

Walker Heads Mt. Angel Post

Mt. Angel—Most of the offices in the annual Legion election went to War II veterans Tuesday night. Lloyd Walker was voted in as commander.

Other officers are: Vice commander, Flavius Annen; adjutant, Jake Eberle; finance officer, Joseph L. Faulhaber; service officer, Fred Prosser; chaplain, Carl Erwert; sergeant at arms, Leo Traeger; executive committee, Fred Lucht, Frank Walker and A. G. Traeger.

Walker, Annen and Earl Birtchett were selected as delegates to the state convention. Alternates, Fred Lucht, A. G. Traeger and Harry Borckenhagen.

A picnic for the Legion and auxiliary members and their families was planned for July Fourth at Silverton park. The women are to bring the lunch and a post committee consisting of Harry Borckenhagen, Flavius Annen and Joe Faulhaber will furnish the drinks and ice cream.

The commander appointed Peter Gores, Crowder and Annen to see about having two plaques made and put up in the Memorial hall, one giving the names of all veterans of both wars killed in action and one the names of all deceased veterans.

The next meeting date for post and unit was shifted from June 25 to Wednesday, June 26. County council at Aurora was announced for next Friday, June 14.

The auxiliary will hold installation at the next meeting of July 9. The Silverton installing team will be invited to officiate with Mrs. Jessie Siefert, district No. 2 president as installing officer.

Mrs. Mae Hergenke, president-elect for the next year, gave a brief talk about her recent plane trip to Boston to attend the Catholic News conference.

Mrs. Lucht announced that Sylvia Lucht and Anita Norton are attending Girls State this week.

Garden Club Show Judged by Experts

Dallas—A judge accredited by the State Federation of Garden Clubs will be present June 14 at the flower show sponsored by the Dallas Garden club in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, according to Mrs. Homer Bevens, show chairman.

Horticultural exhibits will be judged for best horticultural practice, such as large, unblemished bloom, healthy foliage, long, strong stems and other points.

In the arrangement sections the exhibitor chooses whatever combinations of foliage and bloom he considers the most pleasing. These are to be judged by the floral picture made, the suitability for the occasion planned and the relation of the flowers to the container.

Doors will be closed to entries at 10:45 and to visitors while the judging is in progress.

Visitors are welcome after 1 p.m. until 9 that evening. At 2 p.m. the judge will talk briefly to those attending the show.

Better Fair Location is Lebanon Aim

Lebanon—The Chamber of Commerce gave lengthy consideration Monday evening to the future site of the strawberry fair.

The question was raised whether the festival had not outgrown the streets and should be transferred in whole to a property such as the city park where buildings could be erected for the exhibits. A special committee was named to consider the matter and report findings at the next meeting.

L. E. Arnold, member of the Linn county fair board, outlined plans now under consideration for establishing a new site for the 4-H fair.

The local chamber will enter a float in the Albany timber carnival parade, scheduled for July 4.

Club Luncheon Temple Feature

Silverton—Among the early summer activities of Home Temple No. 21, Pythian Sisters, was the Altruistic club in a no-hostess luncheon and all-day work program at the country home of the Ben Giffords, with Arlyss Johnson as co-hostess with Mrs. Gifford, her mother Mrs. Nettie Custer was welcomed following many months of illness from which she is satisfactorily recovering. Mrs. Carl Specht will be home hostess to the club at its next meeting, Friday, July 5.

Marion Nicol, M. E. C., presided at the regular weekly meeting when the members agreed to ask the grand chief's sanction of a summer vacation from regular meetings through August and September, with the auditing committee to complete its work prior to the vacation.

Helen M. Wrightman, Josephine Hartman and Goldie Down as program committee will plan appropriate flag day observances for the June 20 session.

At this meeting a grand representative and alternate will be elected to attend the October Grand Temple session in Portland. Also at this session initiation of four new members will be featured, under direction of the social committee, Olive Morley, Virginia Loe, Elizabeth Nicol and Marion Nicol.

At the week's meeting, a full-course luncheon was served by the social committee, Lena Hamilton, Josephine Hartman, Arlyss Johnson and Henrietta Loe, in compliment to the special guests, the four new initiates Ruth Lorenzen, Maud Taylor, Edith Grace and Irene Moseng.

St. Paul Rodeo Holds Interest

St. Paul—Not only Queen-elect Donna McKay and her court of comely cowgirl princesses are looking forward to the opening of the 11th annual St. Paul Rodeo July 2.

Rodeo association president Ray Manegre said this week that he's received indications from some of the nation's outstanding rodeo performers that they will be on hand for Western Oregon's premier wild west show.

Among the top hands expected to return to St. Paul are Dave Campbell, Las Vegas, Nev.; Pud Adair, Phoenix, Ariz.; Barney Willis, White Salmon, Wash.; Tom Bride, Fossil, and Dick Herron, Reno, Nev. Thousands of dollars in prize money, trophies and other awards will be given during this three-day July Fourth event, Manegre said.

Assurance that St. Paul's wild horse race will be wilder than ever was shown this week by the arrival of a shipment of mavericks from Jordan Valley where they were recently purchased by a committee composed of Manegre, John McKillip, both of St. Paul, and Robin Day of Salem. The animals are being pastured near here until the rodeo starts. On Sunday, July 7, they will be auctioned to the highest bidder at rodeo park.

Amity

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kirts, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood and Tom Glover attended the regular meeting of Bert Clark camp and auxiliary. Spanish American War veterans, in McMinnville. This organization will put on a degree at the state meeting in Salem.

Mrs. H. W. Torbet will be hostess for the Woman's Civic club Tuesday afternoon June 18. Election of officers will feature this last meeting of the club year.

Jay D. Coulter, a former Amity man, who has been in Washington, D. C., as an attorney with the veterans bureau for a number of years, has been transferred to the Seattle office. He visited here a few days recently. His daughter, Paula, is attending a girls' school in New York city and will join her father during the summer vacation.

Mrs. Edwin Sutherland of Powell Butte and Mrs. Melissa Sutherland are visitors at the Bert Sutherland home. Mrs. Bert Sutherland was able to be moved from the Dr. Law hospital, where she was convalescing from a surgical operation.

Mrs. Tyrus Cronk and infant son of Salem are at the Earl Cronk home here.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Law and their daughter, Mrs. Louise Barmore, left Friday for a vacation of several days' duration along the Oregon coast.

Retired Detective Making Home Here

Woodburn—Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hackett have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks of Paterson, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. George Ryder of Garnerville, N. Y.

They came west to establish a home on their acreage east of town.

Brooks recently retired from the detective service in which he served for 39 years.

Ryder is an electrician and expects to follow his trade here in Oregon.

Also visiting the Hackett home are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Good of Aldersyde, Alta, Canada.

Lebanon Seeks Highway Spot

Lebanon—Efforts are being launched to establish the proposed Cascades highway from Springfield to Oregon City routed through Lebanon, it was disclosed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting when the group unanimously approved a motion to invite representatives of interested cities to a meeting here.

The project, which would entail getting the route labeled a secondary state highway, was initiated several years ago but was not pushed during the war. In recent months, however, organizations of municipalities along the route have renewed agitation in favor of the proposal and this led to the decision to hold the meeting here.

Among cities which will be asked to send delegates to the meeting are Oregon City, Silverton, Scio, Stayton, Brownsville, Molalla, Sweet Home, Springfield and Eugene.

The motion for the meeting carried with it a plan for the Chamber to secure the Linn county court's support of the proposal. The court will be asked to request the state highway commission to establish the route as a state secondary highway, action which has already been taken in some other counties.

Baptist Association Meets at Sheridan

Harmony—The sixty-fourth annual session of the Middle Oregon Baptist association was held with the Union Baptist church of Harmony near Sheridan. There were 200 messengers and visitors present from 21 churches in different parts of Oregon, Idaho and California. Elder C. V.
