Ask City to Fix Barbers' Hours

Salem barbers, both the union and the cut-rate shops, are said to be almost a unit for the bill on the city council's calendar Monday night, fixing opening and closing hours for barber shops.

Both shop owners and journeymen are affected by the bill. It was reported during the day that a large delegation of men in the trade will attend the council meeting to urge passage of the bill, which is up for final action.

In their consideration of the bill the aldermen may have to draw a fine line of distinction between barbers and beauty parlor operators, who would not be regulated by the measure. Also, some of the aldermen may ask, why fix hours for barbers and not for other businesses.

Some businesses are regulated as to hours, but they are those that can become a nuisance after certain hours, like resorts, or places operating machinery that makes a lot of noise.

It is said in some of the shops that the bill is an approach to a move that may come later to close barber shops entirely one work day a week. In some cities of the state, it was said, the shops are closed all day on Mondays.

The bill would make the opening hour for shops 8 a. m. and the closing time 6 p. m. Each person or firm coming under the bill would pay a license fee of $5 a year.

It would prohibit barbering on Sundays and the regular holidays. Inquiry among city officials indicated that nothing would come up that week on the Baldock traffic plan. Otherwise the city council agenda is mainly routine.

Detroit Dam

Actual excavation for Detroit dam will not begin until early fall because the branch line of the Southern Pacific now operating from Mill City to a point near Idanha can not be taken over by the army engineers until the new North Santiam highway is made serviceable.

Contractors on the roadway and the bridge have promised that the new road will be in shape for use about July 1, and as quickly as the U. S. Bureau of Roads and the state highway department certify that the road can be used, the engineers will take over the railroad and make it available for use by the contractors.

Then dirt will begin to fly. (More concerning the Detroit project in the Capital Journal Tuesday.)

Reds Drive

The feeling grew among Shanghai's 5,000,000 inhabitants that the great Asiatic commercial center would go over to the communists without a fight, just as Nanking did Sunday morning.

One of the communist soldiers' first tasks was to put out a fire that vandals had started in the judicial Yuan building. The building was a total loss.

Ban Upheld

The ruling applied specifically to company plants at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and Chicago Heights, Ill., which employ 10,169 persons. The ruling, however, would apply to all of the company's 19,000 employees in all its plants.

Along with the ruling on the pension plan issue, the circuit court upheld an NLRB finding that officials of the union must file non-communist oaths before the board will require the company to begin bargaining on pensions.

The union, rather than the company, appealed this part of the decision to the supreme court. The high tribunal last January 17 agreed to rule on the union's appeal but deferred arguments until its next term in October.

Other Decisions

In other actions today the high court:

1. Declined to consider an attack on the constitutionality of a California senate resolution which established the "fact finding" un-American activities committee.

2. Validity of the resolution was questioned by Vern Smith after he was convicted of refusing to be sworn as a witness before the committee. He was fined $300.

3. The California superior court in Alameda county, upheld the resolution. It directs the committee to investigate activities of persons or groups "known or suspected to be foreign dominated or controlled and to recommend legislation for their resolution."

4. Smith contended a state may not thus "enter the field of foreign affairs."

5. California Law Upheld

6. Uphold, 5 to 4, a California law banning the sale of travel tickets by unlicensed carriers.

7. Dissenting, Justice Frankfurter contended the effect of the ruling was to hold that states may impose additional penalties for offenses covered by federal law.

8. Upheld by 6 to 3 votes two wartime courts martial convictions of American soldiers or rape charges. One case involved Pfc. Frederick W. Wade, serving a 20-year sentence at Leavenworth, Kas., after two trials in Germany. The other involved Pvt. Bernard W. Smith, serving 16 years at Lewisburg, Pa., as a result of his conviction in England.

9. Agreed to a request by Puerto Rico to limit on the power of Congress to rule trade between the island possession and the mainland.
