

Dallas Elects Six Teachers

Dallas—Six teachers have been elected by Dallas school board to fill vacancies in the system for the coming school year, S. E. Whitworth, superintendent, announced.

Melvin L. Gilson has been added to the faculty to direct band in the high school and junior high. He will have other class and study hall assignments in the high school. Band will be offered as a full-credit subject with classes for both beginning and advanced students. Gilson is a graduate of Willamette university and has been teaching in Madras. His home is in Salem.

Mrs. May Lucas will have girls' physical education and health classes in the junior high, taking the place of Mrs. Betty Buell, who does not plan to teach. Mrs. Lucas now teaches at Liberty school near Salem.

Succeeding Mrs. Lois Alsip, who will teach other subjects, Mrs. Glenna Jones, now of Pendleton, will have art classes on the junior high staff.

Mrs. Fannie Domaschofsky, who has taught in Dallas before, will have a fourth grade room, filling the position left vacant by Miss Elva Boone, who will be transferred to the third grade room.

Also in the grade school, Miss Mae Vincent of Monmouth will have a third grade room, succeeding Miss Eunice Bratton, resigned. Miss Vincent is a graduate of Oregon College of Education and was recently discharged from the Waves. She is now taking graduate work at OCE.

Mrs. Eunice Stovall has been hired to teach at Mountain Top school at Black Rock camp of the Willamette Valley Lumber Co. The school is to be maintained again by the Dallas district to accommodate several families living there. Mrs. Stovall has had several years teaching experience and is a graduate of Southern Oregon College of Education. Her husband is a woods foreman at the camp.
