14 Boys Escape Training School

Fourteen runaway boys were missing Monday from Oregon State Training school near Woodburn, three having left the institution Saturday night and 11 more Sunday night. State police said that when one group of boys ran away another was sent to find them and failed to return.

15-year-old lad is reported to have been picked up in Portland, and Superintendent M. D. Woolley said the three who left Saturday night were last seen at Hubbard. The youngest of the runaways is 15, the oldest 18. Woolley, who explained that the school is without fences or guards, said a male employe saw 12 walk away in a group Sunday evening.

Running away since 7 p.m. Saturday were Richard Soelberg, 16, whose home is in Portland; Marvin Ryan, 15, Tacoma; Marvin Kirk, 16, Portland.

Leaving Sunday night were: Theodore Rood, 17, Portland; Grant Worden, 17, Seattle; Terry Russell, 17, Portland; Richard Hedges, 16, Reedsport; Alva Stoneman, 17, Portland; Roy Beamer, 16, Portland; Melvin Dahl, 16, St. Helens; Donald Callahan, 18, Portland; Lowell Nold, 16, Portland; Philip Ehrstrom, 16, Portland; Ronald Saxton, 16, Adrian.

YWCA's Fund Receives $1500

YW building fund campaigners were $1500 nearer their goal following the Friday night "information dinner" given at the Marion hotel, that sum having been quietly donated at the close of the dinner by Mrs. C. A. Ratcliff. The money is to be used for the new YW home's vestibule, a memorial to the mother of Mrs. Ratcliff, Mrs. Josephine Elliott Keller Barger.

The speaker for the dinner, Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, president of the College of Puget Sound, told his audience that Salem is privileged in the opportunity to invest in the future of its young women by erecting a building to house such an organization. He further stated that now with the war over the energy once put into making ships and planes and other supplies could do wonders if diverted in channels of character, health and hearts of people.

Douglas McKay said that organizations such as the YWCA are those of which Salem should be proud with the people of this city giving them the support that a growing city demands. He reminded his listeners that a donation to the building fund was not a gift for a lifetime being but a gift for a lifetime. Mrs. Frank Spears, Sr., chairman for the building campaign, pointed out the need for the new building.

Mrs. Harold A. Rosebraugh was toastmistress for the program at which short talks were also made by Mrs. Esther Little, Miss Betty Dotson, Janet Miller and Mildred Hagen. Numbers by the Tri-Y choir, directed by Virginia Ward Elliot, and violin selections by Donna Jean Macklin, who was accompanied by Jewell Gueffroy, completed the program.

Jefferson High Wins Typing Test

Jefferson high school's team of three girls won the annual typing contest at Capital Business college Saturday, sponsored by that institution. The trophy cup which was awarded to Woodburn last year was taken over by Jefferson, and must be won twice in succession to become a permanent possession. The contest is for high school students of Marion, Polk and Linn counties.

Second place was won by Dallas and third by Lebanon. Other schools participating were Seio, Stayton and Woodburn.

Members of the winning Jefferson team were June Zeller, Joy Zeller and Ione Rothrock. Members of the Dallas team were Mary Lou Osborn, Clara Mikkelsen, and Vivian Richardson. On the Lebanon team were Ruth Bazant, Nancy Gleason and Elizabeth Waddell.

Resolutions Against CVA Are Requested

Manager Clay Cochran of the Chamber of Commerce has been requested by Robert W. Sawyer of Bend, first vice president of the National Reclamation association, to get a number of resolutions in Marion, Polk and Linn counties opposing the Columbia valley authority bill in congress. He is asked to contact Chambers of Commerce, service clubs, farmers' organizations and others.

The bill is to have a hearing before a senate subcommittee and opponents are to be heard June 27 and 28. Sawyer said he would attend the hearing.

GOPHERS PREFER PARSNIPS, CLAIM

Parsnips coated with arsenic are high on the preference list of pocket-gophers and are much preferred to either carrots or potatoes. It has been found by R. W. Hogg, veteran Polk county farmer. So that is what he feeds them as part of his extermination program.

Hogg has been farming in Polk county for 42 years, starting in Nebraska when a boy of 10 years when he drove a lead team of oxen to break ground. Things have changed, he admits, as he points to the latest addition to his farm equipment—a power hoist to lift heavy farm materials.

Phone Strike Vote Slated

San Francisco, May 13 (AP)—Officials of 13 telephone unions today planned to poll 46,800 workers to see if they favored a strike against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The strike poll was ordered after the union and the company were unable to come to an agreement on wage increases.

Denile Johnston, union spokesman, said it would require three weeks to assemble strike ballots from members in California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and other western states. He fixed June 25 as the earliest possible date for a walkout under terms of the Smith-Connally act requiring a 30-day cooling off period.

The union asked a $3 weekly increase for all employes. The company offered a $2 raise for 10,000 men and $3 for the women.

No Agreement In North Iran

Tehran, Iran, May 13 (AP)—Jafar Pishaveh, "premier" of the dissident Azerbaijani province, left Tehran today and sources close to the central government said no agreement had been reached.

Iran has been negotiating with Hehaz officials in secret for several days.

Central government sources said the unfavorable flying weather which blocked his departure may have prevented civil war by prolonging the conversations.

Pishaveh went to the Tehran airport yesterday morning, but was unable to leave because of adverse weather reports.

Pishaveh later called Premier Ahmed Qavam of the central Iranian government and agreed to reopen negotiations on the return of the self-proclaimed independent province of Azerbaijan to the central government's jurisdiction, according to a translator in Qavam's office.

The official radio station in Tabriz, Azerbaijan capital, asserted earlier that negotiations had broken down because of "reactionary elements" in Tehran, and said the Azerbaijani people were "ready to fight."

A two-day conference for Boy Scout executives is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday at the Marion hotel. Monday's program will be devoted to finances with Walter Whidden and Rex Mugar of the Portland regional office in charge. The balance of the conference will be devoted to completing plans for a tour of Alaska by senior scouts and for participation in the aquatic and sports camps to be held in Seattle later in the season.

First bids for the star mail route between Salem, Silverton and Woodburn were found unsuitable, according to Henry Alm, Silverton postmaster, who is calling for bids for the second time. Application blanks are obtainable at the Silverton post office, Alm says.

Prices on Clocks Will be Increased

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The OPA today increased retail prices on mechanical and electric clocks an average of six per cent over pre-war values. OPA said the increases meet higher labor and materials costs.

Dethroned King Exiled in Egypt

Alexandria, May 13 (AP)—Vittorio Emanuele settled down to a life of exile in Egypt today after a reign of nearly 46 years as king of Italy, thus joining the growing ranks of Europe's homeless royalty.

The weary little man and his wife, the former Queen Elena, were greeted by Egypt's King Farouk when they departed here yesterday from an Italian cruiser.

In sharp contrast to the Italian royal family's gala welcome during their last visit to Alexandria in 1933, the former monarch and his entourage were spirited into a car and whisked behind a motorcycle escort through virtually deserted streets to Antoniadis palace, where he will remain temporarily.

As the elderly ex-king prepared to embark, he turned to the crew lined up amidships. "Farewell to you," he said. "You are the men I loved all my life."

Gen. Ho Quits As Army Chief

Nanking, May 13 (AP)—Gen. Ho Ying-Chin announced today that he was resigning his post as commander-in-chief of all Chinese ground forces "to make way for a younger man."

Ho at the same time accused Gen. Chou En-Lai, communist leader, of trying to drag Russia into the Chinese civil war in Manchuria.

Only yesterday Chou said he believed a bloc within the nationalist government was trying to entice the United States into the war on the side of the Kuomintang.

Ho today denounced Chou's charge as "fabrication without the slightest foundation." He counter-charged that Chou was using it as a camouflage for communist activity.

In announcing his resignation Ho said he would be a member of the strategic advisory board which advises Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

Nationalist press reports said communist troops were encircling Peiping and Tientsin, linking up their North China armies with those in Manchuria.

Police Seeking Check Operator

Salem police have joined a nationwide lookout for Vernice Charla, otherwise known as Sue Anne Arlyne Reed and many other aliases, wanted by the FBI and police in many parts of the country for bad check operations on a large scale. In Salem she passed a $1700 check on a furniture store and $1000 on a real estate firm, but returns netted were not large.

The woman, about 50 years old, drove her car into the State Motors, 340 North High, April 20, and ordered repairs on the car that amounted to $18.95. She requested the shop foreman to call the Senator hotel and get her a reservation, which he did, and she was at the hotel, registered as Mrs. Reed, until the following Monday, giving her address as Wild Horse Mesa, Wyo.

Bicycles, Bad Checks

Monday afternoon she got her car from the shop, paying cash for the repairs. In the car was a new bicycle, which she said she had bought for her daughter, but had discovered that her husband had already bought one and she tried to sell it to the shopmen for $39.95, the amount she claimed to have paid for it.

While in Salem the woman paid down $1000 by check on a house and at the furniture store gave a check for $1700 on an Alaska bank for furniture to furnish the house. Bad checks were given in both instances. Of the things purchased at the furniture store she took away an ironing board and a radio phonograph, valued at $35 or $40.

Presumably she had acquired the bicycle in a similar manner and netted returns from her operations by selling articles she got possession of in this manner.

At the State Motors shop the woman had a good deal to say about her big cattle ranch in Wyoming.

Tom Kay Tapped By U of O Friars

Thomas Kay of Salem, who is majoring in business administration at the University of Oregon, was tapped for membership in Friars, senior men's honorary, at the junior week-end picnic held on the campus Saturday. Kay is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Erceel W. Kay, 1525 Fairmount.

Gambling Boss Still Missing

Chicago, May 13 (AP)—Underworld sources believed today that Edward P. Jones, 48, multi-millionaire negro gambling overlord, would be held by kidnapers until he surrenders control of Chicago's fabulous polley racket, or killed if he does not.

Police believed Jones may have been kidnaped by former henchmen of Scarface Al Capone, who have been fighting for control of the city's lucrative gambling business. Fearing the worst, they searched alleys and catch basins of the south side Negro districts.

Jones who rose from dining car waiter to millionaire and lived in a Michigan avenue mansion, was kidnaped late Saturday night by four masked men who stopped pursuing police with blasts from sub-machine guns.

Investigators did not overlook the possibility that Jones was kidnaped for ransom, possibly by white men who served with him in federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., where he did a 28-month stretch for income tax evasion.

Operations in Arctic Proved

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The joint Canadian and American Muskox expedition to the Arctic proved conclusively that the military forces can operate above the Arctic circle, American military observers said today.

The observers returned from Ft. Nelson, Canada, where they participated in the closing phases of the 81-day trek above the Arctic circle.

The health of the 50 men who made the rigorous trip was "slightly improved" at the end of the trip over what it was at the start, an army medical observer said.

The tractor-propelled snowmobiles used in the expedition carried the party over the Arctic wastes without serious breakdown. The snowmobiles received gasoline dropped from American army planes guided to the party by radar and Loran systems of navigation.

Fight Materialism, Is Pope's Counsel

Vatican City, May 13 (AP)—Pope Pius XII in a special broadcast to Portugal said today that "all must now fight the present world tendencies toward materialism and no one can remain neutral in this struggle."

The pope spoke briefly in connection with ceremonies commemorating the sanctuary of Fatima.

The pope yesterday advised Italian women to vote for only those political candidates who guarantee to respect the rights of God and the church. His remarks were taken as an implied rebuke to Italian leftist parties in the forthcoming election.

Gregg Nominated For Tariff Board

Washington, May 13 (AP)—President Truman today nominated John Price Gregg of Oregon to be a member of the U.S. tariff commission.

At the same time he nominated Paul A. Walker of Oklahoma for reappointment as a member of the federal communications commission and Chas. I. Lafferty of Atlantic City, N.J., for reappointment as comptroller of customs.

Portland, May 13 (AP)—John Price Gregg, nominated today for the U.S. tariff commission, was born in Portland and after the first World war moved to New York to practice law. He is a 1913 graduate of Stanford university.

Hi Y Chapters Honor Mothers

The three senior Hi-Y chapters Sunday morning sponsored their annual Mother's day breakfast at the YMCA with approximately 100 boys and their mothers in attendance. Frank B. Bennett, superintendent of the Salem schools, gave an inspirational address while Dick Close, president of the Harrison Elliott chapter, presided as toastmaster. Bill Ready, president of Abel Gregg chapter, was general chairman for the entire program.

Mrs. E. O. Welling, president of the Hi-Y Mothers club, spoke briefly while she and Mrs. B. M. Fitzmaurice, immediate past president of this organization, were presented with Hi-Y pins in recognition of their services. Eight members of the Hi-Y Mothers club were presented with hard work serving trays for their work in preparing the false ceiling for the Salem high school gymnasium in connection with the annual Hi-Y formal.

The Hi-Y "hashers" served Sunday morning's breakfast while Mrs. Ivy Coons and Mrs. E. B. Daugherty presided in the kitchen.

Doubts Bikini Tidal Wave

Seattle, May 13 (AP)—A University of Washington physicist said Saturday he doubted if a tidal wave would result from the Bikini atoll atom bomb test, and hedged his opinion with this remark:

"Of course you can't hold me responsible for this prediction. If I'm wrong I won't be coming home at all."

(The professor, Joseph E. Henderson, director of the university's applied physics laboratory, will be a member of the "operations crossroads" expedition.)

"We all are taking out extra-hazard insurance," Henderson said, "but I expect to return from Bikini alive and I don't expect to find my waterfront home here engulfed."

Grand Jury Probes Murhammer Death

The office of District Attorney Miller B. Hayden said Monday the grand jury would investigate the case of Thomas Joseph Murhammer who died Saturday afternoon in a Salem hospital as the result of a gunshot wound from a rifle in the hands of Millard Elfborg near Chemawa Friday.

The shooting is presumed to have been accidental. Murhammer, 37, was at work on his farm and Elfborg, 24, was target shooting with a .22-caliber rifle. There was evidence, state police said, that Murhammer was struck by a deflected bullet. The missile entered the farmer's head.

Murhammer is survived by his widow and two children, Joyce and Ronald. The funeral will be held from the Clough-Barriek chapel Tuesday with Rev. Dudley Strain officiating.
