

Mrs. Versteeg Heads BPW; Mrs. Mockmore Speaker

Election of officers for the Salem Business and Professional Women's club at the dinner meeting of the group last evening at Nohlgrun's resulted in the following being chosen for the coming year's work:

Mrs. John Versteeg, president; Miss Alberta Shoemaker, first vice president; Mrs. Sue Booch, second vice president; Mrs. Beryl Muehlaupt, recording secretary; Miss Mildred Yetter, corresponding secretary; Miss Cecelia Woodruff, treasurer; Miss Vada Hill, Mrs. Mabel Clock, Mrs. LuVerne Hardwicke, directors.

As the final meeting of the club preceding the annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs here May 13, 14 and 15, the meeting was taken up with many details for the state event. Delegates named from the local club include: Mrs. Arthur Weddle, the state president; Miss Betty Eloffson, the state corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Forrester, local president; Mrs. Versteeg, Miss Hill, Mrs. Clock, Miss Ida Mae Smith, Miss Eleanor Roberts, Miss Zula Van Gilder, Mrs. A. J. Arehart, Miss Ruth McAdams.

Mrs. Mockmore Speaks

Mrs. Charles A. Mockmore, formerly dean of women at Oregon State college, was the guest speaker, discussing women in policy making posts.

She reviewed the progress of women in the business, professional, economic and political life of this country during the past 100 years, pointing out it is less than 100 years ago that fully accredited scholarship ratings were given women's colleges, that a woman was ordained to the ministry, that women were just starting to be recognized in the profession of law, and that it was much later that women were accepted in the field of medicine. Bringing it on up to modern times, Mrs. Mockmore pointed out it was a woman physicist who made the computations giving the key to make the atomic processes possible.

Politically, it took 52 years of campaigning to grant women the right to vote. "And that brings us to the question, where has that vote brought us? Have we made the most of it?" the speaker asked. Pointing out that in the last general election only one woman was elected to the U. S. senate, nine to the house of representatives, 18 to senates in the state legislatures and 19 to the houses of representatives in the states, she reminded the group the United States record as regards women in political offices is poor in comparison to other countries where women run for the same positions.

Citizenship Obligations
Apathy, she said, is one of the great hindrances to women achieving more in this field, and then there is the question of how seriously is the matter of citizenship taken in education. Quoting Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Mockmore said there are four obligations to consider in education for citizenship — exercising the right to vote, taking time to be informed, forming opinions and assum-

Rebekah Lodge Reports Events

More than 100 Rebekahs gathered Monday evening at the IOOF temple to enjoy the social evening festivities of Salem Rebekah lodge. Among those present were visitors from Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, and Iowa as well as from McMinnville, Monitor, Needy, Silverton, Stayton and Canby.

During the business session, Mrs. Jennie Boyd, formerly of Eugene, was taken into this lodge by transfer. The resolutions committee for Mrs. Myrta Tyrell will include Mrs. W. H. Gardner, Mrs. C. C. Engstrom, and Mrs. M. W. Ready. Changes in the order of business for May will place good of the order on the first Monday; an F. L. club sponsored card party on the second; the third to be open; and the fourth to be social night as usual. The Ladies auxiliary will celebrate their 30th anniversary Thursday at 8 p.m. at the IOOF temple. On Sunday, May 1, Salem Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will attend the 11 a.m. service of the Knight Memorial church in a body.

Following the meeting, the Past Noble Grands club was in charge of the program which consisted of 12 youngsters from Richmond school, who presented folk dances under the supervision of John Black; Miss Esther Perkins of the senior high school, who gave a reading; the men's drill team from Monitor, and the Salem Civic Players with three one-act plays. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

MRS. EVA G. BLACK left Monday by train for a two-months trip to the east coast. While in the east she will visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. R. W. Lamka at Newport, R. I.

"These are my Jewels"

They tell, in the story of Cornelia, that gracious lady of ancient Rome, how she was mocked one day by the other ladies for not having fine rings and bracelets and necklaces. And they say that Cornelia, in answer to their taunts, pointed to her two strong, handsome sons who were nearby and said "These are my jewels!" Indeed, we at ALEXANDER'S can never show you jewels to compare . . . nor is that our intent! Should you, however, be of a mind to own beautiful rings, bracelets, necklaces . . . please know that ALEXANDER'S will be pleased to assist you in their choosing, in their financing. You need not sacrifice to own the finest. You are assured of that at
