

Berry Picker Getting Rich And Also Sets High Record

Silverton—Gale Jackson, 15-year-old senior high student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jackson of Pine and James streets, is believed to retain the highest wage honors in the strawberry fields for a day's picking this season. Gale raised her own record of $15.30 (not $15.05 as was unintentionally reported previously) to a $20.10 pay for Saturday when she worked the full day.

East Salem's Group Served

East Salem, June 18—Members of the Capital Social club met for their annual dinner party. Each year they go out into one of the suburbs and communities and have their dinner served "family style." This year members of the Swegle Women's club served the dinner in the community club hall at Four Corners. An informal evening of cards followed the dinner hour. Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Seallars, and committee chairmen for the Swegle club were Mrs. Charles Bottorff and Mrs. William Damery. There were 42 members present for the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sunderland are among the younger returned service folk who have purchased an acreage and started a new home. They have north two acres on Lancaster drive north of the Silverton road.

Loane and Barbara Podrasky, Carol Timmer, Lela, Mary Ellen and Lois White, Dolores Ann Smith, Betsy Krieger, Harold Lee Krieger, Florida, Joy and Byron Johnson, Wilma Mae Howe, Cecil Bassett, Marjorie Pritchard, Paula Jane VanBuren, Lela Mel Kelly, Elmer Skell-

Worker, Actor—Three elephants in Clyde Beatty Circus move heavy wagon as show sets up. Later in day elephants go glambrous, perform in ring with elegant trappings.

Even though they "double in brass" nowadays with the big show—that is, they are actors and workers, too, the elephants are the most even tempered and obliging creatures on the lot, and that does not except any of the human troupeurs, either.

When the big Clyde Beatty Railroad circus comes to Salem for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, Leslie junior high school south field, the elephants will be seen in the dawn's early light unloading the show's railroad cars, hauling cages and wagons along the strings of flat cars to the ramps, jerking them aside into the clear and then

Auto Mixup Embarrasses School Head

Independence—Paul E. Robinson, principal of the Independence high school, narrowly escaped being arrested while in the possession of a stolen car here. Robinson's car was in the garage for repairs and he asked to borrow Robert Craven's Chevrolet to go to Salem. Craven gave him the keys and told him the car was parked on C street.

Robinson took the keys and found what he thought was Craven's car, put the keys into the switch and drove off to Salem. Shortly afterward, R. H. Ackerman, who had been eating breakfast at a local cafe, came to where he had parked his car only to find it gone. He reported the missing car to local and state police.

Meanwhile, Robinson had returned to Salem to his home and was eating his lunch when Craven called to inquire where Robinson had left his keys. In the course of the conversation Robinson discovered he had the wrong car and the police were looking for him. He asked Craven to inform the police and when Robinson arrived on C street Ackerman and the police were waiting for him. Ackerman got his car, Craven his keys, and no charge was placed against Robinson.

Hearing on Zoning Plans Is Delayed

Albany—A public hearing on the proposed new Albany municipal zoning law will be held Wednesday night, July 10, City Recorder C. R. Ashton said.

Previously the night of June 25 had been designated for the hearing, the recorder explained. But it later was pointed out that the opening of bids on municipal bonds to finance current sewer construction will take place on that date. The recorder said that this procedure would interfere with a zoning law hearing.
