

Nelson Warns Of Inflation

The United States faces a situation more dangerous with respect to inflation than any other country has ever faced, but gradual recovery without overwhelming inflation is possible, Dr. Elmer S. Nelson, OPA official, told an audience at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night. He warned that price control should not be removed too early.

The United States has never yet had inflation, he declared, and illustrated with mention of his own experience in Germany after the first World War when, he said, an estate that had been worth $250,000 before the war was offered him for $125.

He predicted that goods sufficient to meet most demands would be available in 1948, but that housing demands could not be met before 1951. He mentioned migration to the west coast which has already begun, and said it would increase as new automobiles become purchasable. The industrial future of the Pacific coast is widely realized, he added.

There is no subject, said Dr. Nelson, about which the people know so little and by which they can lose so much.

The address was sponsored by the Salem Council of Women's Organizations.

Girl Hurt in Crash With Parked Auto

Nadine Taylor, 11 years old, 100 Chemeketa street, got a cut in the scalp Thursday evening when she ran into a parked automobile at 640 Bush while playing ball in the street. She was given first aid and taken to Salem General hospital, but her condition was not considered serious.

USS Yorktown, Fighting Lady Of Navy, Goes Into Retirement

Seattle, June 21 (AP)—The "Fighting Lady" has laid down her weapons, put on a new dress and retired to respectful reserve to live with her memories. But she is ready to fight again if need be. The Japanese knew the "Fighting Lady" as "Mitscher's Gray Ghost," and to them she was no lady. The navy knew her as the USS Yorktown or CV-10. The men who fought her called her to "Lucky Y." A moving picture telling of her exploits was titled "Fighting Lady."

Today the Yorktown ends a gallant career. Tied alongside a Seattle dock, boxed in by the carriers Lexington and Essex, her guns encased in a protective substance and her flight deck scrubbed and clean but bare of planes, the Yorktown will be formally inactivated and placed in reserve.

She has a new dress of haze gray—a peacetime color—which replaced her dark gray war paint, but the new dress fails to hide the scars in her side caused by a Japanese bomb.

The score upon score of little Japanese flags—indicating success in combat—still remain to tell of a glorious success in combat under Rear Admiral J. J. "Jocko" Clark of Chelsea, Okla., Rear Admiral R. E. Jennings of Washinukombs, Tallahassee, Fla., and Captain W. F. Boone, Palo Alto, Calif. Captain M. E. Browder of Indianapolis, Ind., a fighting skipper who holds the Navy Cross, has commanded the ship during the task of putting her in "moth balls."

Baxter Gets Good Response

Chicago, Ill., June 21—Spurred by requests from Bishop Bruce R. Baxter for increased funds to support worldwide missionary and educational work during the present emergency, Methodists of the Portland area (Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Alaska) contributed $19,200 to the denomination's World Service fund during the fiscal year ended May 31.

The total represents a gain of $9734 over last year, the Rev. Thomas B. Lugg, treasurer of the Methodist General Commission on World Service and Finance, reported.

The nation's 8 million Methodists gave $6,284,286 to the World Service fund during the year just closed, an increase of $481,237 over 1945. In addition to World Service contributions, Methodist giving to the denomination's Crusade for Christ relief and reconstruction fund, which is now being put to use in needy areas around the world, totaled $26,490,214 as of May 31.
