Mu Phi Epsilon Planning Tea

Mu Phi Epsilon, professional women's music honor society has set Sunday afternoon, May 15, as the date for their American music concert and benefit tea. The concert, to be held at Waller hall on the Willamette university campus, will feature Mu Phi's and faculty in an all American music concert.

Following the concert a benefit tea will be sponsored by patronesses of Mu Phi Epsilon. The setting will be the beautiful home of Mrs. Frank Burlingham.

The purpose of the tea is in benefit of one of Mu Phi Epsilon's projects, Gads Hill Music Center in Chicago, which was organized to care for and to teach underprivileged children and adults. The school of music at Gads Hill is Mu Phi's project and many teachers give generously of their time and skills to bring that medium of expression found in the art to those who otherwise would never have opportunity for appreciating.

The concert and tea are open to the public.
