

Melons and California Lad—Ronnie Calvert, 4, Richmond, Calif., child suffering from leukemia, takes a big bite out of a watermelon delivered to him by the crew of an air force B-29 bomber which flew them from Florida while on an operational flight. The crew heard about the boy's need for the melons which are not yet in season in California. They procured some from a grower at Tampa who donated them. (AP Wirephoto)

Aurora Now Has Police and Court

For the first time in its history Aurora this week has a municipal police court and a police officer.
Edward C. Smith, Aurora, is the new police judge appointed by the city council with Thomas E. Miller, Cortford, policeman.
Rehabilitation of the old city jail is also under consideration as a further modernizing step.
The state traffic code has been adopted by the council at the city's ordinances in enforcing law in this, one of Oregon's oldest and most quaint communities, where the old Aurora colony flourished for a number of years.
