Alcohol Plant To Be Leased

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—G. W. Trayer, chief of the research branch of the United States forest service, said today the service hopes to keep the $3,000,000 Springfield, Ore., alcohol plant in operation through leasing it to a new company.

The plant, constructed by the government, makes alcohol from wood waste, recently was turned back to the government by the Willamette Valley Wood Chemical company.

Trayer said he understood the company has mailed to the forest service here its release from the provision of its old lease giving it a right to purchase the plant.

"When we get the release we will be free to negotiate with others for operation of the plant," Trayer said. "The reconstruction finance corporation, which financed the plant, can not put up any more money and it will undoubtedly turn it over to the war assets administration for disposition."

"We hope the WAA will grant a long time lease to a new company and are negotiating with two of them now."

"The new company will have to be able to put $250,000 capital investment to make improvements in the plant and have an other $250,000 to carry it until it begins to produce alcohol. We figure that the latter could be accepted in lieu of rent until the amount is repaid, but $500,000 is all that will be required."

Trayer said he believed the WAA would agree to negotiate a long time lease on the plant rather than sell it and said he believed the plans to keep the plant in operation will work out.

4 Corners Site For New School

In line with its policy of securing sites where buildings will be needed during the next decade, the Salem school administration has purchased a tract of approximately 10 acres in the Four Corners district. Purchase was authorized some time ago but owing to a clause in the deed when the property was platted after being owned by Frank Durbin, the deal hung fire for a number of weeks.

This clause specified that a school house could not be built unless at least 50 percent of the owners of contiguous property agreed. This was finally accomplished.

The cost of the land was approximately $7500 and, according to C. C. Ward, the district's business manager, it is not contemplated to build there immediately. The property involved has a west frontage of 265 feet on Elma avenue and 400 feet along Durbin avenue to the south.

Wheat Advance But Corn Drops

(By the Associated Press) Food prices on the nation's commodity exchanges showed divergent trends today as the nation's consumers looked to President Truman for possible recommendations to reduce the soaring cost of living.

Wheat futures closed higher than yesterday, but corn prices lost ground. Sugar dropped 9 cents a hundred pounds. Cattle and hogs were slightly less expensive. Butter values varied in their trend at different markets with no clear overall change. Poultry prices remained firm.

At the Chicago board of trade, the world's largest grain market, gains of 2 1/4 to 4 cents a bushel were registered after prices had risen as much as 6 1/2 cents in early trading. December wheat closed at $2.69 1/4 to 1/2.

Corn sales, after early gains, were made at the end of the trading session at prices 2 1/4 to 4 1/2 cents below yesterday, with December contracts at $2.16 1/4 to $2.15 1/4. Oats were 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel lower, with December delivery quoted at $1.06 1/4 to 1/2.

The reduction of 7 to 9 points in sugar prices—to $5.09 for September delivery—reflected discontinuation of the world sugar allocation system by the international emergency food council.

Butter prices took another drop today, bringing both the wholesale and retail prices down two cents, with grade A butter selling at 84 cents wholesale in Salem and retailing at 89 cents. Butterfat dropped three cents on the local market with quotations today: premium, 89 cents; No. 1, 87 cents; and No. 2, 77 cents.

Drain Youth Killed For Deer by Hunters

Roseburg, Ore., Sept. 23 (AP)—Clyde Albert Evans, 17, of Drain is in the county jail here under $2,500 bond on an involuntary manslaughter charge following his admission to State Police Sgt. Lyve Harrell, that officer reported, that he fired the shot that killed Charles Sumner Bean, 17, of Drain "in mistake for a deer" while the two boys and three others were hunting near that city Sunday morning.

The other boys, one 15, and the others 17 each—one of them a twin brother of the dead youth, are to be arraigned in the justice court of Drain today on the charge of hunting out of season, Harrell reported.

The dead youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Bean, Sr., of Drain, three brothers and three sisters.

1109 Register At Willamette

Willamette university's anticipated enrollment of 1100 students was exceeded Tuesday when the registrar's office reported 1109 men and women were on the books with a few more yet to be registered. This is in contrast to the 1047 who were enrolled at a comparable date a year ago.

The law college, with total registration of 120, had the largest enrollment in its history. The 118 men and two women represent 17 states and Canada. The record of Dean Sewart P. Reese show that there were 99 registrants last fall, with the previous high mark of 63 occurring in 1927.

Of this year's registrants, 14 are third year students, 44 second year, 57 first year and two are special.

A corps of five full time professors and four part time have been handling the registrations.

Rightists Win Italian Election

Rome, Sept. 23 (AP)—In the first test of public opinion since Premier Alcide de Gasperi dropped leftists from his cabinet last June, a right wing coalition called "the list of the rooster" swept a local election Sunday at Caserta, the interior ministry announced today.

Nearly complete returns showed that the rightist coalition—comprising qualunquists, monarchists and liberals—polled 7,493 votes to 3,187 for de Gasperi's Christian democrat party and 3,650 for the peoples' block—communists and minor leftist groups.

The rightist total was swelled even more by another group of liberals and monarchists which got 1,909 votes on a separate ticket.

These election results were announced as the communists and socialists prepared to ask the constituent assembly for a vote of no confidence in the de Gasperi cabinet. Debate originally had been scheduled to start on the motion today, but was postponed until Friday at the request of the qualunquists, who are holding a national convention.

There was no visible break in the ranks of the center and right by which de Gasperi maintains his grip on the government, but responsible political quarters expressed belief the debate would last perhaps a month, during which the extreme and moderate left would explore every phase of the government's domestic and foreign policies while maintaining heavy pressure outside the assembly.

Pillsbury Mills Strike Settled

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 24 (AP)—The Pillsbury flour mill strike ended today, after the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union was granted a seven-cent hourly increase, union recognition, and a promise to consider another increase.

The 150 employees walked out August 14, along with employees of other Pillsbury mills on the coast. The California mills resumed work last week.

The union said today that an additional five cents an hour will be granted warehousemen if a management-union committee decides that the warehouse is "mechanized."

Population of Los Angeles Soars

Los Angeles, Sept. 22 (AP)—Los Angeles county is growing at the rate of 16,000 persons per month, and will top the 4,000,000-mark within nine months, the regional planning commission predicted today.

The city, picking up residents at a rate of 5000 a month, will pass 2,000,000 by the end of next year, the commission forecast.

As of October 1, the report estimates, the county's population will be 3,849,380; the city's 1,921,285. The city's 1940 census showed 1,504,277 residents.

Linn Telephone Rates Boosted

Application by the Linn county Telephone company for an annual rate boost of $39,911.95 was approved by the state public utilities commission today, George H. Flagg, commissioner, said.

The rate raise involves 800 new stations for which new orders are now in the hands of the company, Flagg said.

The application was filed with the commission August 1, and was reviewed at a hearing in Lebanon Sept. 4. The new rates will become effective Oct. 1, according to Flagg.

In granting the raise, Flagg pointed out that requested rate increases were necessary and proper for the continued operation of the company and were in line with rates charged by other companies throughout Oregon.

The company serves the cities of Lebanon, Sweet Home, Cascadia, Foster, Brownsville, and their surrounding territories. Net operating income of the company in the first six months of 1947 was $1519. Flagg reported. No protest to the rate changes were entered either before or after the hearing, Flagg said.

Three Tornadoes

The storm's most acute menace apparently hung over the rich Okeechobee mucklands where the inhabitants already struggled wearily with relentless water from earlier downpours. Farmers, business men, Jamaican laborers and convicts worked side by side to patch canal dikes and stay the rising water from four towns and 30,000 vegetable acres.

The towns in danger were Belle Glade, Pahokee, Canal Point and South Bay—centers of the money-making truck growing industry.

Lakeland, 50 miles inland, reported 55-mile winds at 3 a.m. Squally rains swirling 250 miles from its center were felt inland. Miami had sustained winds of 38 miles an hour and frequent heavy rains throughout the night.

West coast cities also experienced heavy wind and rains, but some points had barely enough wind to sway the palm trees.

Church Building Brings Opposition

Construction of a frame church building on the northwest corner of Capitol and Hood streets by the Gospel Tabernacle congregation brought an avalanche of protests from residents of the area at the city council meeting Monday night.

Robert A. Golden, who led the opposing forces, told the council that the church itself, but felt that its construction would aid in an already aggravated traffic situation.

"It isn't safe for our children to play outdoors any more" he said.

Mrs. Mable C. Hart declared that there are already two churches in the same area and if the additional church building is erected "it will be impossible for any of us to cross Capitol street."

Rev. Max Wyatt, pastor of the church, contended that a traffic problem confronts every section of the city and held that "God's work should not be retarded because of a traffic problem."

The council took the matter under advisement.

Mary B. Reynolds, Educator, Dies

Ill for the past four years, Miss Mary E. Reynolds, who for 13 years at the beginning of this century was an instructor at Willamette university, died at her home at 980 Market street Tuesday morning.

The daughter of Dr. John Reynolds, a physician in Salem for many years, and of Sally Truesdale Reynolds, Miss Reynolds was born in Beverly, Ohio, and came to Salem with her parents in 1873. She had made her home here ever since. Miss Reynolds was a member of the First Methodist church.

Surviving are two nieces, Mrs. Inez Goltra Gilbert of Portland and Mrs. Helen Goltra Bagley of Twenty-nine Palms, Calif.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd T. Reynolds of Salem and several relatives in Ohio.
