Nicolai Redin Again Indicted

Seattle, June 13 (AP)—Lt. Nicolai G. Redin of the Russian navy, was re-arrested today on a new secret indictment charging espionage against the United States. The true bill named Herbert Kennedy, a Todd Pacific shipyard engineer, as having been induced by Redin to obtain information about the destroyer tender Yellowstone built here.

Allan Pomery, assistant district attorney, said Kennedy, on vacation in Canada, would be produced in court June 25, as a government witness against Redin.

The new indictment covers and corrects the fourth count of the original indictment, dismissed last month by District Judge Lloyd L. Black, because it failed to name any person, and failed to state the name of the person, whom Redin was alleged to have "induced."

Redin was originally arrested at Portland, Ore., last March and later charged in a five-count indictment. He posted $10,000 bail then, and was released on an additional $5,000 personal recognizance bond following today's new action.

Pomery asked the U. S. court today to consolidate the two indictments for the trial June 25.

Multnomah Jail Charges

Sheriff Denver Young has received notification from the sheriff's office in Multnomah county that hereafter prisoners arrested there and held in the county jail for outside counties will be held on a basis of $1.25 a day for their keep. Heretofore, said Sheriff Young, the counties have operated on a reciprocal basis and neither one charged the other for holding prisoners.

"Whether we will still continue on a reciprocal basis and also charge Multnomah county for their prisoners held here has not been decided," said the sheriff. "However, Multnomah county is pretty well justified in its action. All of the rift-ratt converge on the metropolis and I would guess that 25 percent of the prisoners they take in the county jail are being held for outside counties and this is a tremendous drain on their resources. We don't have any great number there and because of our proximity they don't stay there very long, as when a prisoner is arrested there for Marion county we aim to pick him up immediately, if a man is available to get him. Neither does Multnomah county have any great number of prisoners held here during the course of the year, so it isn't a matter involving any great expense either way."

Smelters End 5 Month's Strike

Washington, June 12 (AP)—An agreement between the CIO-Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the American Smelting and Refining Co., ending a five-month strike at 18 plants was signed yesterday.

Government conciliators aided in the settlement.

Work is to be resumed by the 5,000 employees, on strike since January 21, next Monday, subject to local settlements.

The federal fact finding board's recommended 18 1/2 cent hourly wage increase was agreed upon, with half of 9 1/4 to be retroactive to Oct. 1, 1945.

The balance is to be effected with resumption of operations, presumably June 17.

The union contracts of all plants are to contain a no-strike and no-lockout provision for the duration of the contract, which will run to June 30, 1947, without any reopening clause.

Fireworks Ban May Be Lifted

Although the war isn't officially over the ban on the sale and use of firecrackers and other forms of fireworks may be lifted for the Fourth of July season this year.

Mayor I. M. Doughton hasn't definitely decided what will be done about it, but rather likes to see the youngsters enjoy themselves in the old-fashioned way, and the mayor is largely the authority in the matter.

There is, however, a city ordinance, enacted May 5, 1942, that prohibits sale, distribution or use of firecrackers or fireworks during the war, and the mayor might not be able to do anything about that if any local killjoy wanted to hang tough and insist that the war isn't over and that fireworks should still be banned.

Anyway, the council may have to repeal the ordinance. It was enacted at the advice of national defense authorities.

By an ordinance enacted June 15, 1925, when the late John B. Giesy was mayor, the sale of fireworks inside the city limits is prohibited except on permit from the mayor, and the permit must give the dates on which sales are allowed.

And fireworks are definitely out in Fire Zone No. 1, which is the downtown business area.

This is by an ordinance enacted June 7, 1939, which prohibits the use of fireworks in that zone.

H. J. Pendergast, 454 South 17th street, reported to police the theft last night of a wheel from his automobile while the car was parked at Richmond and Mill streets.

PORTLAND AIR SHOW STAGED SATURDAY

Portland, June 13 (AP)—The first of a group of army fliers who will present an air show at Portland army air base Saturday and Sunday have arrived here.

The show, designed to help finance activities of the civil air patrol, will include P-51s, A-26, B-29, the P-80 jet fighter and an R5 helicopter. A C-54 plane will be on display, Lt. Col. G. Robert Dodson, wing commander, said.

3 Day Trip to Highway Parks

A three-day trip for tourist promotion is being arranged along the Oregon coast by the National Conference on State Parks with the cooperation of the park service of the Oregon state highway department, and the tentative dates are September 29 and 30 and October 1.

A letter to the Chamber of Commerce from S. H. Boardman, superintendent of state parks for the Oregon commission, says the caravan, which will be on a long tour and move into Oregon from California, probably will number 200 or 300 persons.

According to the tentative schedule the caravan will travel on September 29 from Eureka, Calif., 151 miles to Gold Beach, Ore., and will visit Azalea, Harris Beach, Cape Sebastian and Buena Vista parks, and make a boat trip up the Rogue river to Agnes.

On Monday, Sept. 30, the caravan will move to Newport, 197 miles, and will visit Humboldt mountain, Battle Rock, Cape Arago, Simpson, Umpqua, Tideways, Honeyman, Devil's Elbow, Ponsler, Neptune, Cape Perpetua, Yachats, Seal Rocks and Yaquina.

On October 1, Tuesday, the travelers will move on 126 miles to Seaside, visiting Devil's Punch Bowl, Otter Crest, Rocky Creek, DePoe Bay, Boiler Bay, Cape Lookout, Short Sand and Ecila.

The final meeting will be in Ecila State Park if the weather is favorable. Otherwise it will be held in Seaside.

Mrs. VanCleave Passes at Scio

Funeral services will be held at the Clough-Barrick chapel Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Iris O. Looney VanCleave, who died at her home on route 2, Scio, Tuesday. Interment will follow in Belcrest Memorial park.

Mrs. VanCleave was born March 13, 1888, in the Hazel Green district near Salem. In 1911 she was married to Charles A. VanCleave, who survives her.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Charlotte B. Smith of Parkdale, Oregon; three sons, LaRoy A. VanCleave of Taft, Robert A. VanCleave of San Diego and Rolland VanCleave of Scio; two brothers, Bert Looney of Oregon City and Guy G. Looney of Salem, and four grandchildren.

South Commercial Street Robberies

At least one burglar, and maybe more, were active Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning on South Commercial street where two business places were entered.

At the Foreman Cleaners, 1070 South Commercial, where the thief is believed to have entered after midnight, about $40 in money was taken and a change of clothes made by the burglar. A strong box was taken to the lavatory where an attempt was made to open it with a pair of scissors, but given up. Entry was made by a window.

At Beach's Market, 1073 South Commercial, entry was made into a store-room at the rear, but nothing was taken.

Mrs. Stevens Goes to Linn

With the Marion county office of the Red Cross as director of home service since October 10, 1945, Mrs. Virginia Stevens, this month submitted her resignation to the local chapter and July 1 will take over the duties of executive secretary for the Linn county chapter of the Red Cross with headquarters in Albany.

Mrs. Stevens, who before coming to Salem was at Ephrata, Wash., last fall replaced Mrs. Estelle Jamieson, acting home service director since the resignation of Orpha Daseh over a year ago. At Ephrata Mrs. Stevens served in the double capacity of Red Cross executive secretary and acting field director for the Red Cross at the Ephrata army air base. She has spent 16 years in Red Cross work. Before going to Ephrata she did home service work and at one time was a chapter chairman.

No appointment has been made of a successor to Mrs. Stevens.

Also submitting her resignation to the chapter this month was Mrs. Elsie Holman, secretary in the home service department, who for some time has served with the Red Cross in a secretarial capacity. She has no plans for the future.

Rotarians Hosts To Prize Winners

Winners of Rotary club scholarships to Willamette University were presented to the club Wednesday noon by Arthur D. Hay, associate justice of the state supreme court. They are William Merriam, Salem high school and Carl Jorgenson, Gervais union high school. Because both boys are going into military service, the scholarships will be held for them and made available upon their return.

Development of the capabilities of the individuals within the club, together with friendship and goodwill, without which everything goes wrong if they are lost, was outlined to club members by Walter Gleason, member of the Portland club for 23 years and state secretary of the Knights of Pythias.

Every great accomplished reform or invention started with one person, impelled by a deep conviction, he said. One of the great problems faced by the nation today is the indifference of good people, as evinced at the last election, Gleason said.

Leg Fractured by Auto on Highway

Jack C. Simpson, whose home is at 1138 North Skidmore, Portland, suffered the compound fracture of his left leg just above the ankle when he was struck by an automobile in the 2600 block on Portland road just after 10:30 Wednesday night. He also received lacerations on the face and scalp and was taken by first aid to Salem General hospital.

Simpson was walking near the intersection of Portland and Silverton roads when hit by the car, which was driven by George R. Rempel, 735 Breys avenue. Simpson was lying in the street when police and first aid arrived.

Paul Goette, 3 years old, was struck by a car, first aid reported Thursday, near his home at 695 South 25th street. The injuries apparently were not serious and he was taken home.

Elbert Smith, professor of chemistry for the past three years at Hamline college, St. Paul, Minn., is in Salem to spend the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith, 2595 Brooks ave., Salem. Prof. Smith has been engaged to fill the chair of chemistry at Denver university and will go to the Colorado capital this fall. He was graduated from Oregon State college. This is his first visit home in three years.

BOTULISM: Canning Time Prompts Annual Warning

Botulism poisoning, probably the most dreaded type of food poisoning and which kills from one to three persons a year in Oregon, can be easily and positively eliminated simply by making sure that canned food in which it occurs is boiled 10 minutes before tasting as soon as the can or jar is opened.

This is the warning given by G. V. Copson, head of the bacteriology department at Oregon State college, as this year's canning season starts. While botulism has been reported at least once in almost every food, about 90 percent of all cases have resulted from canned string beans and asparagus used cold as in a salad, and in canned corn that was warmed but not boiled, he added.

"The real danger of botulism is that it strikes so seldom that people become careless in preparation of canned food," Copson explained. "Because the deadly bacteria which cause botulism are so abundant in Oregon soil, constant care is needed. Nationally known commercially canned products have never been reported as causing botulism."

It is not safe to depend on odor or off flavor to reveal botulism contamination, the bacteriologist warns. Eating just one string bean that appeared normal caused the death of a woman who sampled a can before cooking the beans for the family, which ate them without injury after they were boiled. Half an olive has also proved fatal.

Following correct, conscientious canning methods is the first step in eliminating death from botulism, and the next is making sure that home canned susceptible foods are boiled 10 minutes as soon as opened and before they are even tasted, he concluded. "If leftovers are put away for a few days, it is safest to boil them again."

Clinic Building To Cost $35,000

A building permit was issued Thursday at the office of City Engineer J. H. Davis to the T. B. Jones estate for the erection of a store building one story high at 375 North High street. Additionally on record in the day's report were four new residences to cost a total of $23,500.

From Portland came information that the civilian production administration has approved the construction of a clinic building at 13th and Center streets by Dr. Charles Campbell and others to cost an estimated $35,000. An application by Geo. N. Hawkins to build a restaurant in Salem at a cost of $7000 has been rejected by the CPA.

Permits recorded at the engineer's office Thursday for new dwellings were: Vick Brothers, 1 1/2-story dwelling at 1015 rural, $500; Floyd L. Blomquist, to build a one-story dwelling at 345 S. 17th, $600; R. K. Broadbent, to build one-story dwelling and garage at 800 Rural, $700; Bill Thomas, to build a one-story dwelling at 355 E. Wilson, $500.

Other permits: Fred Lamport, for W. McCarthy, to alter store building at 147 N. Main, $800; A. C. Pfeiffer, to re-put a one-story dwelling at 2075 N. Fourth, $225; Robert W. Shulman, to alter a one-story dwelling at 2347 Bresman, $1500; O. L. Morris, to repair a one-story dwelling at 1183 Marion, $2000; Paul Hansen, to alter a two-story apartment house at 1793 North Cottage, $175; Melrose estate, to alter a store building at 338 S. Liberty, $250; Litle & Hildebrand, to alter a 1 1/2-story dwelling at 610 Shipping, $450; Ada Brannstrom, to alter a one-story dwelling at 345 E. 20th, $1100; Dan Larmer, to alter a two-story dwelling at 1616 E. Summer, $500; A. J. Anderson, to alter a two-story dwelling at 1295 Fir, $400.

Certificate of assumed business name for Cherry City Cottages, 2300 Fairgrounds Road, has been filed with the county clerk by Carl P. and Loeta J. Gies.

Orin G. Dexter Reported Missing

Reported missing from his home at Playmore park, Hubbard, is Orin G. Dexter, 27, who hasn't been seen by members of his family or neighbors since Friday. It is believed he may have gone to Colorado, or enlisted in the army.

A report on his disappearance was made to Salem police by Helen M. Dexter, 503 Young street, Woodburn. She said he was driving a 1940 Chevrolet convertible, five-passenger coupe, maroon in color and carrying Oregon license 263-402.
