surplus Sales

Washington, April 13 (AP)—Establishment of a veterans' section in all surplus property disposal offices was promised today by the war assets corporation.

Senator Magnuson (D., Wash.) said the corporation notified him of its action in reply to his letter asking why veterans could not get surplus property and if red tape surrounding such purchases could not be eliminated.

He said he was told that under the new plan a veteran could go to the surplus property disposal offices and obtain a complete list of all property they desired.
