Both Candidates

But the president stoutly disputes the poll takers who show Dewey far in the lead. Even without the votes he will lose in the south to states' rights democrat J. Strom Thurmond and elsewhere in progressive party candidate Henry Wallace. Truman insisted in his campaign windup that he is going to win. Both Confident
"The north, the south, the east and the west are falling in line," he declared at St. Louis Saturday night. For his part, Dewey too was confident. He spoke of "the eve of victory" as he closed out his campaign in New York's Madison Square Garden—the city where he rose to fame as a racket busting district attorney. Dewey then went to his Poughkeepsie, N. Y., farm to rest until he returns to New York late today to vote and await the outcome. Truman went on home to Independence, Mo. He will cast his ballot and follow the returns there, but only until an early bedtime.

Dewey Victory

Many democrats have announced their support of Dewey and Warren. Others have deserted the party in favor of Henry Wallace's independent progressive party. Because of this, the odds are on the republicans, but the democrats haven't abandoned hope. Progressive party candidates were on the ballot in 14 of the state's 23 congressional districts, but but actively opposed democratic candidates in only two districts. Progressives in five of the congressional districts withdrew in favor of the democratic candidates.
