

Golden Gate Plunge Fatal

San Francisco, Feb. 7 (AP)—A leap from the Golden Gate bridge was the biggest jump in the barnstorming life of Hollywood stunt man Alfred (Dusty) Rhodes—and the last.

Clad in life jackets and football padding with three small parachutes attached, the Indian daredevil died in the 265 foot plunge yesterday.

His wife, Lorraine, 25, mother of two, watched the death leap, and a Hollywood cameraman, Jose Guzman, who was to have made the plunge pay off for Rhodes, recorded it in pictures.

A veteran of many movie cliff leaps, gun and knife fights, the 35-year-old stunt man came here about a week ago after appearing in a daredevil "death car" show in Hawaii.

Yesterday he was driven in a car onto the bridge with his jumping equipment. It included a kapok life suit, "Mae West" life jacket, the parachutes and a 50-pound weight for each foot.

The parachutes opened but failed to break the fall.

Mrs. Rhodes said her husband discarded the foot weights before he jumped. They were to keep his body upright during the fall.

"For about 150 feet he fell upright as he intended," she said. "Then his body started to curve. He struck the water with his face. I saw him hit like a bullet."

"I saw his head bob to the surface and his body start to drift out to sea."

The coast guard recovered the body half an hour after the jump. A preliminary autopsy showed drowning caused his death.

Cavemen Send Protest to Hall

Grants Pass, Feb. 7 (AP)—Governor John Hall's call for a state-wide "kickoff" meeting in Portland to plan centennial celebrations this year in observance of the 100th anniversary of Oregon territory today brought him a telegram of protest from the Oregon Cavemen.

The rebuke is based only on the grounds that the governor took action without clearing his program with the original rulers of the domain who say they are celebrating their nine thousandth year.

The telegram reads in part: "Suggest Governor John Hall secure proper authority from Oregon Cavemen in this domain." The telegram signed by Chief Bighorn DeWayne Dahl, reveals however that his eagle eyes (directors) are being summoned to consider their suitable place in the program.

Chaplain Wishard Will Speak Here

Chaplain J. Kenneth Wishard will be the guest speaker at the First Evangelical United Brethren church at Marion and Summer streets next Sunday night.

Chaplain Wishard, who returned with his family from Tokyo last Saturday will tell of the missionary challenge in Japan. Both Rev. and Mrs. Wishard will participate in the service. They will have charge of the Youth Fellowship Hour at 6:30 p.m. to which all are invited, as well as at 7:45 p.m. Chaplain Wishard left the pastorate of the Salem First Evangelical United Brethren church in 1945 to serve as chaplain in the United States army. He has been stationed in Tokyo a great part of this time.

A welcome home reception will follow the evening service in the church parlor.

The minister, Rev. Wilmer N. Brown, will speak in the morning worship service on the theme "Personality of His Passion."

Says Prices Kept High for Election

Washington, Feb. 7 (AP)—Senator Taft (R., Ohio) accused the democratic administration today of a deliberate attempt to keep prices high for political reasons.

The idea, he said, is to "create an air of false prosperity" for the presidential election campaign.

Taft told a reporter he can put no other interpretation on the advance announcement of Secretary of Agriculture Anderson that the government plans soon to buy 50,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Anderson disclosed this at a news conference Thursday after corn and wheat had dropped the legal limit of eight and 10 cents a bushel for two days in a row.

Usually the government's buying intentions are kept secret.

The announcement by Anderson was followed by a brief rise in wheat. But yesterday's market closed with the legal limit drop for the third consecutive time.

Taft, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, said he thinks Anderson took an unusual course to boost sagging prices.

"The administration, which talks about bringing prices down, is afraid that they actually will come down," the Ohioan said. "Of course, they think their only chance of winning the November election is to keep prices up and create an air of false prosperity."

To Set Back Curb Lines On South Commercial

On the calendar for third reading at the city council meeting Monday night will be the ordinance bill establishing set-back lines on South Commercial street from a point about 200 feet north of Mission street to Hoyt street. A similar ordinance has already been enacted for the district south of Hoyt.

North Santiam Closed at Night

The North Santiam highway will be closed between Niagara and Detroit to all except "extreme emergency traffic" between 9:15 p.m. and 7:15 a.m. daily for a period of from 60 to 90 days starting Wednesday, the state highway commission said today.

The night closure is considered necessary because of heavy construction in the area. The public roads administration, which is building a new highway above the Detroit flood control dam site, requested the closure.

Hauser Files For Treasurer

Paul H. Hauser Saturday filed with City Recorder Alfred Mundt his candidacy to succeed himself as city treasurer. Hauser is now serving his sixth term in the office, having been elected each time he was a candidate. He is in his 12th year in the office.

Also filing Saturday was William Harvey Crawford, candidate for city judge. Crawford, by appointment of the council, has been substituting in the office in the last year at times when City Judge W. W. McKinney was absent.

The office is a part-time position, but Crawford promises to give it full time. He says in his official statement:

"Give full time to official court business. Through experience as pro tem judge, and continuing (if elected) my position is that this assignment must not be measured in terms of budget money available. Depriving people of liberty; assessing financial burdens; standing impartially between the police and the public is a grave responsibility not to be gauged by salary paid, but demanding available full-time service."
