

Jaycees Want Useless Stop Signs Removed From Streets

The Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce thinks Salem has too many isolated "stop" signs that are no longer useful, and that they create "hazards and death traps" rather than protect the public.

The Jaycees submitted to the city council Monday night a proposed resolution for their removal.

The junior chamber would, however, substitute "stop" signs on some streets intersecting through streets where "slow" signs now exist, and also covered this in the proposed resolution.

It was referred to the city manager for investigation.

City Manager J. L. Franzen introduced a resolution, which the council adopted, providing for "stop" signs at all intersections on Market street east of North Capitol where they do not already exist. It covers that part of Market between the old and the new east city limit.

Other Safety Measures

Other resolutions adopted bearing on traffic safety were Resolution by Alderman Robert De Armond for "stop" signs at 18th and Roosevelt.

Limiting automobile parking to two hours on the west side of 12th street between State and Trade.

Limiting automobile parking to two hours on the east and west sides of South Commercial between Trade and Bellevue.

The manager reported against a "stop" sign at Cross and South High.

The city manager reported as sufficient a petition for the improvement of Columbia street from Maple to Hazel, and the city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications.

A remonstrance against the improvement of 20th street was reported as sufficient to nullify two petitions that had been received.

An adverse report was made by the city manager on a petition that an alley be laid out in Lot 51 of North Salem addition.

A petition was approved for installation of a sanitary sewer on 25th street, beginning at Shelton ditch, and another petition for extension of a sewer westerly on Rural avenue.

Would Cut Rentals

Referred to the city manager was a letter from Paul R. Hendricks, in behalf of L. R. Tweedie, of Tweedie Oil company, requesting that river front rentals for three moorage right holders be reduced from $30 to $15 a month. Tweedie said he would be willing to pay $40.

A letter signed by C. A. McClure, engineer for the long-range planning commission, written in behalf of the street committee of the commission, suggesting set-back lines on South 25th street as the airport is developed, was received and filed. City Manager Franzen explained that the matter is taken care of by the master airport plan which is approved by the civil aeronautics administra-

Reserve Hospital Plan Breaks All Records

C. H. Simpson, manager of Reserve Hospital Plan sales office in Salem, announced today that results of the June president's month shattered all records of the company. The Salem office exceeded its quota substantially, as did every other office of the company.

Reserve Hospital Plan is a service of Reserve Life Insurance company, a legal reserve company. Its hospital plan has attracted nationwide attention because of the liberal benefits provided and the company's streamlined handling of claim payments. The June sales campaign was in honor of C. A. Sammons, president of the company.

July 26 at 8 o'clock as the time for a public hearing on application of the Lodge of Perfection for waiver of set-back lines at the site of its projected new masonic building.

tion. This provides for a parallel one-way street entering and leading out of the airport with a landscaped strip intervening. Referred to the manager with power to act was the application of Anna Johnson for a license as palmist and clairvoyant for a limited time.

The council approved an application of the Knights of Columbus for a club liquor license at the lodge's headquarters, 179 1/2 North Commercial.

Approval was given an application of the Herrall-Owens company to erect a 12-foot sign above the parking strip in front of its new place of business at 670 North Liberty.

The council set the night of
