

Polk County School Costs Treble During Last Decade

Independence—Cost of operating the public schools of Polk county like that in most other counties of the state, has almost trebled in the past 10 years according to a summary of tax levies just released by the state tax commission.

Dallas Assists Needy Family

Dallas—With showers, collections of money, and gifts of food and clothing Dallas residents have responded to the need of the Russell Butler family who lost all possessions and their residence recently in a fire on the Ellendale road.

A collection taken at the Wilmette Valley Lumber company where Mr. Butler is employed, brought $451. Children of the elementary school conducted a clothing drive for the eight children of the Butler family. Members of the Evangelical United Brethren church sponsored a shower for the stricken family, and the Red Cross assisted with a large quantity of food and clothing.

Despite the tight housing situation the family has found another place to live. Because of the generous manner in which the community responded, an offer of Jesse Jones, owner of the Majestic and Rio theaters in Dallas, to run a midnight matinee benefit was declined with the grateful thanks of the family.

The county's public school bill represents 69 percent of the total cost of operating governmental units in the county, amounting to $1,181,147 of which $892,923.75 will come out of the pockets of the property owners and $288,223 out of income tax monies collected by the state and turned over to the county. The public school bill for the state as a whole averaged 55.4 percent of the state's total tax levy for this year—property and income.

Polk county, incidentally, is the only county in the state with a current levy for county and school library purposes in excess of last year's levy for this purpose. In all other counties the income tax offset entirely or almost wiped out the county school levy.

The current levy for schools is nearly $165,000 in excess of the levy for 1946-47 which included $207,887 of income tax monies as compared with $288,223 this year.

The current levy for support of the public schools in this county includes, in addition to the $288,223 from the income tax $396,040.23 in special levies against property, $63,565.53 in levies by non-high school districts and $65,940.67 in the county school levy.
