

Local Paragraphs

Postal Holiday—The Salem office will observe George Washington's birthday anniversary Monday to the fullest extent permitted by the postal service. This means that service will be down to a minimum on all deliveries either over city or rural routes. None of the windows in the post office will be open.

Library to Close—The Salem public library will be closed all day Monday, February 23, in observance of Washington's birthday. However, regular opening hours of 2 to 5 p. m. will be maintained February 22.

Protest License—Kelzer Sewing circle in a protest signed by Emma E. Irvine has filed objections with the county court granting a tavern operator's license in the Keizer school district. This is one of a number of protests against approving a beer license for the area.

Mill City Filing—Certificate assumed business name for Mill City Disposal Service, garage disposal, has been filed with the county clerk by Leonard B. Herman, Mill City.

Eliminate Bridge—A bridge in the Clearlake area on county road 804 which was washed out by recent high water will not be replaced, states County Engineer Hedda Swart following an inspection he made in company with Bridge Foreman Ted Kuenzi and Road Foreman Frank Woelke. Instead a road to follow the land contour will replace the bridge.

Will Study Hamlet—Members of the Great Books group are to discuss Shakespeare's Hamlet at the next scheduled meeting February 24 and March 1. These promise to be the most interesting sessions of a very successful winter series. Recordings of "Excerpts from Hamlet" as presented by Maurice Evans will be part of the program. Leaders for February 4 meeting are Mrs. A. T. King and David Gray; and for March 1, Brenda Glass and Werner Brown. All members of the discussion groups are urged to attend.

Married by Judge—Two couples were married Friday in the office of District Judge Joseph P. Felton. They were Herbert Goldsmith and Irene F. Olufsen, both of Marion county; and F. Klingenberg of Douglas county, Nebraska, and Anna Simpson of Columbia county, Oregon.

Jewelry Is Stolen—Theft of jewelry valued at $150 is reported to state police by Mrs. C. H. Dillard, 120 N. Elmer street, in the Four Corners district. Taken from her home were a diamond ring, two strings of pearls and a gold pocket.

4 Bad Check Artists in Toils

Jay Herron of the French Shop, 115 North High street, saw a man on the street Saturday morning whom he recognized as having passed a bad check at the store on February 14. He followed the man and notified police, and shortly thereafter Raymond Denzine was booked at headquarters. He admitted 10 bad checks totaling about $100, said Detective Wayne Parker, and further investigation is being made.

Arrested in Portland on advices from Salem police was John S. Schimpf, route 1, Woodburn, who is charged with passing a bad check at the Doughnut Hardware store. He was lodged in the county jail Saturday morning.

Sheriff Denver Young will return to Salem about Wednesday with Grant Boney, who was arrested for Salem police at San Bernardino, Calif. Parker said the arrest of Denzine, Schimpf and Boney clears 25 or 30 bad checks recently passed here.

Under arrest in Los Angeles is Francis Kern, also wanted here, but he may be prosecuted in California. Salem police have placed a detainer on Kern.

National Leader Coming—Mrs. Helen Duff Baugh, national chairman of the Christian business and professional women's council, will be the main speaker at the Youth home missions dinner rally sponsored by the local chapter of the C.B.P.W. Friday evening, February 27. The dinner will be held at 6:15 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce dining room. The CBPW now sponsors 52 Bible trained girls in 29 rural areas, in some places where the religion has not been brought for as long as 10 years. Men as well as women who are urged to attend this meeting. Reservations for the dinner may be made up to Tuesday evening by phoning 7408 or 6567.

Vandalism Reported—Don Link, who lives at the Phi Delta Theta house at Willamette university, parked his automobile Thursday night in front of the United Wheel & Alignment company at 170 South 12th. Later it was reported to police as blocking a driveway. Investigation showed that vandals had moved the car during the night and broken off the radio aerial.

Sprague to Speak—Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Carrier room of the First Methodist church, C. A. Sprague will give an address on the United Nations council. Rev. Brooks H. Moore will preside at the public meeting. The talk climaxes the study of the council which has been in progress with six women's groups within the church. Esther Ebersole, minister of music, will present special music.

Offices to Close—Courthouse offices with the exception of that of the sheriff will be closed Monday due to observance of Washington's birthday as a non judicial day.

Culverts Ordered—The county clerk has ordered installation of two concrete culverts to take the place of small bridges on the Little North Fork road, a county road 960, above Elkhorn bridge. The culverts will care for two small streams that flow into the river but are in deep narrow canyons. Fills will be made with the bulldozer and will serve to kill two birds with one stone as the dirt for the fills will be shoveled off from corners jutting into the narrow roadway and will not only widen the road but also cut the corners, lessening hazards in both instances.

Grocer Robbed In His Store

William Grabelman, proprietor of the Mission Street market, at 1365 Mission, was held up and robbed of over $200 in his store at about 10:30 o'clock Friday night.

Grabelman told officers he was at work in the rear of the store when the robber entered. He was a young man and masked, and stammered to the degree that he failed to utter an intelligible word. That, the police say, may or may not have been a ruse.

All he said seemed to be "ah, ah, ah." He went to the cash register and took the bills while he held Grabelman under cover with a small revolver. He backed out of the store and disappeared northerly on 14th street.

'Grass Roots'

His largest audience in the four stops was at the Lebanon union high school, where he was the recipient of a 10-pound cut-throat trout, the gift of the Santiam Fish and Game club and a strawberry cake produced by the girls of the home economics class of the school. He was also given an honorary membership card in the sports club.

His final talk in the four towns took place in Sweet Home. Here Keith Gabriel, president of the Sweet Home high school student body, introduced the presidential aspirant.

Stassen said that one of his purposes in choosing some of the smaller cities in which to make brief appearances, was to become better acquainted with the conditions that exist both in rural and urban sections of the country.

"Of course, I like to meet the people, and I feel it important to talk to the younger generation for it will devolve upon them to take over the problems of the cities, counties, state and nation, in the not too distant future," Stassen said.

Earl Behrens, veteran political reporter of the San Francisco Chronicle, who joined the Stassen party in Idaho, declared that in more than 25 years of political reporting he had never encountered a candidate for high office with the energy displayed by Stassen.

"He acts as if he enjoys every minute of his contact with the people," said the newspaperman. Stassen traveled from Sweet Home to Eugene where he made the principal talk before the annual press conference there.

Jeff Williams to Be Club Speaker
Jeff Williams, known as "The Sooner Philosopher" because of his keen wit and gentle humor, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Salem Knife and Fork club, March 3rd at the Marion hotel.

Williams, a practicing attorney of Chickasha, Okla., was born in Texas and raised in Arkansas. He is a past district governor of Rotary and a past director of the same organization. In recent years he has become one of the most popular speakers in the United States, having covered 150,000 miles since the outbreak of the war in Europe in 1939 on his lecture engagements.

During the war Williams served as associate administrator of the war savings staff for the state of Oklahoma.

Monday a Holiday but Stores to Open as Usual

Since Washington's birthday, February 22, falls on Sunday this year, Monday will be a legal holiday in Oregon. That is the state law.

The day has not been proclaimed as a national legal holiday, though it is nationally observed. There are no national holidays in the United States.

In Salem the day will be observed as usual. The city council will, however, have its regular meeting Monday night. City Attorney Chris J. Kowitz takes the position there is no legal inhibition on transaction of official business on a legal holiday, except judicial business. He cites the fact that the state legislature has been in session on both Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

Some aldermen expressed a word of caution against transacting such business as legislation pertaining to bond issues, but the city attorney thinks business of that kind can be safely handled. An ordinance bill will be before the council Monday night authorizing the issue of $82,528.40 in Bancroft improvement bonds. The sum will wipe out all outstanding warrants in the street improvement fund. All other outstanding warrants will be wiped out in a few weeks.

Salem schools will not close Monday. The post office will observe a full holiday, as will banks and public offices, with the exception of sheriff's and police offices, and the offices of the state tax commission which will be open for the convenience of state income taxpayers. The closure includes the state employment office and the Salem Public library. The library will observe the usual Sunday hours from 2 to 5 p. m.

For state employees it will be a long week-end. Under the 40-hour week schedule public offices are not open Saturday, so state workers get three days off. The state tax office is again an exception, for it is open today for income taxpayers.

Stores and restaurants will do business as usual Monday.

Apperson Heads Patriotic Societies
Associated Patriotic Societies of Marion county at their Friday night dinner meeting at the Marion hotel elected as their president for the coming year, Don Apperson.

Other officers chosen by the group were Glenn Adams, vice president; Mrs. Don Apperson, secretary, and Mrs. Stuart Johns, treasurer. All are from Salem.

Main speaker at the dinner was Mrs. Helen White of the Gold Star Mothers. Other speakers were Marion County District Attorney Miller B. Hayden and I. N. Bacon. Preceding the meeting the group was entertained by sleight-of-hand acts by Ernie Bryan, Portland magician.
