

OSC Bevos, Solons Open 3-Game Go

Medford, Ore., April 4 (U.P.)—The Salem Senators of the Western International baseball league open a three-game exhibition series with the Oregon State college nine under the lights here tonight. A double-header will be played tomorrow. University of Portland will be here Sunday.

Three players from the Portland Beavers joined the Senator camp Thursday: Dick Sinovich, pitcher; Johnnie McCullum and Marty Krug, fielders. It is probable Sinovich will get the starting assignment against the OSC Beavers Friday night. Ted Kerr, last year's receiver, and Don Cook, who joined the squad late in the 1946 season, will handle the catching chores. Infield assignments include Jim Wert at first, Bud Peterson at second, Rudy Gentskow at short and Hank Bartolomei at third. Outfielders will consist of Paul Haller, Marty Krug, Ben Gregory, Frank Lucchesi and McCullum.

Walgren Wins SGC Roodles

First place in a mid-week roodles golf tournament over the Salem club course late Thursday went to Harvey Walgren who turned in a 37-2-19 for nine holes. Laurence Alley placed second with his 39-2-18.

Score sheets for the qualifying rounds of play in connection with the Salem Elks club mid-Willamette valley tourney will be ready this week-end and contenders are urged to get under the wire early. Qualifying will end Sunday, April 13.

Reopening of the regular fourth and fifth holes is scheduled for Saturday. They have been closed during the winter months.

Pro Jim Russell has announced a sweepstakes tourney for the Men's club over the week-end.

Canucks Seek Stanley Cup

Montreal's powerful Canadiens were taking things easy today after successfully driving back the initial attack on their coveted Stanley cup playoff championship.

The National Hockey league Titans who have won the circuit's last four pennants disposed of the challenge of the Boston Bruins last night by scoring a 4-3 victory in two overtime periods at Montreal to take best-of-seven semi-final round series from the game but battered Bruins, 4-1.

The Flying Frenchmen will rest until the other semi-final round series between Toronto and Detroit is over. At the moment, Toronto leads Detroit, three games to one as a result of the Leafs' 4-1 victory in Detroit last night and the Leafs hope to join Montreal in the finals.

Demaret and Nelson Leading

Augusta, Ga., April 4 (U.P.)—Byron Nelson and Jimmy Demaret, who learned their golf on the flat plains of Texas, took to the rolling National course here today for the second round of the 11th annual Masters tournament with a one stroke lead over the field of 58.

Each opened his bid to win the coveted $10,000-odd prize by posting three-under-par 69s over the 6800-yard layout. That left seven other contestants tied at 70, six more deadlocked at 71, and six with even par 72s.

A stroke behind the famous pair were George Snelberger of Salt Lake City, Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., Ed Oliver of Wilmington, D.C., Jim Ferrier of Chicago, Fred Haas of New Orleans, Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., and Lew Worsham of Washington, D.C.

Lacey Won After All!

It appears that Snooks Lacey won his 15-round engagement with Bobby Richards Wednesday night after all. Harry V. Collins, who teamed up with Frank Saunders and Referee Paeky McFarland in reaching a decision, announced Friday that in rechecking his scorecard he discovered he had credited Lacey with winning 8 rounds, Richards 5, while 2 were even. At the ringside he gave the result as 7 for Richards, 6 for Lacey and 2 even. This was identical with Referee McFarland's scoring. Saunders decided that each contender had won six rounds while three were even. The error is blamed on the fact that the judges were being pressed to add up their scores in order to give the result to the crowd as quickly as possible. Collins says he rechecked his card because he felt all of the time that Lacey had won the engagement.

KRISS CROSS

By Chris Kowitz

Football for the little guy, 150 pounds or under, is being planned as a Big Nine project. In addition to varsity teams, member schools of the Western conference also hope to field junior teams comprised entirely of players weighing 150 pounds or less. Enthusiasm for the project has been dampened, however, by a lack of playing space and equipment. It is hoped that "junior-weight" play may be inaugurated this fall, but unless more space, equipment and coaches are obtained in the meantime, the project will have to mark time for at least another year.

Here 'n There

"It's been a long, long time," but Gonzaga university this season will operate a baseball club, the first diamond aggregation to represent the Spokane college since 1927. . . . Various defensive shifts employed by opponents of the Boston Red Sox last season in efforts to deaden the powerful effect of Ted Williams' right-field hitting are expected to disappear in 1947. It has become apparent in spring training games that Mr. Williams can and will hit to left field. . . . When the Stanford university rowing crew traveled to Corvallis a few weeks ago to compete with the Oregon State team, members of the Stanford crew had to pay their own expenses, aided somewhat by donations from rowing enthusiasts. Crew is not recognized as a sport on the Indian campus, so the school doesn't foot the bill on traveling costs. In fact, team members must pay dues to the "Crew association."

More 'Gatherings'

Rain didn't stop the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast league from holding practice sessions during the early stages of spring training this year. When Jupiter Pluvius stepped in to dampen the Oaks' practice field, the club made use of a drained-out, indoor swimming pool. . . . Cling Hartung, the much-publicized and greatly-ballyhooed New York Giant rookie, may be the storybook baseball player his clippings tell about. During the training season, Hartung has been walloping the horsehide pellet consistently and slamming it hard and far, too. . . . Opening games in the Oregon State semi-pro baseball league May 25 send Lebanon to Bend, McMinnville to Albany, Salem to Valsezt and Portland to Silverton. . . . Valsezt will host the Salem Joysters in grand style, including a full-course dinner. . . . The season's opener will be the only game played at Valsezt all season. Valsezt plays the remainder of its home games at Falls City's "downhill" park.

Rocha to Play In Hulaland

Corvallis, April 4 (U.P.)—Ephraim "Red" Rocha, star center of the Oregon State college basketball five, will appear in four exhibition basketball games in Hawaii this month. Rocha will team with Wat Misaka, ace guard of the Utah university quintet, and other islanders in games against touring mainland clubs. Both Rocha and Misaka are from the islands.

Monarchs Whip Eagles Again

(By the United Press.)
A change of scenery to their home rink was doing the Portland Eagles absolutely no good today as they hung on the brink of total defeat in the Pacific Coast hockey league playoffs.

The Los Angeles Monarchs, winners of two straight in the Southland, made it three in a row Thursday night at Portland, 4 to 3, and need only one more triumph to clinch the playoff championship from the Northern division winners. The next—and possibly last—game will be played at Portland Saturday night.

'Informal' Track Meet Held at Pullman

Pullman, April 4 (U.P.)—Washington State college runners captured all relay events and Idaho garnered field honors yesterday as the two schools engaged in an informal, no-score track meet. The Cougars won five relays and the discus toss, with Idaho taking the shuttle high hurdles, two mile race and remaining field events. No sprints nor high jump was held.

Salem YMCA Handball Tourney Set

Handball players of Salem and vicinity will compete for trophy awards in A, B and C divisions in an "open to all" four-wall handball tourney scheduled to get underway April 14 at the Salem YMCA, according to announcements made by Lee Shinn, Bob Smith and Bob Parks, YMCA handball committee members. Competition will be conducted in both singles and doubles events, and all participants must be amateur athletes residing or employed within a radius of 25 miles of Salem.

The handball committee will assign players to one of the three divisions, and a person may enter both the singles and doubles for one entry fee of 50 cents. Individual trophies will be awarded first and second place finishers in each division, while revolving trophies will be presented to first place finishers. Entries must be in the hands of the "Y" handball committee by April 9. Entry blanks and any information pertaining to the handball tourney will be furnished by Jim Dimit at the YMCA, phone 9117.

Brems Blast Idaho, 10-1

Lewiston, Idaho, April 4 (U.P.)—Veteran Hub Kittle and Rookie Wally Prosser teamed up in a one-hit pitching effort yesterday as the Bremerton Blue-jackets swarmed over the University of Idaho Vandals 10-1.

Prosser, regarded by Manager Alan Strange as one of the finds of the training camp season, hurled hitless-runless ball during his four-inning tour.

Caps Trimmed By Yaks, 11-2

Sunnyside, Wash., April 4 (U.P.)—The Yakima Stars ran roughshod over the Vancouver, B.C., Capilanos 11-2 yesterday in a Western International league exhibition tilt, despite a Cap attack which produced two runs from the first four batters of the game.

Centerfielder Gene Thompson paced the victors at the plate with a triple and two singles in four trips.

Portland Indians Lose Exhibition Tilt

Anderson, Ind., April 4 (U.P.)—Despite Slim Wintemute's 19 point evening high, the Portland Indians dropped a 72-63 exhibition game to the Anderson Packers of the National Basketball league last night. Portland, here for the national professional championships, will open tourney play Sunday against the Sheboygan five.

OLYMPIC YOUNGSTER—Andrea Mead, 14, of Rutland, Vt., is shown at the Sun Valley, Idaho, ski trials where she won a place on the United States team to take part in the winter Olympics in Switzerland next season. She will be on the women's downhill and slalom team.

Third One No Charm For Portland Bevovs

(By the Associated Press.)
The Los Angeles Angels and the San Diego Padres headed the parade in the new Pacific coast league season today with three wins apiece as Oakland and Portland occupied the cellar with a trio of setbacks. Attendance at yesterday's four games tallied up to only 10,021 in all, topped by 2,782 who watched the champion San Francisco Seals on their home grounds slug Seattle, 8 to 2.

The Angels let go a 19-hit attack which sank five Portland pitchers and gave the Bill Kelly crew an 11 to 7 victory. Lou Springer and Johnny Ostrowski, Angel infielders, knocked out two homers each, accounting for seven Los Angeles runs. Centerfielder Danny Escobar homered for Portland.

San Diego	3	0	1.000

San Diego had a tougher time to beat Oakland, 7 to 6, being out-hit by the Oaks, 12 to 9. It was First Baseman Vince Shupe's eighth inning homer which did the trick for the Padres who, in the first two games of the season Tuesday and Wednesday, had been forced into 11 innings.

San Francisco landed hard on Seattle's pitcher, Sig Jakucki, for six runs in the first five innings to make it easy for the champs while the Rainiers' Jim Hopper held them to two runs the rest of the way.

The Seals' leftfielder, Joe Brovia, poked out a couple of siege-gun blows in the 12-hit assault, one a 404-foot homer over the center garden wall and the other a 370-foot double.

In Sacramento the Hollywood Stars took a 3 to 1 game from the Solons, defeating Pitcher Tony Freitas who was hunting for his 200th Coast league victory. Los Angeles was notified that the parent Chicago Cubs were sending Cliff Chambers of Bellingham, leading Angel pitcher last year, and Red Adams to the Angels.

Viks Win Three-way Trackfest

Albany, April 4 (Special)—Salem high school's trackmen opened up their 1947 season here yesterday, taking top spot in a triangular trackfest with Albany and Lebanon. Out of the 14 events comprising the meet, Salem won nine firsts. A total of 78½ points were amassed by Coach Vern Glymore's Vikings, while Tom Drynan's Albany Bulldogs put together 59½ tallies and Lebanon could muster but 13 tallies.

Grid Fixers Barred From Pro Football

Philadelphia, April 4 (U.P.)—The door barring Merle Hapes and Frank Filchock from professional football—probably forever—swung shut today.

Square-jawed Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football league, in the most far-reaching rulings in the annals of the pro gridiron game, suspended them indefinitely for their roles in the attempted fix of last year's championship game.

Bell admitted the decision was a "tough one to make," but said the New York Giants' backfield stars were found guilty of "actions detrimental to the welfare of the National Football league and of professional football."

"Professional football," Bell said in his decision announced yesterday, "cannot continue to exist unless it is based upon absolute honesty. The players must be not only absolutely honest; they must be above suspicion."

The ruling on Filchock and Hapes was the most recent chapter in the greatest sport scandal since the 1919 world series. Only 24 hours earlier three men had been sentenced to prison terms for their parts in the attempt to fix last December's game.
