

California Has Open Season on Football Coaches

Los Angeles, Oct. 26 (AP)—It seems to be open season on football coaches in these parts. Here's a roundup on the situation:

At UCLA, Coach Bert La Brucherie told his squad, and the football writers, that he is "completely behind his staff of assistants." He told the players that there'd be no change in the staff and if anyone didn't want to play football he could turn in his suit. None did.

This followed published reports that some UCLA linemen were on the outs with Line Coach Shelby Calhoun and had threatened to quit. Calhoun said he hadn't had any back talk from players. Calhoun is scheduled to accompany the squad to Lincoln for the game Saturday.

At Loyola of Los Angeles, the board of athletic control meets in closed session tonight and Coach Bill Sargent reportedly wasn't invited.

Sargent denied to the writers that he's on the way out and said he has a five-year contract.

Few Game Birds Found In Alaska Air Survey

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—A bird count along the northwestern fringe of the North American continent turned up nearly as many waterfowl there as farther south in Canada, but fewer game birds.

The Fish and Wildlife Service, reporting this today, said the summer-long aerial study by its biologist, Robert H. Smith, and Robert P. Allen of the National Audubon society, was the most intensive ever made on the far north's waterfowl breeding grounds.

While saying the waterfowl populations compared favorably with those in southern Canada, the agency added:

"The greater percentage of the ducks observed were non-game birds—the slow-flying or fish-eating scoters, old-squaws, a duck king eiders.

"Mallards and pintails, the most important game species in the United States, made up a small percentage of the ducks in the area.

"The vast far north duck breeding grounds still remain unstudied. A comprehensive estimate of duck populations can still be made only by broadening the forthcoming surveys to include other regions in northwestern Alaska and Canada's northwest territories."

The two scientists flew 14,272 miles over the Athabaska delta, the great Slave Lake parklands, the valley and delta of the Mackenzie river, the Yukon Territory's Old Crow flats.

The density of ducks in the survey ranged from .50 per square mile on the Old Crow flats to less than four per square mile in the upland tundra country south of Point Barrow.

Sport Shorts

The Detroit Tigers made three triple plays in 1911. The Boston Red Sox tied that record in 1924.

The 1948 season was the first campaign in which Tommy Henrich of the Yankees ever batted in more than 100 runs.

Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians hit more home runs this season than ever before in his career.

Bob Baysinger, son of the head football coach at Syracuse university, is a quarterback on his dad's team.

Syracuse and Penn State, at the start of this season, had broken even on the gridiron, each team winning ten games. Five were ties.

Six by Six Six hunters—six moose. This was the score of a party on a recent trek to Williams meadows, south of Prince George, British Columbia, by a party which included three Polk county men. Shown above from left are Linza Dennis, Wiley Gardner, both of Dallas, and Walter Smith, Falls City, with horns as souvenirs of the two-weeks' expedition. Accompanying them were J. F. Francis, Portland, John Conlin and his brother-in-law of Corvallis. The six left Dallas on September 30. They hunted five days and encountered weather of 10 degrees above zero. (Art Abel Photo)

Wolverines Lead Poll; Webfoots Climb to 14th

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Michigan's rampaging Wolverines retained their rating as the top college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers.

The powerhouse from Ann Arbor drew 117 of the 206 first place votes and piled up 1,885 points to beat out runner-up Notre Dame by 275 points. The Irish, second also a week ago, gained 19 first place votes and polled 1,615 points.

Michigan, unbeaten and untied in five outings, downed Minnesota, 27-14 last Saturday while the Irish surged to a 27-12 victory over Iowa for their fifth straight conquest of a perfect season.

North Carolina's Tar Heels held on to third place, drawing 46 first place ballots and 1,568 points.

California, Army, Georgia Tech and Pennsylvania, also among the nation's unbeaten teams, retained fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh places, respectively.

Oregon was 14th with 82 points. The Webfoots had rated several notches further down the scale in previous votes.

Series Umpire Sticks by His Masi Decision

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 26 (AP)—Asserting that it would have been a "dull world series if I didn't catch a little hell!" Umpire Bill Stewart of the National league today defended his two hotly-contested decisions which provoked widespread controversy.

After thinking it over for more than two weeks, Stewart still stuck to his decision on the disputed pickoff play in which he declared Phil Masi of the Braves safe at second, setting up the only score in the first game of the series. He also defended his calling Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's manager-shortstop, out at third in the fourth game.

PRO GRIDDER BOOTED FROM COLLEGE SQUAD

Olean, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The unbeaten St. Bonaventure football team suffered a stunning blow today when Star Kicker Jack Collins was declared ineligible to compete because he admitted playing professional baseball.

CLARK RESIGNS FROM PRO BASKETBALL LOOP

Portland, Ore., Oct. 26 (AP)—Ray Clark, president of the Pacific coast professional basketball league today said he had resigned.

Clark, a Portland hotel manager, said he was resigning to give his full time to business.

Skits and Scratches

BY FRED ZIMMERMAN, Capital Journal Sports Editor

One of the most comprehensive "folders," compiled for the information of the press comes out of the office of the director of public relations for Saint Mary's college, home of the "Galloping Gaels." The "folder" contains a good selection of newspaper mats, a football prospectus and a record book that leaves little to the imagination; a copy of the program sold for the St. Mary's-University of San Francisco game (25 cents) and a highly illustrated pamphlet depicting scenes about the Moraga valley institution and in the San Francisco Bay area. Appearing is a note telling where the director of public relations may be found in Portland Oct. 26 and 27 and in Eugene from noon of the 28th through the 31st. The Gaels, coached by Joe Verducci, play the University of Oregon Webfoots next Saturday afternoon on Hayward field.

At this writing the race for the right to represent the west in the Rose Bowl next January appears to be between Oregon and California. Politics barred, the one that makes the best showing during the season will get the call. All things being equal the team that had appeared in the bowl the least recent is supposed to get the bid. All 10 conference members vote on the issue and while the north has six representatives as against four in the south, it doesn't necessarily follow that the Webfoots would attract a unanimous following in their own district. However, in view of the miserable showing made by California teams in recent bowl engagements, the west might have a better chance should the northwest provide the competition.

From Indianapolis, national headquarters for the American Legion comes a press release showing that "American Legion junior baseball graduates dominated the 1948 major league season from opening day through the world series." The first game of the season between the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics found 15 of the 18 starting players listed as former Legion junior baseball performers. Then again in the all-star game of July 13 at Sportsman Park, St. Louis, 29 of the 50 men selected for the classic were Legion baseball graduates. A total of 242 former American Legion junior baseball players wore major league uniforms during the 1948 season. To top it all, 32 ex-junior Legion players took part in the world series.

Next Saturday's clash between Michigan State and Oregon State scheduled for Bell field, Corvallis marks the third time these two institutions have collided on the gridiron. The two previous games played at East Lansing resulted in a 20-7 win for the Beavers in 1915 and a 7-7 tie in 1942. One of the principal threats in the Spartan squad is Ed Sobezak, a 23-year-old 200 pounder and a senior. A pass receiver extraordinary "Sob" didn't play last season because of injuries but is reported going great guns this year. Another specialist on the Michigan State club is George Smith, quarterback and a great blocker. He is the point converter for the Spartans, president of the junior class and a light heavyweight fighter on the boxing team.

The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence. While we would be the last person in the valley to dictate where a person should spend his entertainment money, we submit that Willamette's games with College of Idaho and College of Puget Sound were excellent exhibitions of the fall pastime. The teams are well coached, the contenders really play for keeps and thrills are there for the witnessing. Weather has been almost perfect for football this season and physical conditions at Sweetland field are vastly improved. But one home game remains on the Bearcat schedule—the night of November 5, against Linfield.

Alabama has had seven undefeated and untied football teams since 1892.

Ruth's Remains Moved to Grave In Wooded Plot

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The body of Babe Ruth finally lay today in its last earthly resting place, a grave on a wooded hillside in Gate of Heaven cemetery near here.

Ruth's funeral was held Aug. 19 at St. Patrick's cathedral, but until yesterday his mahogany casket had reposed in a receiving vault at the cemetery awaiting selection of a cemetery plot by his family.

In a brief service yesterday afternoon, the casket was carried from the vault and placed in the grave chosen by his widow, Mrs. Claire Ruth. In marked contrast to the crowds that followed his baseball career, that saw his body lie in state at Yankee stadium, and attended the funeral, the final commitment service was private with only Ruth's immediate family present.

PIRATES NAME SCOUT TO COACHING TASK

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today named Scout Bill Posedel to succeed Bill Burwell as a Pirate coach.

Posedel, former Brooklyn and Boston pitcher, served as a pirate scout on the Pacific coast last season. Burwell is expected to remain with the Pirate organization.

The book was presented by Mayor Bernard Samuel, who told the 85-year-old baseball veteran:

"You have been a leading exponent of clean sports, and clean living, and the example you have set during your long and eventful career has been and ever will be an inspiration to the youth of America."

Major League Stars Selected

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Five players from the American and five from the National make up the 1948 major league allstar team as selected for the Associated Press by 220 baseball experts throughout the nation.

Only six of the 16 big league clubs, three in each league, are represented in the third annual all-star aggregation. The world champion Cleveland Indians won two berths as did the National league champion Boston Braves.

The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, runners-up in their respective circuits, also placed two representatives each. One man from the New York Yankees and one from the New York Giants complete the team.

No player was an unanimous choice. Stan Musial, the National league's batting king and Williams, the champion stickman of the American league were tied for the most votes. Each drew 212 of the 220 ballots cast.

DiMaggio, won the centerfield post hands down with 210 votes, third highest total among the 63 vote-getters.

Boudreau, playing manager of the Indians, and the logical choice for the American league's most valuable player award, ranked fourth with 209 votes to win the shortstop berth easily.

STAN MUSIAL, Right Field, Cards

BIRDIE TEBBS, Catcher, Red Sox

BOB ELLIOTT, Third Base, Braves

LOU BOUDREAU, Shortstop, Indians

Salem Sportsmen to Welcome Michigan State Grid Squad

Not since a special train bearing the University of Southern California Trojans and camp followers halted for a few hours in Salem en route to Portland a few years ago has Salem had the opportunity to play host to such a noted group of football players as will be here late this week. The party of approximately 30, arriving by plane late Thursday afternoon from East Lansing, Mich., will constitute the Michigan State team, coaches, and members of the press.

Plans for their entertainment are being pushed by the Chamber of Commerce, the Salem Breakfast club and prominent citizens.

The one public function open to the male population of the community will be the session of the Breakfast club at the Marion hotel at 7:15 Friday morning. Tickets for this function may be obtained at Maple's. It is not expected members of the team will sit in, but Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State, Coach Clarence L. Munn and his associates will take part in the program.

The schedule of activities planned for the Spartans will run about as follows:

Arrive at airport at 4:30 p.m., Thursday.

Light workout on Olinger field, Salem high school, 5 p.m.

Salem Breakfast club, Marion hotel, 7:15 a.m., Friday. (Michigan State alumni and former Michigan residents urged to attend.)

Four of city and adjacent territory for Michigan party in cars provided by business men.

Party at Golden Pheasant for Michigan party and Oregon state officials, 8 p.m., Friday.

Spartans leave from Senator hotel Saturday forenoon, arriving in Corvallis in time for 11 a.m. lunch.

Return to Salem immediately after the game and depart on return trip to East Lansing from airport Sunday morning.

Hematite, magnetite and limonite are the names of the three leading types of iron ore used in the United States.

Admiral Hopes For Peace Among Pro Grid Teams

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Confident that his league will survive a box-office war against the National football league but still hopeful that peace can be reached, Commissioner Jonas H. Ingram of the all-America conference today awaited some sort of a peace gesture from the rival league.

"We're ready to talk peace at any time," said Ingram, "but the next move should come from our adversaries. I've done all I could, and I'm not going crawling to anybody's door."

The commissioner, former U. S. admiral, made two almost identical speeches yesterday in which he said that he considered the war "stupid and foolish" but emphasized that the conference was strong enough financially to continue next year whether or not accord is reached.

American athletes won 11 Olympic track and field titles at London, one more than at Berlin in 1936.
